Associated Women Students to Honor New Coeds at Tea Thursday

Charlotte Hume Is Chairman of Event

Associated Women students of N.N.C. will be hostesses at a tea Thursday afternoon in Morrison hall from three to five, honoring coeds who are new to the campus. Miss Charlotte Hume, A.W.S., president, is general chairman of the affair.

Since this is the first social function of the year for the organization, council members will take charge of all arrangements.

Committee chairmen include Erlene Elmore, program; Carol Hempel, refreshments; Helen Yeend, decorations; Charlotte Hume, dishes and silverware; Elizabeth Weber, table service; Eleanor Ernest, clean up.

Each A.W.S. member has been assigned a new student for a "little sister" in an attempt to help girls get acquainted easily and become

Lessenger Urges Care In Fire Prevention

Lewis Lessenger, Chief of the Nampa Fire department, addressed N. N. C. students at a chapel service Monday, October 4, the opening day of fire prevention week.

"It is more important this year than ever before that we prevent careless fires, as material cannot be replaced," stated Mr. Lessenger. "Millions of dollars are lost each year by fire that need never have been started."

Mr. Lessenger expressed appreciation of the cooperation given him by students and faculty in the seventeen years he has been visiting the N. N. C.

Faculty Presents Opening Concert of Season

Faculty members of the Fine Arts department were presented in the initial concert of the year Monday, September 20, in the college auditorium. Mrs. Alline Swann and William Keith Macy, who are new to the department were featured in the program which also included selections by Professor Ella Leona Gale, Professor Roger Taylor, and Professor Mallalieu Wilson.

A. J. Finkbeiner, head of the Art department, concluded the recital by drawing a picture entitled "Brown Autumn."

The Fine Arts department has been enlarged this year and is offering music, speech and are instruction to outside pupils as well as those included in the student body.

T. P. DUNN SPEAKS AT CHAPEL SERVICE

Speaking on "The Eternal Touch," the Rev. T. P. Dunn, district superintendent from the Nebraska district, was guest speaker at the chapel hour Friday, Oct. 8.

"The human life is the greatest thing in the world," Rev. Dunn said, "but we must remember that we not only have a soul to be saved, but we have a life to be given."

Rev. Dunn emphasized the value of the touch of "Godly people" on the lives of others and urged preparation now for future service to the church.

The Rev. Harold Daniels, pastor of the North Nampa Church of the Nazarene, accompanied Rev. Dunn in his visit.

N'pa Plan Authors Are Chapel Guests

As authors and sponsors of the popular "Nampa Plan" for voluntary cooperation between retail merchants and the O. P. A., C. M. Corlett, Sol J. Spear, and Charles Stark, well known business men, appeared in a chapel service October 6, to explain the plan to N.N.C. students.

Introduced by President Lewis T. Corlett, Mr. Stark, and Mr. Spear spoke briefly, followed by a detailed description of the plan from Mr. (Maynard) Corlett.

"Since we recognize the need for government price ceilings to prevent inflation both now and after the war, we have devised a system of increased cooperation on our part with price officials," Mr. Corlett said.

"Rather than waiting nervously for O. P. A. checkers to visit us, we invited them over and asked them to review the situation with us. Instead of the scheduled three-

Enrollment Tops Total of 514

Enrollment figures have reached the total of 514, according to statistics issued by President L. T. Corlett on Thursday, October 7.

Leading in the college department which has an enrollment of 350, is the freshman class with 143 members. It is followed by the sophomore class with 72; junior class, 61; senior class, 35; graduate class, 16; and specials, 23. The academy has set a new record with a total of 96 students, while the grammar school has reached its capacity with 58 pupils.

Women students outnumber the men in the college department by exactly 100. The figures show that there are 225 women and 125 men now registered.

'43 OASIS EDITOR ENTERS U. OF W.

Lewis Roberts, junior, editor of the 1943 Oasis, left last week for Seattle, Washington, where he will enter the University of Washington.

Mr. Roberts plans to take up architectural designing and decorating while at the university.

In the two years at N.N.C. he was prominent in numerous school activities including Oasis editor, member of the orchestra and string ensemble. In 1942 he won the Bonnie Dhu Bean cup awarded each year to the student most outstanding in musical organizations.

Men's Club Organizes With Howard Prexy

Under the capable leadership of President Ed Howard, Men's club activities were initiated last week. Assisting Mr. Howard will be Lloyd Pounds, vice president, and Herschel Thornburg, secretary-treasurer.

