

Pasadena Tip-Off Set First Concert This Friday

Coronation of Queen On Saturday Night

Climax of the 1947-8 basketball season will be the return series with the Pasadena Nazarene College here Jan. 29, 30 and 31. Thursday and Saturday night's games will be played in Central Auditorium, while Friday's will be here in the college gym.

Last year the team contacted the Pasadena Crusaders for the first time in Pasadena during the Christmas vacation and won all three games played. Pasadena is rumored to have a reinforced squad this year, and will be coming with the determination to win.

A Crusader plaque will be awarded after Saturday's game to the winner of the series. The plaque is on gumwood bearing an engraved Crusader, two gold plates one for N. N. C. and one for P. C., in the upper left hand corner there is a red cross on a white background, and centered across the bottom is the inscription "Annual Award" in the same colors. Pasadena's coach has written they have kept a black and orange basketball jersey that was left with them last year by Johnny Cramer, which they are bringing as an exchange for the plaque. Prof. Finkbeiner is currently designing the plaque.

Saturday night will be the crowning of the much-awaited tip-off queen. Five girls will be nominated by the N-Club on the basis of character, personality, and appearance. The student body will select the queen from the nominees, who will not know of her selection until she is crowned. The rest of the girls will serve as her court during the evening. Delores Bone Hurn was selected tip-off queen in 1945, the first of what hopes to become a tradition.

Elaborate souvenir programs are being prepared by the CRUSADER, which will be sold at the games for 10c apiece by the newly formed Girls' Sport Club.

The Alumni Association has contacted the alumni in the northwest inviting them to Saturday's tip-off game in an effort to make tip-off night an annual student-alumni affair.

The student council appointed a committee to plan the program for tip-off night consisting of: Dr. W. O. Young, alumnus; Bob Sporleder, M-Club; Marjorie Heron, A. W. S., and Pete Burkhart, Men's Club.

"Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!" This could indeed be the watchword of the Student Council. We discuss problems for hours sometimes, but at the end of the discussion we are all of one accord. (Maybe it's because we are exhausted.)

You know, Christianity should also be "Christ-unity." I've lived

FACULTY PIANO ENSEMBLE

Arminta Mathews, Faculty Ensemble Will Be Featured

The first of two orchestra concerts to be given this year will be presented Friday evening, January 23, at Central auditorium at 8:15 o'clock by the college orchestra under the direction of Alline Swann, head of the music department.

Featured soloist with the orchestra this year will be Arminta Mathews, coloratura soprano. She has been soloist with the Boise Symphony orchestra twice; once under Breyan, and once under Tomkins, with the string quartet under Walter Piasecki, the guest soloist at Pocatello Music Week in 1945. In addition to this she was the soloist with the Tuesday Music Chorus in Detroit, and has been the leading soprano in many productions of both light opera, opera, and opera excerpts in the Boise valley. She is now teaching voice in Boise. Her numbers will include two operatic arias: "Charmant Oiseau" from "La Perle de Bresil" by David, and "The Queen of the Night's Vengeance" from the "Magic Flute" by Mozart. She will also sing "The Rose Enslaves the Nightingale" by Rimsky-Korsakov.

An added feature this year will be an eight-hand piano ensemble composed of members of NNC's music faculty. They are: Elaine Carlson, Ivalee Bolerjack, Liberty Ernest, and Charlotte Edgar. The pianists will play with orchestral accompaniment, the well-known march from "Tannhauser" by Wagner. Other orchestral offerings will be: Overture to "Die Fledermaus" by Strauss, the first movement of Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," introduction to the third act of "Lohengrin" by Wagner, and a group of lighter favorites, including a Romberg medley in special symphonic arrangement, and La Gioconda by Ponchielli.

There will be an admission charge of 74 cents for adults, and 50 cents for students. The concert is being sponsored by one of Nampa's active service groups, the Lions Club.

The concert is being given as a benefit to the music department, and proceeds from ticket sales above expenses will go for improvements and additional equipment.

The public is cordially invited to attend this outstanding musical event.

Mrs. Riley Leads Ministers' Wives

A pencil, notebook and a humble heart are part of the requirements needed to belong to the Wives of Ministerial Students' Club, which meets the second and fourth Mondays of each month from 8 to 9 p. m. in the Library Seminar room.

This club was formed principally for the wives of ministerial students, however, you college coeds who have said "yes" to that future preacher boy, but haven't as yet marched down the aisle, are welcome to come also.

