Semester Budget Submitted

Olys, ADP's Unite To Present Program Friday, Nov. 21

The A.D.P. and Olympian Athletic Literary societies will unite to present their literary program Friday night, Nov. 21.

Program chairmen, Lillian Nutt and Virginia Kirley would not disclose the theme of the program but promised it to be something different, with an 18th Century background.

Students will be taken back to their younger days by readings and vocal and instrumental music.

President of the ADP's is Paul Mitchell and of the Olympians, Fred Fowler. Sponsors for the ADP's are Professor Ray and Miss Ruth Long, and for the Oly's are Mrs. Chappel, Miss Wilson, and Miss Dorothy Long.

A total of 1750 points will be awarded for first place or 875 for each society winning first. Second place offers a total of 750 points or 375 for each society.

Jones Stresses Education Week

Education week was marked at N.N.C. this week by a chapel talk by Alton B. Jones, Idaho State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Mr. Jones, sponsored by the Future Teachers of America, emphasized the opportunities for service in the teaching field and enumerated the improvements apparent in Idaho during the last few years in the teacher's status.

Students Pledge Toward Project

N.N.C. students pledged over $3300 toward this year's General Missionary Project in India, in a recent chapel service.

In his message to the student body, Dr. Corlett stated that the only hope for India was Christianity, coming through evangelism and the development of education along Christian lines.

The project this year is to help on the expense of a new administration building in one of our co-educational schools in India. The school already has its faculty and 300 students but the government demands construction of this new building. The cost will amount to approximately $3000 of which N.N.C. has pledged to pay.

WSSF Sends Seefield

Attractive Marilyn Seefield will speak in Chapel Thursday, Nov. 13, under the auspices of the World Student Service Fund and sponsored by the International Relations Club. Miss Seefield, a University of Washington graduate, has attended international student conferences in Oslo, Norway, Lundsberg, Sweden and Aarhus, Denmark this past summer as an American delegate. Miss Seefield is an able and compelling speaker who has had an extensive experience in intercollegiate work. She is now touring this part of the country in behalf of W.S.S.F. drive for aid to college students throughout the world.

NOTICE TO JUNIORS!
Junior class dues for the first semester are due and should be paid. See any of the following: Paul Wordsworth, Milton Gardiner, Wendell Long, or Richard Hoyle.

Juniors Make Plans Seniors Will Eat

The date for the Junior-Senior Banquet has been set for April 9, 1948. The various committee heads have been elected and are as follows: Eunice Lintz, Program Chairman; Fairy Emerson, Decorations; Joanne Burkhart, Refreshments; Milton Gardiner, Finance Committee; Paul Wordsworth, Treasurer; Don Farrand, Transportation; Jeanne Vail, Theme; Lillian Nutt, Favors; and Jim Ranum is head of the Date Committee.

The place for the Banquet has not been chosen, nor has anyone been chosen as toastmaster. The name of the speaker along with the other "unknown" will be announced later.

The Senior class extends its sympathy to those Junior boys who waited up most of the night some time ago, waiting in vain for the Seniors to sneak. Was the wait tedious, fellows? Anyway, it was a little disappointing to call Professor Finkbeiner up so late and then find out that the Seniors had postponed their annual event. Better luck next time!

A definite policy regarding future apportionments to student body organizations was the goal of a committee composed of three faculty members and four representatives from the Student Council which met late last month. Their recommendations were as follows:

1. One club to be sponsored by each college department, membership being open to all students interested.
2. All organizations to be defined as follows:
Major: Any organization which functions independently of any department.
Minor: All organizations sponsored by a department.
3. Inter-collegiate forensics to be classed as a major organization and the Speech Club to be classed as a minor organization.