Composed of all men students on the campus, the organization is looking forward to an active year. "We want to become one of the liveliest and most worth while clubs in school," stated Mr. Howard last week.

Literary Groups Select Leaders

Aiming toward a year of activity and entertainment, the Athletic-Literary societies met last week to elect officers and make plans for the coming semester. To lead the organizations for the coming semester are presidents Roscoe Knight, A.D.P.; Talbott Eckle, L.S.P.; Virgil Vail, Olympians; and Tommy Leupp, S.L.A.

Other officers elected for the A.D.P.'s are vice president, Art Mottram; secretary, Grace Yoder, and treasurer, Stanford Ernest. David Sullivan was chosen program chairman, while Ed Williamson and Margaret Howard will have charge of the athletic contests for the organization, Roy Burchart, Arlene Aman, and Joan Sharp will lead the yells. Professors Finkbeiner and Carlson were chosen society sponsors.

The S. L. A chose Bob Sporeleader, vice president; Dorothy Peterson, secretary; Kathleen Sadowski, treasurer; and Wilford Smith, program chairman. Dean Hempel and Carleen Bates will act as athletic directors, and Betty Harding will lead the yells. Mrs. Carol Gish and Mrs. Alline Swann will sponsor the organization.

Tom McKee will be vice president for the Olympians, while Edna Miller will act as secretary,

O. Finch Conducts Opening Conven.

With a series of dynamic and inspirational messages, the Rev. Oscar Finch, district superintendent of the Kansas district, was guest speaker at the opening convention of the school year, September 21-26.

Filling each address with practical thought, Rev. Finch consistently advocated more time spent in spiritual uplift, with emphasis on prayer life.

"Victorious living comes as a result of attention to every day thoughts and actions," he stated, "and may be attained through giving God the use of every talent."

Rev. Finch conducted both evening and chapel meetings during the week.

A SUFFICIENT IDEAL

By DeWITT McABEE

By unanimous consent, we acknowledge the special privilege and opportunity that we have in being permitted to enroll in school this fall.

Our opening convention, and the start of our academic and extra-curricular activities have gotten us off to a splendid beginning. Our prospects seem very bright. For all this we are thankful.

We have not been allowed to attend school this year just to hide from the storm—a little longer time of relaxation and enjoyment before stern, tragic reality faces us—but we are here in the interest and duty of our Country.

To those men who likely will be called to service before the school year is over, is given opportunity to add a few more credits to the attainment of their educational goal, and the special privilege of preparing in heart, mind and character for the acid test ahead.

To the young man, deferred for theological study, we may not have the opportunity to serve our country and God in the Armed services however much we may wish it, we may not be permitted to help our boys spiritually as a chaplain, but our country has deferred us so that we may become spiritual leaders in the tomorrow of the war's aftermath.

What is a sufficient ideal for this duty? It must be the death of the self life and the dedication of ourselves to the spiritual service of others. Our determination must be "crucify the world unto me, and I unto the world."

Let us all be deep enough Christians that we don't have to spend our strength keeping ourselves where we should be, but be free to pour our energy into service of God among others.

ALPHA DELTA PHI WINS IN CLOSED NIGHT PROGRAM ATTENDANCE

Macy to Instruct Small Vocal Groups

An innovation of the music department this year is the instruction offered by William Keith Macy to small vocal groups who wish special training.

Mr. Macy is recognized as one of Boise valley's outstanding soloists, and appeared last year as tenor soloist in the Philharmonic choir's presentation of the "Messiah."

"We feel that this program will benefit both the college and individual students," stated President Lewis T. Corlett last week, in announcing the new addition. "We have a great demand for vocal groups to entertain various organizations in the city, and feel that new talent may be discovered and developed through this free instruction," he added.

Classes Elect in Close Contest

Initiating class activities for the current school year, class meetings were held September 28, at which time class officers were elected and student council representatives were nominated by the class members.

Dowd Elected to Head Spencerians

Spencerian speech club held an organizational meeting October 4, electing Ed Dowd as president for the coming term. Other officers include Dolores Castle, secretary-treasurer; Erlene Elmore, declamation manager; Donna Wilson, debate manager.

Because of the several new speech courses offered this year and the possibility of training for radio work, the club promises to have an unusually large membership.

