Former NNC Graduates Return For Alumni Association Anniversary Day

Theological Program To Be Given Sunday

"Labor is for the harvest field," has been chosen for the general theme of the Theological Program this year.

Graduating students who plan to go into full time Christian service will participate in the program, which will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday.

Special speaker for the service is Rev. John W. Hall, missionary to Cuba. Duane Poplin will lead the congregational singing and Terry Yoda will give the invocation.

Charles Wilkes has been selected to read the Scripture and Torvil Nilsen will give a reading. A chalk drawing by Ray Hudson will be accompanied by a quartet number composed of Guilford Fitz, Dale Swinney, Bruce Koerner and Don Fowler.

George Pfenninger will also give a reading and Esperidon Julca will give the benediction.

Committee members who have planned the program are Dr. Carl Hansen, Dr. Alvin Kauffman, Torvil Nilsen, Dale Swinney, Bill Bahan, Ray Hudson and Gordon Garlie.

Graduates from the Northwest area are on the NNC campus today for alumni business, reminiscing and renewing old friendships.

"This year marks forty years of progress in the history of the college. Over twelve hundred persons have graduated from her halls and she has grown to a liberal arts college of full rank. The Alumni Association is sponsoring the Anniversary Day in honor of the college achievements during the past forty years," Ed Dowd, Alumni president, announced.

Wiley Speaks in Chapel

Homecoming day opens with the chapel program at 10:30 a. m. honoring NNC's first president, Dr. Orton Wiley, who will be the guest speaker.

REV. ED DOWD

A leading educator in the church, Dr. Wiley worked in the early years of the denomination with Dr. P. F. Bresee in California. He served as president of our sister college in Pasadena for 19 years and is now president emeritus. His three volume "Christian Theology" ranks among the best research in modern religious thought. Dr. Wiley received the D. D. from Pasadena College and edited the Herald of Holiness from 1929 to 1936. Nazarenes throughout the Northwest welcome him back to the college campus for this alumni day.

Final chapel for NNC's fortieth year will be from 9:00 a. m. to 12 noon on Monday. The traditional program is a time of devotion, testimony and the granting of awards to outstanding students.

Special numbers will be given by the various musical groups and introduction will be made of parents and guests on the campus.

Among the awards to be presented is the All-College Student award. This award is given to a member of the graduating class selected by the faculty as the most outstanding student. The choice is based upon scholarship, character, leadership and contribution to the morale of the College.

Lions Club Presents Plaque

On a similar basis, the Lions club of Nampa will present a permanent plaque to the outstanding young man and woman of the college. Selection for this award is also made by the faculty.

Other awards include the Ronald J. Lush Band Trophy, the Bonnie D. Beam Orchestra Trophy, the Doris Gale De Long Music Trophy, the All-School Art award, the Gretzinger Organ Cup, the Bertha R. Dooley English prize and the J. Raymond Knighton A Capella award.

Two of them are in honor of Mr. Wesley Swalm, a former faculty member, and the other two are in honor of Chaplain Byron Lee. Many other group and individual awards will also be presented at this final chapel program.

"Students must be present," Dr. Riley stated, "in order to receive these awards. We urge everyone to attend this traditional service."

OUR RESPONSIBILITY

With the financial support of the College, NNC is sending out official only one traveling group this summer. In essence, within four days, 600 representatives will be leaving our halls.

In a matter of weeks we will be scattered to the four corners of the United States. Each of us will go with an increased responsibility because we have attended Northwest Nazarene College.

For nine months we have studied, worked and played together. Recall, with me, the experiences we have had this year; the things we have heard; the people we have met; the aims, goals and aspirations we have realized.

We have changed. Whether we have been here one semester or five years, we have changed. College life has been experienced and we, by our choices, have determined how we have changed.

With our increased responsibility, 600 of us will leave to reflect the changes NNC has made in our lives. As we go we should remember that the things we say, our conduct, our testimony, are all representing NNC. What you are this summer will determine other people's opinion of our college.

The challenge comes to boost our school; support the administration and be faithful to its standards.

Northwest Nazarene College could ask for no better or more effective representation than 600 students dedicated to our motto, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God." "Ye are living epistles . . . For unto whomsoever much is given of him shall be much required."