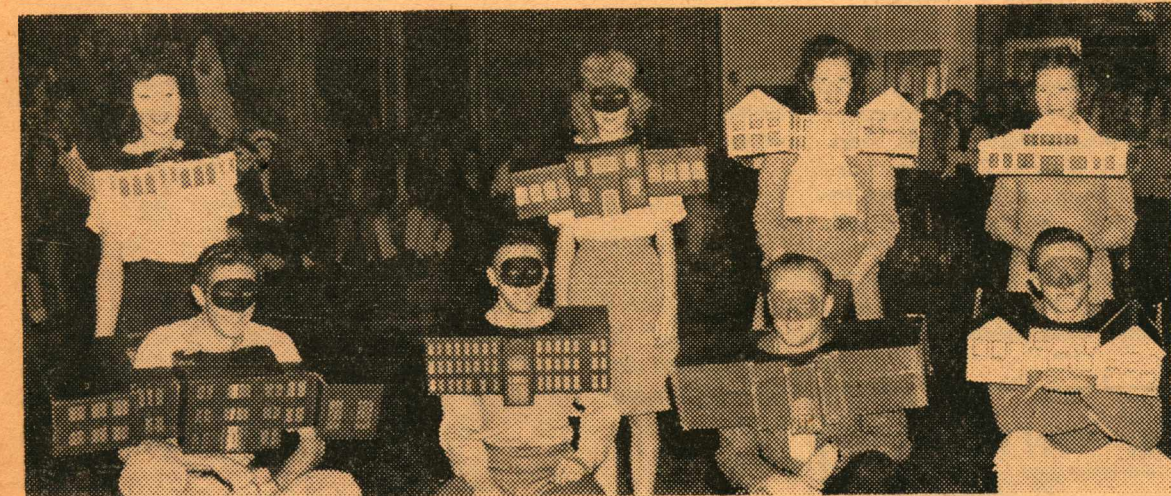

Out of the present student-body fee of seven dollars, major organizations will receive $5.70; minor organizations and general fund will receive the remaining $1.30.

Each Athletic-Literary Society will contribute $7.25 of its individual allotment of which $6.00 will go into a common property fund, and the remaining $1.25 toward the salary of the secretary of the Athletic-Literary Council.

The budget will be presented to the student body in the near future for ratification.

Ernest-Cronrath Present Recital

Liberty Ernest and Ruth Cronrath will combine their names to form an outstanding senior recital in pipe organ and piano, respectively, Friday, November 14 at 8:15 p. m. in the chapel. They are both pupils of Alline Swann, head of the Music Department, and both have done their college music work at NNC.

Mrs. Ernest has already received her Bachelor of Music degree in piano at NNC, and is now completing her pipe organ requirements for a major. She also has taught piano and music theory here several years.

Miss Cronrath has spent her four years here at the college and will receive her Bachelor of Music degree this commencement with a major in piano. Ruth has been elected this year's president of Mu Upsilon Sigma.

Piano Artist Heard

Ralph Pierce appeared before the music lovers of N.N.C. and musicians of the community in a piano concert, Tuesday, November 4.

His first Bach group consisted of three preludes and figures from the well tempered Clavichord. Other numbers presented were 8 Novelettes by Schumann, Isoldens Liebes-Tod, by Wagner-Liszt and Liszt's Polonaise in E Major.

The audience encored Mr. Piercet three times. His encore numbers included "Clair de Lune" by Debussy, Malaguena by Lecuona and Schuman's arrangement of Brahms's Caprice.

The artist has been a student of Ethel Leginska, herself a student of Theodore Leschetzky, artist of the last century.

Trifles--

By Helen Wilson

Once again God has visited us in signal fashion. The Friday chapel service will be remembered always by those who were there "when it happened."

Now we turn to the routine of daily life—to the claims of scholarship and fellowship. Nine-weeks tests, society activities, and departmental demands all remind us that we must put our religion to the test of every-day living.

Analyze your life and you will find that it is composed of trifles: food, clothing, books, reports, roommates. Sometimes their very mundaneness causes them to seem unimportant and yet they are the warp and woof of our lives.

"Trifles make perfection but perfection is no trifle," said Michelangelo. "Who hath despised the day of small things?" query the Scriptures.

A recent poll conducted in a high school class revealed some interesting facts concerning their conception of an ideal person. Such small items as friendliness, neatness, and good humor far outranked musical ability, good looks, etc. (Incidentally, gossiping and egotism headed the list of undesirable traits!)