Lambda Sigma Pi's Place Second in Close Contest

Alpha Delta Phi Athletic-Literary society emerged winner of the annual closed night programs by having the largest percentage in attendance, Friday, October 8. Meeting in the Morrison dining hall, the A.D.P.'s chalked up a total of 72 per cent in points. David Sullivan had charge of the entertainment and program which contained a great many impromptu numbers.

Lambda Sigma Pi's, with 63 per cent, placed second in the contest. Their meeting, held in the college auditorium, featured a variety program and was concluded with light refreshments.

The Sigma Lambda Alpha society had the third largest attendance rating, and gained a 60 per cent tally. Their meeting was held in the Music hall, with president Tom Leupp, in charge.

Olympians with a 54 per cent attendance rated fourth. At a peppy meeting in the gymnasium, they were entertained by several musical selections and readings.

Election of another sponsor took place with Mrs. Lewis T. Corlett being chosen. Virgil Vail, president and Herschel Thornburg, program chairman, planned the event, which was concluded with refreshments.

Competition among the societies was based entirely on attendance, with ten points counted for each member present and a five point deduction for all absentees.

Following Friday night's activities, the societies will start work on contest programs, with drawings for dates taking place this week.

Athletic-Literary council members have elected Grace Yoder as secretary, and have appointed a committee composed of the president and one sponsor from each group, to make final arrangements for the types of programs to be given this semester.

Tentative plans are to have one play and one Fine Arts recital from each organization.

Get Acquainted at Faculty Reception

Ushering in the season's social events was one of the largest functions of the entire year, the annual semi-formal student-faculty reception held Friday, October 2, in Morrison dining hall. Over three hundred and fifty people attended the evening program.

Both old and new faculty members and students assembled to become acquainted with each other as the students passed along the reception line, composed of faculty members.

Floyd Pounds, master of ceremonies, introduced the president of the student body, DeWitt McAbee, who in turn presented the featured speaker of the evening, Dr. L. T. Corlett, president of the N.N.C. Dr. Corlett emphasized the necessity for students to continue their education now, to make it possible to build a permanent peace after the victory is won on the battlefields.

Talbott Eckel, sophomore class president, gave the toast of the evening and welcomes were extended to students and teachers alike

THESE REMAIN CHANGELESS

It's Autumn on the campus, and countless times during the course of a day, one is made conscious of the sweeping changes that have taken place since school closed last spring.

It isn't just that the new library is now in use, sheltering the whispers and rattling papers connected with studious pursuits. It isn't that numerous other physical alterations have occurred, nor is it in the scores of new faces, that one finds portents of a new mood.

It lies, rather, in the remembrance of fellas who used to create so much disturbance in the back row of physics class . . . the last anyone heard, they were somewhere in the Pacific or may be it was North Africa or England . . . It lies in the fact that coeds are having fewer dates and writing more and more V-mail letters . . . it's in watching the remaining "Joe Colleges" face their studies with a new determination as additional stars appear on the honor plaque.

Bull sessions these days contain less idle talk and more serious discussion on the progress of the war, post war problems, and the necessity for self-discipline and strengthened character on the part of us all.

Yes, school is different this year, but despite myriad changes, the principles for which N. N. C. has always stood, emerge unscarred and changeless. Steering our course by them it isn't so difficult to pierce through the fog to that day when all the boys will be back on the campus, and the world will have returned to normal.

WE NEED TO CLEAN HOUSE

In these days of crisis we hear much about rationing scarce commodities so that everyone may have a fair share. This is nothing new around N. N. C. There has always been a shortage of time and the student who expects to get most out of school life must learn to ration it wisely, so that all activities will get a fair share of time and attention. The responsibility for this lies with the individual student.

Others may lecture and advise, but it is up to the individual in the last analysis to decide which activities are worth while and which are not. When that decision has been made it is up to him to see that other activities do not crowd him to the point of neglecting to do any of them well.

On the other hand those who plan the extra curricular program have a great responsibility. An unceasing struggle must be made on their part to weed out such activities as have outlived their usefulness and to keep only those which make a definite contribution to student welfare. We are burdened now with a great many activities which lost their vitality long ago, but remain because no one wants to take the initiative to eliminate them. Let's "clean house" and keep only those activities which are vital and alive, and which make a definite contribution to our school life.

LET'S START A HELLO CAMPAIGN

One of the principal advantages in attending a small college is that are fewer cliques and more displays of friendliness than in a larger school. However, it is easy to fall into the habit of associating with two or three friends and forgetting the rest of the student body.