As I pen these last words as editor of the NNC Crusader, may I express my appreciation first of all to Dr. Riley, our college president. He has given us excellent cooperation . . . has listened patiently to our problems . . . has given us news releases we had not anticipated . . . and has promptly met every deadline we have given him. We could ask for no better cooperation from an excellent college president.

Then, to the faculty members for their interest, encouragement and assistance. It has been a privilege to serve the faculty and administration as editor. Especially, may I say "thanks" to my two sources of greatest inspiration, advice and counsel—Dr. Culver and Miss Helen Wilson.

Then, to my entire staff. We have had unusual loyalty and cooperation from an enthusiastic group of staff members. For the many long hours we worked together to meet deadlines and run down copy, may I say, "Thanks." Special tribute goes to my assistant, Evelyn Gray, for sharing the responsibilities and for being a wonderful staff member. Then, to Herb Myers, our efficient business manager and his two assistants, Ken Haney and Jack McEvoy for all the ads they brought in, which leaves us with a cash balance. To Carolemay, Noreen and Ron, who have carried their share of writing duties. To Elna and Bonnie for the circulation and to all the reporters for their patience with a "demanding" editor.

Then, to the entire student body for your cooperation, participation and interest this year.

Then, to our advertisers, without whom we could not have had a newspaper. The firms of Nampa have contributed willingly and faithfully.

Then, to our subscribers for your expressions of love for NNC and your enjoyment of the paper. Thanks for writing in and boosting us so often.

Then, to Schwartz Printing Company . . . to George and Harry for their patience with us, getting in last minute changes and making it a joy to work with two swell fellows. We could ask for no better relationship with our printer.

Then, to the editor of the Free Press, who has helped us immensely by engraving our pictures.

In brief, to all of you who have made the NNC Crusader possible and our jobs easier, may I say one sincere "Thank You." May the NNC Crusader with its new editor have many more interesting days serving the interests of Northwest Nazarene College.

Poll Lists Activities Students Say Are Most Beneficial

"What have you enjoyed the most at NNC—which activity, or what has benefited you the most?" This question was posed by our roving reporter to approximately 40 students this past week.

Preeminence was placed on the Christian fellowship, atmosphere and friendliness of the students. We met more often, than anything else, the reply, "Association with Christian young people." This idea was detailed by mentioning class devotions, sincerity of faculty members and Christian teachers.

Many students mentioned the respective prayer chapels and dormitory prayer meetings. Also, along the line of religious emphasis was an appreciation for the Sunday School class taught by Dr. Culver. One student said, "That twenty minute lesson on Sunday morning has done me more good than any other one thing this year."

Regular college classes were also mentioned. Among those were the psychology, history, interior decoration, child development and high school methods classes. "I've appreciated the fact that the teachers are genuinely interested in the welfare and the personalities of each student," was one sincere reply.

Another outstanding comment was, "I've benefited the most from the friendly, sincere smile from students you don't even know." Friendliness of NNC students was high on the list.

Summarizing the feeling of most of us this year is probably the comment we received from one senior fellow who said, "I've benefited the most from an excellent educational program which endows the student, who wishes to learn, with the Christian fundamentals of life and develops character to maintain his place in society." Or, as one junior girl said, "I've benefited the most from NNC in general . . . her high standards and principles."

Students Compete In Merit Board Exams

Five members of the Office Training class in the Business Administration department took the Idaho State Merit Board examination recently. Those applying for the various positions were Bernice Egger, Donna Nine, Della Mae Reed, Doris Rice and Sam Scammon.

Of the 103 applicants for the position of dictating machine transcriber, Miss Reed placed third.

Engagement Told By Schulz and Gale

The NNC Crusader is happy to announce the engagement of Miss Shirley A. Schulz to Mr. Mervyn E. Gale.

Shirley, a freshman, is the daughter of Mr. Emil Schulz of Sacramento, Calif. and Merv is the son of Rev. and Mrs. B. M. Gale of Beaverton, Ore. Merv is a junior.

Our President's Final Word...

EDUCATION IS A TWO-WAY STREET

By Dr. John E. Riley

As I pen these last words for our student newspaper this year I wish to thank all the students for their contribution to my education during my "freshman" year. I say that sincerely for I believe that education is a two-way street; no teacher really teaches without learning as he teaches and no pupil truly learns without teaching at the same time.