What am I saying? Simply this: that we reveal our true character in the trifles of life. The broken promise, the unkind word, the disgruntled attitude, the frowning face—these will never plead our own cause (much less His!) effectively. Such small things as this caused one man to say to another, "What he is speaks so loudly that I can't hear what he says."

At times of great blessing we are prone to cry out as Peter at the Mount of Transfiguration, "Lord, it is good for us to be here!" All too soon it seems the Lord leads us to the bottom of the hill where lie the whitened harvest—and the trifles.

A little church in a rural community began to experience revival tides with a resultant revitalization of the entire mem-

Vets Views In The News

as seen by Willis Walker

Mrs. Mary Perkins, recent bride of one of our veterans of the Pacific area, Floyd Perkins, was seen among a group of Vets during mail call when the G.I. checks were being distributed. While Floyd had his back turned, talking to some pretty girl, his name was called. The Mrs. grabbed the check and was off before Floyd realized his predicament. No doubt he'll be "on the ball" next month.

Public Law 239 sets July 25, 1947, as the official end of World War II for this purpose of computing eligibility for veterans' benefits under the G.I. Bill and Public Law 16. As a result, education and training under both laws must be completed by most veterans by July 24, 1956. Think we can all make it that soon, fellows?

The Veterans Administration has received reports that many veterans who would like to attend larger colleges, but who have been prevented from doing so by heavy enrollments, plan to take two years work in smaller schools where there are vacancies and transfer to larger schools for their last two years of study. Surely no student would want to transfer after spending two years at N.N.C., but just in case some do, let them remember that V.A. must approve any change of institution, and a trainee's advance declaration of intent to transfer will facilitate V. A. permission when such transfer is requested.

Last week was religious emphasis week on our campus. The climax was reached on Friday morning in chapel when a large group went to the altar. There was a great time of seeking God and many prayed through to victory. We had a blessed time and God's presence was felt by the entire group.

Many people may feel that Religious Emphasis week does not mean much, but facts prove that this is a great help to the spirituality of our school. First, it helps the Christians to get under the load and help pray and work to win others to Christ. The wavering Christians become more established, and many others are brought into the kingdom of God.

Religious Emphasis week also helps prepare the students for the coming revival. It has brought us all into a closer walk with God, and helped to bring about a better spirit of fellowship about our campus.

I think we will all agree that Religious Emphasis week has been profitable for us all.

Variety is the life-blood of journalism. If it wasn't for change, a newspaper would necessarily wither and die. Consequently, we are proud that this week the CRUSADER comes out with a new head. We like it and we hope you do. Our thanks to our sponsor, Professor Kauffman, for the designing of it.

FRED JOHNSTON

Fred Johnston, linotype operator at the Gem State Printing Company died last week—on the job. It didn't cause a big ripple in the news outside of Boise Valley; he wasn't a great man, in a sense; but he was a friend and helper who was interested in producing a CRUSADER that was TOPS.

We offer our sincere sympathy to his wife and other survivors. In our own book he was tops.

Quartette Chosen

A quartet has been chosen by Professor Knighton to sing locally. Its members are Allen Sturgis, first tenor; Ramon Vanderpool, second tenor; Paul Harris, baritone; and Warren Franklin, bass.

This quartet will not travel for N.N.C. but, sponsored by the Robinson Funeral Chapel, will bring a request program to the listeners of station KFXD each Thursday evening from 9:30 until 9:45.

Our World

by Howard Zimmerman

The most important item in the news of the world is still the Russian bloc.

Last week Russia paraded her military might through Moscow's Red Square in commemoration of the Bolshevik revolution's thirtieth anniversary amid renewed cries that "warmongers" are calling for a campaign against the Soviet Union and "making plans for a new imperialist war."

REDS WANT PEACE

On the eve of the revolution's celebration, Molotov stated that Russia is intent upon "a durable and lasting peace," and that "We live in a period when all roads lead to Communism."