The first part of the period is given over to the club's able sponsor, Mrs. Riley, who brings a helpful talk, weaving in her own experiences as she goes along.

Over half the period is given to discussion. Subject materials used include: husband and home, help and hobbies, tears and troubles, etc.

Interesting features during the year are the dramatizations of the wife's appearance and proper table setting.

The meeting is always closed with prayer, asking God's help to be a better helpmate in the greatest work in the world.

a long time now—close to a quarter of a century. I've witnessed the disintegrating effects of schisms; and I've seen that these could be started by a subtle under current of malicious talk. We, as a student body need to guard against the spread of ugly rumors. We must take the 17th verse of James 3 to heart—LIVE on that wisdom! By warning against schisms, I am not condoning cliques. If you don't know what I mean, I do.

I appreciate PART of the suggestions that are placed in the box in the Student Council Office. Everyone may feel welcome to come and see me during office hours which are 2:30 to 4:30 MWF and 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Monday, except when something else is going on.

Kelly Urges Sundry School Attendance

By TOM KELLY

The College Department of the Sunday School has been favored with several good programs in Chapel services, advertising the Sunday School. It has been our hope that these programs may make the lazy, indifferent, and careless students come out to Sunday School and see the blessing that they're missing. If you have any good ideas that you think might work in getting students to attend Sunday School, drop us a line at the Crusader office.

The College Department of the Sunday School has at least 286 members that should be in Sunday School, which was proved on September 28, 1947, yet last Sunday we only had 203. Have you invited somebody to Sunday School this week? He may be the one who has been sleeping in.

After having heard Mr. Elmer Kauffman talk to us in the many services last week, it should inspire us to go forth and do more and more of the Lord's work. We can all invite somebody to Sunday School, but it's the keeping after them that brings them in. Remember his story of the man that worked 118 Sundays to get another man into Sunday School? Keep at it, don't get downhearted.

He Changeth Not

Yesterday—He loved me!
Today—He's just the same!
How long—will this continue?
Forever—Praise His Name!!!
Kelly repeats: "A Glowing Sunday School is a Growing Sunday School."

New Department Will Fill Growing Need

Possibilities never before offered in any of our Nazarene Colleges will be a reality at NNC next year in the field of religious education, Professor McGraw announced upon his return from Kansas City this last week. He went there to confer with Dr. Albert F. Harper, Executive Secretary of the Department of Church Schools, on the matter of expanding our Department of Religious Education to offer an A. B. Degree with a major in religious education. The desire is to have closer cooperation between our college and the program of the General Church in the field of religious education.

Anticipating a growing need for trained workers in this field, N. N. C. is planning to help meet that need by offering this major. A minor in music in cooperation with the Department of Music is planned. Also it will be possible to work in cooperation with the Department of Education and receive a State Certificate for teaching in the public schools with a teaching major in religious education.

Besides a growing demand for this type of worker, this new program of studies will open up new possibilities and challenging fields to those who feel a desire to devote their lives to religious work yet have not felt definitely called to preach or do foreign mission work. There is a definite place in our church for young people who are trained and qualified for religious education leadership. There are a dozen such openings right now, but no one available is qualified, according to Prof. McGraw.

Where Are You Looking?

Note: It is a real pleasure to me to contribute to this column each issue and to hear occasional comments to the effect that someone has been blessed or helped by the written word. The other night over at Hadley Hall Mrs. John E. Riley, wife of our pastor, brought a message to our girls—a message which encouraged and inspired us. So many have remarked since upon the great worth of her talk that I am using her message in place of the usual editorial. Mrs. Riley means much to all of us and I know that her words will be of great help at this particular time. —(Helen Wilson).

At the start of this new year where are you looking? It makes all the difference where you look. You can see what you choose but what you see makes you. You go in the direction you are looking and you pattern your life after what you see.

A Christian looks above and beyond life's hard circumstances and discounts them as temporary. A Christian does not look too long at life's supposed good things, wealth, honor, and ease. A Christian looks toward the things which are not seen; for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal. Have you been disappointed? Did you fail? Are your grades below what you set out to make? Are you going to give up? How you meet disappointment and failure builds your spirit qualities that are eternal.

Looking within a Christian has joy for he has Jesus. Looking at Jesus he has love for all those for whom Christ died. Looking up a Christian keeps the morale of a citizen of heaven. Looking about him a Christian sees his assignment. Looking ahead the path "shineth more and more to the perfect day."