That rather shy student whom you frequently meet but never speak to, may be in need of your friendship. Just one bright smile or cheery word of greeting may make a world of difference to him.

School spirit grows when each individual feels he is an integral part of the college, and when he feels he really belongs.

Why not start a "hello" campaign at N.N.C., to encourage the making of new friends and to become better acquainted with those about us.

No school is friendlier than each separate student—let's build up N.N.C.'s reputation for hospitality.

WELCOME

By Dr. L. T. Corlett

It is a joy to see so many new students on the campus this year. The Administration expresses its feeling of pleasure over your being here; the faculty is delighted to have the privilege of guiding you as you start or continue in your educational adventures. Most of all the College itself welcomes you to its halls.

The College has a noble heritage, included in which is a founder, full of faith and the Holy Ghost, stepping out on the provisions of God to change a portion of sand and sagebrush into a beautiful campus. In it also is a hall of fame of heroes of faith, who have gone to the foreign field of labor for the Master and bring honor to His campus and their Alma Mater.

Others have become leaders in the work of the Church at home, some to prominent places in education, medicine, and science. Others to a great variety of vocations and most of these to bless the world with Christian lives and diligent service for their God.

Many of your immediate predecessors are now on the battlefronts of the world, fighting to give you the opportunity to attend such an institution as N.N.C.

We welcome you to all of this and more, hoping that you too will catch the spirit and purpose of the college and allow it to mould your life to carry on its traditions.

The Marks of A Christian Zeal

By EDGAR KINCAID

There are certain aspects of a Christian you may call marks. Contact with Christ never fails to make an impression on the individual. Always a definite change is noted in the person who is a friend of Christ. Our daily mingling with friends about us contributes to our personality. It is even more so when we have Christ as our constant companion.

When the apostles were examined by the jealous rulers of a certain city they "took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus." This is what made the difference in them. The same is what marks the differentiation in the lives of all Christian. These apostles were zealous and they had reason for it for they had met a crippled beggar on their way to prayer meeting and had been the instrument used by God in healing him. They were zealous for the Christ who could not only heal an afflicted limb but who could also heal the heart from sin.

Thus has it been with Christianity all through the years since Christ. Men who have been transformed have been zealous to good works. That is the reason why many N.N.C. students are zealous to have prayermeetings in the dorm who attend prayer and fasting service, who seek to see their roommates find Christ. Since He gave

CAMPUS CHATTER

By POUNDS AND TAVES

Here we are again, back after three months' rest. Some students had trouble in registering, but others seemed to find it very easy.

Isn't it interesting, the courses that students are taking this year . . . For instance, Arling Amon, that cute little frosh, taking Art . . . seemingly she likes the subject, and her instructor. Did anyone notice Earl Rogers' sudden interest in piano? Who's teaching it . . . Dorothy Peterson? Peggy Oldfield has turned her attention to the color chart and the arrow points to "Gray." . . . Mary Harmon is taking a course in business, just to find the "Price." . . . of Clive.

Still clickin' on all fours is the Fred Knight-Ramona Vanderpool deal . . . Why are Helen Yeend and Ellen Joyce always first in line to get their male . . . Bob Hempel says since the ratio is 7 to 1, he may even go so far as to ask a girl for a date—this year.

Ah! French McDowell graces our campus again, bringing his cousin with him . . . Charlie Rowe is the life of the party in Gideon Hall because he's the only one that can talk louder than the radio.

We, as Cupid's helpers were glad to see so many new couples at the Reception . . . for instance, Dorothy Wilde and Wally Roseboro . . . Dot Laughlin and Bill Butler . . . Leatha Feeler and Dave Sullivan . . . Suzy Perron and Harvey Peterson . . . Rose Hartman and Eugene Russell . . . Olive Lawrence and Ed Dowd . . . plus the old tried and true steadies such as Ebenezer Eckel and Liz Webber . . . Tom Leupp and Edith Peterson (a smooth addition to the campus), Don Peterman and Bettie McKinney.

We notice several couples that are really getting in there solid, like Ed Williamson and Fern Weintz, (a glamor coed if we ever saw one!) Donna Hoxie and Al O'Bannon were doing all right until Uncle Sam crooked his finger.

One thing about N.N.C.—some people are tactful but others always tell the truth, such as that mischevious Elaine Kern, when pulling some of her quickie pranks.

More news, views, and opinions next time. In the meantime, you N.N.C. batchelors, had better get in line with a date if you don't want to be exposed.