From the holler the Reds put up over the possibility of their having the Atomic Secret, and the charges they have placed against Great Britain and the United States for "Building Bases For Aggression" it would appear that Russia is seeking that "durable and lasting peace" by threat of aggression herself. It is certain from the recent developments, that she intends to win it even if it means the subjugation of Britain and the United States to the "Supreme Soviet rule"

It would appear that our lend-lease aid to Russia during the war is coming back in the form of a taunt bristling with military might.

LONDON CONFERENCE SOON

In Washington it was announced that mounting American demands for an early peace settlement in Europe seem certain today to force a United States-Russian showdown in the Big Four ministers' meeting at London later this month.

Some authorities believe that if the London conference fails to make definite progress on a German peace treaty and to complete an Austrian settlement, the last vestige of great power unity as symbolized in the conferences of the foreign ministers may be destroyed.

CONGRESS DEBATES APPROVAL

Also in Washington, Molotov's talk about Communism on the march in the world, spurred Congress to an early debate on approval of a European Recovery plan. This plan takes the form of the Marshall Plan.

Molotov's Moscow radio blast at the United States, in which he said that Russia's struggle for power "is just beginning," pin-pointed for many lawmakers the anti-Communist color of proposed stop-gap and long-range economic aid to Europe.

HERE AT HOME

Here at Home the major events were the renewal of the Howard Hughes trial, further inquiry into the "Reds in Hollywood" drive, Elections, the Freedom Train's coast-to-coast tour, and the launching of the Friendship Train, bearing gifts from the hearts of America to the empty stomachs of Europe.

PRAY GOD FOR DIVINE AID

It cannot be affirmed too often that "Today, we are citizens, not of isolated countries, but of the world. As students, it is most certainly our duty to know the trends of the world, and as Christians, to pray God for divine aid, in this most critical period of the world's history.

bership. What accounted for this? Was it the work of some mighty evangelist? No! The pastor discovered that one humble member had pledged to pray from midnight until 6 o'clock every Sunday until the Lord sent a revival!

A newly-converted scrubwoman in London when twitted about her theology by her employer answered: "I don't know theology, Mr....., but I do know that where I used to sweep around the door-mats now I pick them up and sweep under them." He was silenced.

An invalid woman's lonely prayers brought D. L. Moody to England. And so we might go on and on listing "trifles"—little every-day acts which when coupled with the power of God produced His will.

Life at N.N.C. has its "small things," too, as we said before. Daily devotions, committee meetings, assignments, dorm prayer meetings, evening worship, chapel—our stewardship of these "trifles" will determine our characters and control our destinies.

May God grant us vision to see our daily tasks in the light of the Eternal until we can say with the poet

"There are ways of serving God;
You sweep a room, or turn a sod,
And suddenly, to your surprise,
You hear the whir of seraphim,
And find you're under God's own eyes
And building palaces for him."

LSP's Roll SLA's

The LSP's were true to form on the afternoon of Oct. 27th and came through with a 13-0 victory over an unorganized SLA team. The LSP's rolled down the field a number of times and could have easily scored two or three more touchdowns, but the breaks were against them and they had to be satisfied with a 13-0 win.

Hawthorne was outstanding all afternoon both on offense and defense. In the 1st quarter he snagged a pass from Taylor and crossed the goal for a score.

In the 2nd quarter Powers intercepted an SLA pass and raced 40 yards down the side lines to score the second touchdown. He had terrific blocking from his team mates. Hawthorne again showed his versatility by gathering in an extra point pass from Taylor.

ADP Girls Sweep Volleyball Field

The fight for first place in girls' volleyball terminated November 3.

SLA	4	2
OLY	2	4
LSP	1	5

The hard-hitting ADP girls came out on top after two weeks of stiff battles. All four teams exhibited some good play, but the ADP's and SLA's proved the strongest. These two teams fought for top spot after the SLA team was defeated by the weaker LSP's.

Much interest and enthusiasm was evident in volleyball and the teams had been well coached.

The news that basketball season starts is big news to the old students who have happy memories of former seasons, when all turn out to cheer the team.