Where do we look—at one another? Yes! We influence each other. The older Christians have a responsibility and the stronger personalities have a duty to those whom they lead. Where are you looking? What is the ideal hidden in your heart? Whom

All veterans who were enrolled at N. N. C. prior to your entering the service are urged to give your names to Mr. Johnson's secretary, Miss Bonner, if your name does not already appear on the Honor Roll located in the main hallway of the Administration Building. If anyone knows of some former student not now enrolled who served his or her country, please turn that name in also. By rearranging the names on the roll, some twenty names may be added. We hope this will be sufficient room. If not, some means will have to be found to provide extra space.

According to Army Times, Veterans' Edition, student delegates from 21 states, meeting in Washington, D. C., in mid-December, formed the National Conference of Veteran Trainees with the single objective of obtaining congressional approval of an increase of $35 monthly in their subsistence allowances. The Conference decided its policy would be to arouse veterans in training under the G. I. Bill to ask their congressmen for favorable consideration of a bill, (H. R. 870) introduced early in the last session by Rep. Edith Rogers (R., Mass). This bill would increase subsistence for single veterans from $65 to $100 per month, and for married veterans from $90 to $125 per month, and $10 for each additional dependent. The Conference voted to put all its efforts behind the Rogers bill and to get committee approval and House action on it instead of a compromise bill, H. R. 4212, which was passed by the Senate July 19 but never reached the House for a vote. This compromise bill would increase subsistence for single veterans to $75 and married veterans to $105, with $15 for each additional dependent.

It seems to me that Veterans' Administration has lost its most conscientious administrator. Gen. Omar N. Bradley became V. A.'s chief on Aug. 15, 1945, and gave up his post of duty on Dec. 1, 1947, to take Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's place as Army Chief of Staff. He will be succeeded by Carl R. Gray, Jr., of St. Paul, Minn.

Abe's "State of the Union" message delivered a few Wednesdays ago strikes a chord that is sounded all too seldom. Webster defines a citizen as "an inhabitant of a city or town, especially one enjoying its FREEDOM and PRIVILEGES . . ." Far too many of our citizens today are woefully ignorant as to basic national and state and international issues to vote intelligently.

Who then is to blame for the present chaotic conditions prevalent in the field of government today? The politician? No—he is merely a product of those conditions; foreign "isms"? No—normally healthy bodies can throw off the attacks of germs. Who is it then? The only answer comes back to us as a shamefaced admittance; it is none other than Mr. Average "Citizen" who is only too willing to share in the privileges and freedom mentioned by Mr. Webster, but criminally negligent regarding the duties that necessarily attend those privileges and freedoms.

Ask yourself honestly: can you really cut a basic cleavage between the various programs (if one may call them such) offered by various candidates or their spokesmen? Simmered down, they become for the most part silly, meaningless nonentities. Even Henry Wallace, whose self-admitted political philosophy is "spend and spend; tax and tax; elect and elect;" has nothing new to offer, only the same line of confusion and beration.

Is it any wonder that the average honest man becomes cynical when the "qualifications" of a candidate for political office are presented? If any ordinary business man entrusted his business to another for a period of time and returned to find that he had practiced border-line honesty (or outright dishonesty), had hired all his friends and hangers-on for workers; would not that business man immediately do away with such a corrupt, shallow fellow? Yet, that is what this country's government is fast coming to be; in a multitude of cases, political office is sought, not in order to render service to the people and the country, but merely as a mode of obtaining the necessary power to bring one's friends into wealth and importance. If the honest, God-fearing people of America do not wake up to their responsibilities not only to the world, but to God, and work together to bring order out of the disorder, to establish honesty in high places instead of dishonesty, what will happen?

Each of us has a vital part; will we accept that part?

Who's Who

by Howard Zimmerman

The "Dove of Peace" still has broken wings, at least she's not doing much work lately.

About the hottest issue in international affairs today is the resistance in Palestine over partition. The Jews and Syrian Arabs are clashing regularly, and some individuals in the U. S. seem to want to help them with 199 tons of T. N. T. Because the American government stepped in to stop its shipment, the owner now threatens to sue the government. That's a good way to promote peace.

Trygvie Lie, however, isn't letting the Palestine squabble dim the U. N. plans for participation of the Holy Land by October 1, 1948.