'MY DEAR I LOOKED GHASTLY' SAY INNOCENT SHUTTERBUG VICTIMS

An abundance of birdies to look at, plenty of bright sunshine and a sufficient amount of everything—except photographic film—that it takes to make picture day a success was present Tuesday, October 5, when Oasis shutterbugs clicked to their heart's delight.

Classes were dismissed for the morning, to give each Joe and Josephine College time to primp and pose before uttering the traditional words, "Right when I wasn't looking, he snapped it! Oh I know it'll be just horrid! Why do I always have to be the one who looks like Mrs. Pruneface when the pictures are developed?"

Accounted for also were the students whom one might call "snappy." Like the girl in the second row, center, of the Home Ec group who has never boiled an egg, but just adores having her picture taken.

Then there's the genial Joe who never picked up a newspaper in his life—except to gaze enraptured at Dick Tracy—who always parks himself in the front row of the International Relations club picture; and the fella who doesn't know green from blue, but manages to make a colorful addition when the Art department goes to pose.

Even bookworms are afflicted with the malady, and love to stand beside the athletic stars while cameras do their stuff, and there never was an Associated Women's students' picture taken without a few fellas trying to sneak in.

Summing it all up, one no longer wonders why the photographer hides under that little black cloth gadget that he drapes over himself.

Jay Budd, treasurer, and Herschel Thornburg, program chairman. Mr. Thornburg's assistant will be Miss Bob Spencer. Other officers chosen by the society are athletic directors, Jean Labusohr and Lois Williamson; chaplain, Earl Rogers; Sgt. at Arms, Orville Smyth; and yell leaders, Susy Perron and Al O'Bannon.

Vice president chosen by the L. S. P.'s is Woody Talbert, secretary, Wilma Webster; treasurer, David Elsworth; chaplain, George Nichols; and program chairman, Peggy Oldfield, Dolores Castle and Bob Smith will head the athletic program while Sue Pruitt and Leatha Feeler will lead the yells. Professors Washburn and Knight will act as sponsors for the group.

"Impromptu Fantasia," Chopin, a brilliantly played piano solo presented by Mrs. Alline Swann was received as one of the highlights of the evening. "Stars and Stripes Forever," Sousa, a marimba solo by Dallas Quick was also greatly enjoyed by the reception guests.

"The Lass with the Delicate Air," a soprano solo by Miss Erlene Elmore, was the first of two vocal numbers. The Kansas Quartet, composed of Dallas Quick, Roscoe Knight, Fred Knight, and Herschel Thornberg, completed the program by singing several original arrangements of familiar songs.

In charge of the reception were Floyd Pounds, general chairman; Frank Cook, program chairman; Lewis Roberts and David Sullivan, decorations; Marvin Cook, floor arrangements; Miss Elmore, refreshments.

STRICTLY G. I.

Many former N. N. C. students have been introduced to the intricacies of G. I. haircuts, clothes and food, or the technique of eating the navy's chow and taking advantage of shore leaves. This week we print excerpts from the letters of two of our students in the service.

Pvt. Charles "Chuck" Hutchins

writes from 'somewhere in Australia,' " . . . I wish I were at N. N. C. now. I came to the army in February and took my basic training at Camp Roberts, California. On May 15, I married Miss Almeda Freeburg, a former N.N.C. student. I am sure I have a perfect wife. Shortly after leaving Roberts, I took a long boat ride and I'm now in the 41st Division 'somewhere in Australia.' I like it here, but would many times rather be in the states, as would many of the boys. But I'll be back some day and resolve to be a better man . . . Tell my friends hello, and do write if you find it convenient."

A/S Al Loeber now stationed with Flight S, squadron 4, as Missoula, Montana, writes, "I've been thinking quite a bit about N. N. C. and the beginning of a new school term. Really, I wish it would have been possible for me to be there and finish up my schooling.

"Several weeks ago I had the privilege of spending a few hours with Rev. Eckel. It meant a lot to me to talk with a man who understood and tried to help me with problems which confront all those in the armed services.

"Friday I finished most of my academic studies and I started flying yesterday. It's a thrill to watch the ship move at your touch. We will have 10 hours of dual flying in the next three weeks, then will be sent to Santa Ana, California, to be classified as pilot, navigator, or bombardier. Surely hope I can come and see you all some time this year."

Philharmonic Elects Knight President

Philharmonic Choral society, whose major activity is presentation of Handel's "Messiah" each December, elected officers October 4, for the coming semester.