Coach Lee has high hopes for the team this season. Already predictions are being made as to who will make the first five. A preview of the schedule reveals a big season for the students as well as the team. Pasadena Nazarene College will be here in February to "try" and regain last years squashed pride. We will be host to Idaho State College in behalf of the March of Dimes Drive. Seattle Pacific College will play here. And of course our rivals of past years will all be met on the maple court.

Coming back to football Jim Hess is now signing up the brawn to play the Thanksgiving Day climax of the football season in the Onion Bowl. Judging from last years' results it is recommended that all who are not on the giantish side limit their participation to spectating.

Orchids are awarded to the Society Athletic directors for organizing their teams. To Stephen Wilson for his faithful service as official score keeper. Also to Prof. Knighton, Bubbs Iverson, Virgil and Elmore Vail, Leonard Hopkins, and Jim Hess for assisting in the administration of the football games. Onions are given to all those loyal society members who didn't get out to cheer their teams.

The Crusader sport's staff welcomes a new member, Irene Mitchell, who will keep the reading public informed on what is doing in Girl's sports.

Lee Calls Hoopsters

N.N.C.'s basketball enthusiasts answered Coach LaMont Lee's call for all new men interested in the sport to meet in the gym Monday evening, Nov. 3, eighteen strong. Tuesday afternoon the entire squad turned out for the initial practice.

Monday Coach Lee outlined his training policies, what he expected of the individual player, and a preview of the season's schedule, which he hopes to announce soon.

Eight lettermen plus a number of last year's junior-varsity men are returning. The lettermen are: Johnny Cramer, high point man last season; Elmer Vail, last year's captain; Virgil Vail, who played two seasons before his term in the army, all of Nampa; Bob Keil, two year letterman of Bend, Oregon; Johnny Loeber, of Connell, Washington; Leon Bruner, of Eagle, Idaho; Fred Fowler, of Kirkland, Washington; and Ronnie Weatherford, of San Luis Obispo, California.

Yell Leaders Selected

Winners of the yell-leader contest held in the gym Monday, November 3, was the team made up of Pat Johnson, Bob Ludlow, and Connie Nelson. The voting took place immediately following the pep assembly at which the competing teams worked out. Each team led the audience in several yells and both joined in leading the school song. Dick Frieson and the band were present and did justice to the occasion.

ADP Swamp SLA Use Passing Attack

On the afternoon of November 3rd the ADP's unleashed a blistering passing attack to swamp the SLA's 33-0. With Bellamy and Unger doing the chucking and Burkhardt, Weatherford, and Wilson receiving, the purple and gold marched down the field to score virtually every time they got possession of the ball.

Early in the first quarter after a 60 yd. sustained drive down the field, Unger flipped a short pass to "Butch" Neubauer for the touchdown. Again in the same period Unger faded back and passed perfectly into the arms of Bellamy who stepped over for the touchdown. Bellamy circled end for the extra point.

In the second quarter after recovering an SLA fumble on the SLA 25, the ADP's drove down to 8 yard line from where Bellamy fired a running pass to Weatherford who caught it in the end zone for another score. Bellamy skirted end again for the conversion to leave the score 20-0 at half time.

In the third quarter the ADP's again crossed pay dirt. This time it was Weatherford passing to Burkhardt for the score. A pass failed for the extra point.

Late in the fourth quarter, after the ADP's had been knocking at the goal for a series of plays, Bellamy heaved a long pass to Bill Wilson who caught it with nobody within ten feet of him to score unmolested, and then Weatherford caught a short pass from Bellamy for the 33rd point. That is the way the game ended.

ADP's Whip Oly's 12-0

An inspired ADP team scored twice in the first half and then protected that lead in the last half to emerge victorious over an undefeated OLY team by a score of 12-0.

It was Bellamy's passing and Burkhardt's and Unger's catching that spelled defeat for the red and white. The first score came midway in the first period. After Bob Reames had blocked on OLY punt Bellamy faded back and shot an aerial to Unger who stepped over for the score. Again in the 2nd quarter the ADP's scored with Burkhardt packing the mail