In Greece the Guerrilla forces are being attacked by government forces and are promised annihilation, another feather from the Dove.

London has it on reliable sources that the U. S. is sending Marines to the Holy Land; well, 'could be.'

In India, Mahandas K. Gandhi, religious leader of the Hindus, has just ended a "fast" in the interest of peace in India. The Sikhs said, let him die. The Moslems indicate that there is a grave possibility of a full-scale war with Indian Pakistan if the U. N. doesn't intervene.

We haven't been hearing much from Uncle Joe's boys lately, but don't worry, Molotov is still serving "tea" to the European states. Incidentally, Uncle Joe isn't dead, as rumor had it.

Most interesting to all of us is the "Home Front." The important issues now before Congress are the Marshall Plan and "Harry's" 39.6 billion dollar budget. The G. O. P. seems to be skeptical of the President's judgment on the budget and are out to trim it five billion, which would feel pretty good in the local pocket.

Taxes and the Marshall Plan are now in the operating room and it's hard to say what WILL be cut out. The budget is on its way in (I imagine Uncle Joe'd refuse to operate.)

HERE IT COMES!

With this being election year, we can expect a whole lot of bally-hoo on both sides (pardon me, all three, now that Wallace has turned the "Trojan Man). With Truman and the Democrats as "goalies" it looks like the G. O. P.'s going to drive hard with the puck.

NO PROMPTING, PLEASE . . .

President Truman reports that the American people are riding a wave of inflation to the "bust" unless price controls are restored, and Congress is trying to discover which comes first, the egg (wage increases) or the chicken (price increases). I for one, hope they solve it.

WHERE ARE YOU LOOKING?

do you want to be like? Have you forgotten why you came to N. N. C.? You came to study and to establish your Christian experience. You can slide along and get by but someone here is looking to you; someone back home is looking to you. Are you true to their trust?

There are wonderful traditions here at N. N. C. So many who have lived in these dorms have caught the vision of what their lives could be by God's grace and they have gone out to bless the world. You can name them. But you can't name the hundreds who had the same advantages and wasted them. Maybe some lived next door to Louise Robinson Chapman but missed the prize!

Where are your eyes fixed? Toward what are you heading? The fun and fellowship here will give you memories to cherish all your life; but nothing will give you heart satisfaction like keeping true and doing your work well.

You have to keep on keeping on to finish the course. Dr. Chapman's wife suggested that he wait for the days when he was inspired and everything clicked to do his work, but he said, "No, it would be like trying to cross the country and driving only when there was a four-lane cement highway. You have to keep on through rough and narrow roads and even detours to reach the East coast."

It is wonderful to live by the high emotional tides we have here at N. N. C. but it is best to have an auxiliary motor on your sailboat . . . a sail to catch every high breeze and a motor to keep going put-put-put when the going is hard.

Where are you looking? Peter looked at the waves and sank. Keep your eyes up. "Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith." Let us finish the course.

The girl who now is Mrs. California. Jeanne Vail was born in Coos Bay, Oregon, January 12, 1925. She attended grade school in Millington, Oregon. While in high school in Coos Bay, Jeanne was a member of "Hysoerie," or Girls' Service Club; she sang in the girls' sextet in her last two years of high school and was Girls' League president in her Senior year.

Jeanne spent two years doing defense work at Lockheed Aircraft in Burbank, California, and took a few part-time courses at Pasadena College in Pasadena, California. She came to N. N. C. as a Freshman in 1945, was the secretary of Mu Epsilon Sigma when a Sophomore, and was on the A. W. S. Council in her Sophomore and Junior years. She is program chairman for the L. S. P.'s for this semester, and, as she is a music major, she has been a student assistant in the music department since the second semester of last year. Jeanne's favorite man is (of course) Elmore Vail, and her favorite sport is "Watching my husband play basketball."

Panthers Downed 54-43 Friday Nite

The NNC Crusaders continued their winning ways last Friday night by stalking the Panthers from Albion 54-43.

Southern Idaho scored first on a free throw by John Wallace but then Elmore Vail fired two quick baskets and Kiel another one to go out in front 6-1. After that the Crusaders were never headed. At half-time the score was 25-19.

Johnny Cramer and Bob Kiel came through with brilliant playing as usual. Cramer was high for the evening with 17, followed by Kiel with 12. No player on the Southern Idaho team scored more than 6 points.

The undefeated SLA sextet continued their domination of the girls' basketball race as the season passed its midway point.