Roscoe Knight was chosen to head the group assisted by Dolores Castle, vice president; Ardeth Grover, secretary; Harold Thompson, business manager; Bob Smith, publicity chairman; Norris Helstrom, platform manager; Dallas Quick and Winifred Hudson, librarians.

Meetings are held each Monday evening in the music hall, and practice on the Messiah has already been started. Professor Roger Taylor is instructor and sponsor.

Hudson to Preside Over Glee Club

Girls Glee club met in the Music hall, September 23, to organize for the school year, and to elect officers. Winifred Hudson was elected president, with Alice Rimbey following as vice president. Secretary-treasurer is Esther Laughlin and Rose Hartman, librarian, with Betty Spencer as her assistant.

Professor Roger Taylor is instructor and sponsor of the group.

NEWS NOTES

Al O'Bannon, popular senior from Jacksonville, Florida, left Monday night for Seattle, Wash., where he will be inducted into the Army. Included in his activities were Olympian yell leader, and Crusader staff member. He also took part in a number of intramural athletics, playing football, baseball and volleyball.

Miss Lorraine Jensen, former N.N.C. student, spent several days visiting friends here last week. Miss Jensen was enroute to her home in South Dakota.

Jack Harding was unanimously elected Olympian yell leader at a meeting held Tuesday noon. He will replace Al O'Bannon who left Monday for the army. Suzy Peron is the other Oly yell leader. Professor Tillotson, one of the new sponsors was presented to the group and gave a brief pep talk.

JUST CHECKIN' UP

As classes resume inevitably the kennel romances must, again, begin their existence.

Now concerning kennel love and such, Orpha and Alvin's devotion is anything but, so they say. Paul McNutt also claims that his devotion to Miss Graves is an undying thing. So with no chance for argument let's move on and wait for later events to take care of Cupid's frivolity.

Subject No. two in this expose of romance and things is "No men. No dates" or "Woe is We." But the situation isn't as dark as it seems for it's reported that Ed Williamson spent ten minutes of his free time not in the presence of Fern Weintz, and everybody knows that a pistol packin' mama with dead aim and speedy feet has a 50-50 chance of catching LeRoy Bates.

Bill Wilson and Louis Sires are so far lucky to escape the notice or the grip of anybody of ambition, but the peace of the three musketeers (Warnock, Courtwright, Dobbs) is now broken up by a person named Dorothy. Poor Bob.

Before this unwinds and ends, who was it that Marshall Griffith took to the reception? According to the unofficial count, there were at the very least, 5 Misses. Maybe he's a polygamist.

By the time of publication this will be partially obsolete. The reader may alter to suit circumstances.

the music hall for a varied and interesting meeting, including a talk on Japan by Talbott Eckel, and several musical numbers consisting of solos and quartet selections.

What Goes! Acad'y Picks The Winners

In the student body offices this year the academy is privileged to have exceptionally competent leadership.

The haughty Seniors are to be led by Ed Williamson in the office of chief executive. The duties of vice president will be performed by Wanda Graves. Secretary-elect is Lois Williamson and the executive of finance is Bernice Holland.

As we descend the scholastic ladder, attention is drawn to the juniors and their numerous obligations. In the capacity of president, Rodney Smith was the choice of the class and Jack Harding will assist him in the office of vice president. Sue Pruitt was elected as secretary and Harold Brown is to act as treasurer.

Sophomore class officers are ably occupied by Marshall Griffith, Ruby Felter and Dolores Carpenter in the capacity of president, vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

In case the Freshmen eventually come out of the fog, they will find they have elected Carol Sharp as president; John Hogden, vice president; Irma Fulcher, secretary; and Donnas Hudson, treasurer.

Academy Tops Last Enrollment Record

With an increase in enrollment and an expansion of curriculum, the academy opened the year with 96 registered students. This is 33 more than were enrolled in the academy last year.

Outstanding among the courses added are an applied Physics and Machines class along with a class in Speech. A boys' glee club has also been organized.

Along with changes in the curriculum, there are also several replacements in the faculty. Mrs. Carol Gish will replace Mrs. Doris Frasier in the English department; Miss Elaine Carlson is successor to Miss Ruth Fritch in the Home Economics department, and Mrs. E. H. Kenneke will teach the typing classes formerly held by Mrs. Lloyd Adler. Professor Roy Knight will have charge of the new machines class and English IV.

Dona Wilson, junior underwent surgical treatment at Samaritan hospital Sunday night after severely injuring three of her fingers. She is reported to be getting along well.

Academy Acquires Music Instructor

A most observant remark was that of some shrewd senior when he said, quote, 'new teacher, I betcha,' unquote.

The person referred to was no other than Mrs. Carol Gish who is head of the High school English department this year.

Mrs. Gish came to N.N.A. from Bethany college where she taught Freshman English and during her career as an English teacher she found time to teach three years in academy there, after which time, it was forced to close its doors, she says.

With a Master of Arts and a Master of Fine Arts degree, she is a capable director of the boys and girls' glee clubs, and the mixed chorus.

Prof. Tillotson Is Crusader Sponsor

Professor Donald B. Tillotson, physics and mathematics instructor, has been appointed by the faculty as sponsor for the Crusader staff.

A graduate of Eastern Nazarene college at Wollaston, Massachusetts, Professor Tillotson later obtained his M. A. degree from Boston university.

He is well qualified for the position, having worked on the E. N. C. newspaper while in college.

Dr. T. E. Mangum Revival Speaker

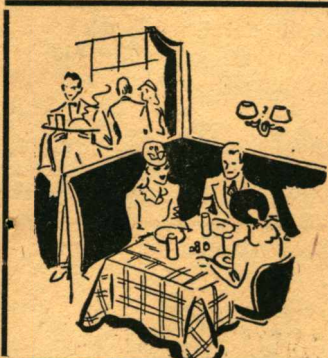

Dr. Thomas E. Mangum, well known Nampa physician and minister will conduct N.N.C.'s annual fall revival, according to an announcement made this week.

Beginning the first week of November, the series of meetings will last through one week, including chapel services.

Well liked for his keen insight into human character as well as his sense of humor, Dr. Mangum in one of the ablest speakers in the church, and is especially well qualified as a speaker to young people.

A.D.P.'S & OLY'S EMERGE VICTORS IN INITIAL FOOTBALL TUSSLES

ADP's DOWN L.S.P.'s 6-0

Showing more drive than in past years the ADP's walked off with the first win of the season by pushing over a last-half touchdown against the defending champions, the mighty LSP's, October 8 at Kurtz park.

There was little action in the first half with both teams showing lack of practice and organization. The ADP's however did threaten at the close of the first half when they marched within the shadows of the LSP goalposts. The half-time gun proved to be the LSP's ally on this threat and the half ended in a scoreless tie.

The second half brought a little more action from both sides and in the closing moments of the third quarter Howard of the ADP's unleashed a long pass to Williamson who caught it on the LSP 5 yard line and stepped over for the only score of the game.

The remaining period of the game was quite even with neither team threatening.

OLYS DEFEAT SLAS 6-0

In a contest which was very similar to the previous battle between the ADP's the ever-strong Olympians walked over the SLAS to the tune of 6-0, Friday afternoon.

The first half went scoreless with neither team having enough punch to cross the last white stripe. In the third period the OLY's finally started on the march with a short pass from Labusohr to O'Bannon which terminated their drive goalward. Their attempt for an extra point failed and the score remained 6-0.

ASK DR. AGONY

My dere Dotor Agony:
Yew are most likely tew bizy to answer this but if yew can pleze see what yew can do for me. It's like this C—I'm jist a puney lil ole Freshman who has lately cum tew Bethany Peniel Institute and cense I ain't but sixteen, as mots of us are, I feel as if I'm tew young fur these glamorous gals. Now whut I want tew no es how kin I git in wif these snooty gals. I'm vury intellectual and kin measure tew any Phi Delta Lambda member. Pleze try and do whut yew kin fer me.

'43 Basketball Captain Marries

Morry Chalfant, well-known captain of last year's Crusader basketball team, married the former Miss Margaret Attebury in Danville, Illinois on August 18, 1943. Morry attended NNC for two years graduating this last spring.

He is much remembered for his ability in handling a basketball. Morry held one of the finest scoring records in the nation for the last two years, with an average of twenty-one points a game.

He is now pastoring a church in Illinois.

Monty Lee Returns To N.N.C. Campus

Big, congenial, Lamont "Daddy" Lee has returned to college this fall to continue in graduate work. Lee has been "lumberjacking" in the timber up near Bates, Ore., for the past two months. Monty is remembered for his fine leadership as our Student Prexy last year and also for his bewildering capers on the basketball floor. But to say the least, the "Crusaders" welcome Lee back, for his height, ruggedness, and ball handling ability will be much needed by the team this coming season.

table but don't overflow the dish.