Paced by Becker's 16 points, the league leaders completely submerged an impotent LSP outfit 31-4 to add their third scalp in as many tries. Their other two triumphs came at the expense of the ADF's 30-16 and the OLY's 30-9.

The hapless OLY's dropped into the cellar by losing successive tilts to the ADP's and the LSP's 22-16.

Led by Likens and Jensen the SLA cagers forged ahead in the intramural casaba race by drubbing the previously undefeated LSP's 26-25 last Friday.

The victors held a 9-6 lead at the first stop and were on top 20-15 at the half. Taylor led the loosers with 10 tallies. In other inter-society clashes the OLY's edged the ADP's 27-23 while the SLA's dropped at 41-20 decision to the ADP's and then edged out the OLY's 37-29.

One professor at Indiana University puts it to his students straight. He said, "Of course, you people are entitled to your own beliefs." He stopped and smiled gently. "But it would be much more diplomatic if you all would agree with me."

Heartbreaker Lost To Panthers, 40-39

The NNC Crusaders lost a heartbreaker to the Panthers from Southern Idaho Saturday night, 40-39.

Both teams played rough and careless ball in a game that really looked more like football. A total of 35 fouls were whistled in the game, 23 of them on the visitors.

Little No. 11, of Albion, John Wallace, was the thorn in the Crusaders' side, potting 8 baskets from the field for 16 points. Johnny Cramer bucketed 12, followed closely by E. Vail with 11.

In the preliminary the JV's were swamped by Harold Jones, 68-46.

Crusaders Tip BJC Broncos; Cramer Is High

NNC's rejuvenated Crusaders put the damper on BJC's Broncos 52-46, January 12, at Central auditorium, for their first home triumph of the season.

The Broncos led only twice during the contest, both times in the first half, by scores of 8-6 and 10-9. Then, Johnny Cramer and Elmore Vail led a spurt that saw the Crusaders build up an 18-10 margin with 14 minutes elapsed. Both teams traded blows for the remainder of the period and at half-time NNC held a 25-17 advantage.

The black-clad Crusaders clung to this lead until, with 10 minutes left, they gained their longest lead of the night at 44-33. BJC rallied with 10 straight tallies to shave off all but one point, but the local cagers came back to outscore the visitors 8 to 3 in the last four minutes of play.

Cramer, NNC's candidate for little All-American honors, was easily the outstanding man on the floor as he led scoring with 16 points, and set up numerous other buckets with his brilliant floor play and rebounding. E. Vail and Fred Fowler trailed him with 14 and 10 tallies. Ray Coley paced the Broncos with 14.

Second Art Tour
Slated Next Month

The second in a series of Art Appreciation tours will probably be taken early in February, according to Prof. A. J. Finkbeiner, head of the Art department. Approximately 10 students will participate in the tour, traveling to half a dozen towns in Oregon and Idaho. Tentative stops on the journey at present include Baker, Weiser, Payette, Ontario, and Parma. At each town, the students will take complete charge of church services, presenting them with an artist's salnt.

The last tour by this group took them through various localities in southern Idaho, and several other tours are in the planning for later in the next semester.

Publish Art Book

A new text book on the "Use of Art in Sunday School and Daily Vacation Bible School," consisting of approximately 300 pages will be in print early in May, according to Prof. A. J. Finkbeiner, art department head.

The book is the product of the combined efforts of "Abe" Bennett and Prof. Finkbeiner, who revealed that the manuscript is almost completed at this time. Work on the book was started with the idea of providing a practical guide to the use of art in Christian work.

KAUFFMAN

Among the first speakers for this new year has been Mr. E. H. Kauffman. I believe he has impressed it indelibly on each one of "our spirits" that to evangelize our communities we must go out into the byways and bid them come in.

GUY NEES

Monday's guest in chapel service hailed from C. N. C. with a message in which Holiness was emphasized as "always being proper." If we but obey God's command, "Be ye holy," we can sing that song "Wash Me and I Shall Be Whiter Than Snow" and feel the results!

Mississippians Here

The nation-wide famous colored "Mississippians" rendered a varied program to a filled auditorium of students, faculty, and friends at 8:00 p. m. on Thursday, January 8.

The quartet was very favorably received which was shown by the amount of applause and demands for encores.

Their program consisted of jubilee songs, Negro spirituals, and poetry. One of the most popular was the rendition of "Swing Low Sweet Chariot."