4. Never drool whenever good food is mentioned.
5. Eat your cabbage with an angelic smile.
6. Whenever introduced to the upper crustmen scream a modest whisper. "Pleze-tew-meet-chew."
7. Lower your voice to a roar when addressing our faculty.
8. Your letter indicates your intelligence so be sure to inform the girls of this by regularly writing thank-you notes for the dates you obtain.
9. If you really want that old "S.A." be a sweater boy.
10. Insure your reputation by staying near Lady Esther.
11. Use "Bethany Bubble Bath" for the scented attraction. (Pd. advertisement).

Son, if these helpful rules do not work, go to dashing Doris who is opening a dating bureau. Maybe she can furnish you with a can of her special stimuli. (12 red stamps, please).

With Good motives,
DR. AGONY.

Meet Ed Howard, Men's Ath Director

Ed Howard has been selected as intra-mural athletic director succeeding Morris Chalfant who graduated last spring. Ed is also boys Physical Education instructor and will coach the Academy basketball team this year, succeeding Lamont Lee who turned in a splendid job last season.

Mr. Howard took work in Bethany college several years prior to his coming to N.N.C. He coached the Academy basketball team there and for two successive seasons they lost only one game.

Following his study at Bethany, Ed was for several years engaged in pastoral work, mainly in the Western Oklahoma and Rocky Mountain districts. As a pastor he was a favorite of the public school students for his interest and efficiency in athletics. His friends feel that it was through his consecrated will, that he was led into church schools at a point in his life when large secular universities were bidding for his athletic ability. The entire student body has full confidence in his ability to fill the job he has been selected for at N.N.C.

Ed is a junior majoring in English and is a very popular figure on the campus this year being president of the junior class, A.D. P. president, men's club president, and head of the Young People's society. Incidentally, Ed intends to go out for varsity basketball this year in his spare time.

"N" CLUB PROJECT IS SUCCESS

One of the newest organizations on the N.N.C. campus is the N club, composed of young men who have earned a letter in inter-collegiate basketball, and who are interested in promoting athletic activities in the school.

Under the capable leadership of Tom Leupp, president, numerous activities are already being sponsored. Recognizing the need for a recreation room in Gideon hall, Mr. Leupp and Carl "Salesman" Siegel have been collecting small donations from the boys to pay for the necessary equipment.

A new ping pong table and set, and assorted parlor games have been purchased, and the room is rapidly becoming a popular place on the campus.

The N club was organized last spring, and Mr. Leupp was elected president for the ensuing year. Their first major function was a banquet, which is to be an annual event.

ON THE SPOT

By Bob Smith

Once again the ball's a rollin' and the boys are at it pushing each other around. It was feared for a while this summer that there wouldn't be enough fellows back this year to even have a tennis team but from the looks of things Friday there isn't a man-power shortage as yet. Too well do we remember how last year a couple of the societies had difficulty in rounding up enough men to have a volley-ball team. This year, however, things appear to be different at least for a while. (Yeh, we're keeping our fingers crossed!)

I suppose it is in line for the Sports Editor to slide out on that worn-out limb and make a few predictions. As I was on my back last week with the "flu" I was unable to attend or participate in the games so all I have is a shady idea of what happened and consequently I'm in the dark as to who's got the stuff to be who this year. But from the sound of things all teams seem to be pretty "even Steven" and it looks like it will be a "chummy" little race, I will, however, (with some reserve) stick my neck out a short distance and say that the race will end in a tie between the --- and the ---'s. (You fill in the blanks and all bets are to be placed with "bookie" Tom Leupp.)

I have been asked by many as to whether we would have a basketball team this year and who would be coach. Of course things are very unsettled and it's difficult to determine this early in the year what the situation will be. This is no doubt but what we have the material this year even though we do have only three players back from last year. (There will be a later article on our prospects for the coming season—Ed.) So our main difficulties this year will be in finding competition and providing transportation. As to our coach he has not been selected as yet but we will give you the dope on that as soon as we get it. All in all our chances for another successful year of basketball look pretty bright.

With this bit of "Sports gossip" we close this first "On The Spot" deal with the hope that you have

Mr. Corlett concluded his address by stating, "If we win the war, but lose the fight against inflation, we'll have lost shamefully, as it's a poor group of individuals who refuses to back up its fighting men."