You students know more than I do, about some things, and so you have taught me from your superior store of knowledge. I have not learned readily all the lessons you taught me (usually by indirection), but I have worked at all of them.

I am not going to receive a degree or diploma at the close of this year, as some of you will. But if you feel that this year at NNC has made a real contribution to your life and mind and character, I will be happier than any senior with a summa cum laude. Education is a two-way street. I am older, and younger and wiser than I was last September, thanks to you. Here at the middle of my life you have been partner in what has been to me an adventure of change. I hope you have learned as much as I have. Are you game for another year of mutual education?

Seniors Reveal Their Hopes and Plans Concerning Future Lines of Employment

Here we go, out into the cold, cruel world. Yes, our sheltered days at NNC are over and it is time, as one poet dramatically stated, "to pay our debt to the world." (Mr. Johnson qualifies the statement by tenderly urging us to pay our bill at NNC first). Already high hopes and plans are in the making for the future of the 1953 grads, some of them already divulged.

Jo Clocksene says, "I am planning to be an airline stewardess and make sure every millionaire on my plane gets extra coffee and donuts."

Donna Holmes is going to marry a preacher this summer, then teach grade school next year for a livelihood—probably in Washington.

Myers Will Operate Shop

Herb Myers is closing a deal for operating Herbie's Hock Shoppe on the corner of Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania.

George Pfenninger wants to go Montana and get a home mission church to pastor in a town where he can also teach public speaking and history—"I'm sure they won't pay to hear me preach," he says.

Elna Funk, Lois Herron and Carolemay Rapp say they'll be teaching next year and "roughing it" in a house with needlepoint furniture, three-inch (thick, that is) carpets and a deep freeze.

"I'm going off someplace where nobody knows me," declares Pat Wilkes.

Seniors Will Go South

Marilyn Lutz says, "My husband is going to graduate school at Nashville, Tenn. I'm going along for the ride." Eventually they plan to live in Hawaii.

Mary Moore plans to get a Miami tan this winter while visiting her sister, and then go into public health nursing.

Private secretary to the handsome Civilian Personnel Officer at Barksdale Air Force Base "way down in Louisiana" will be none other than Earlene Tapley.

Guilford Fitz says, "I'm going to go to seminary if accepted; otherwise I'll just dig ditches."

Social welfare work in Southern California interests Janet Hauger; rumor has it that there might be an additional interest there.

Howard Miller says he's going to be a big businessman and support NNC (after a lengthy sight seeing trip sponsored by Uncle Sam).

Louise Simmons wants to go on to art school, and Apphia Koch plans to do further work in home economics before she teaches.

Ray McGregory is looking for a job either in Spokane or Colorado (know of any good offers?). Later on he plans to go into business for himself.

Mowry to Direct Bands

George Mowry will attend the University of Idaho next year, and will be directing a couple of high school bands on the side. Don Fogelsonger plans to take some classes at the University of Montana.

Elementary grade school teaching will claim Mrs. Rena Waugh, as well as Howard Fuller and Marilyn Hudson.

If the armed forces don't beckon too soon, Lauren Sanders will enroll at the University of Nebraska next fall.

Three Go to Chicago

The windy city of Chicago might be a trifle windier next year. We understand that Ray Tate, Loring Beals and Chuck Stewart all plan to honor the place with their presence. Ray will prepare for hospital administration work; Loring has been accepted at Northwestern and Chuck Stewart has enrolled in optometry school.

Virginia Walton is going to the University of Oregon this summer to get a teacher's certificate, then teach next year—if nothing more interesting comes along.

Evelyn Gray says, "I think I'll sleep for three months and then make future plans."

Several Enroll in Seminary

A group of religion majors will enroll at the seminary next year. Bill Bañan, Larry Abla, Terry Yoda and Don Fowler are among them.

John Rankin and Fred Rapp will be "allowing" army regulations to regulate their plans for awhile.

Bruce Koerner sighs in resignation, "I took a vocational guidance test and found that I'm most fitted to be a tramp."

Butch Bloomquist is determined to get his master's degree at some unusual place like the University of Berlin after he gets out of the army.

Being secretary to a bank president is one of Lois Becker's goals.

Duane Poplin, Eleanor Matthiesen and several others just haven't decided for sure where to place their talents—just give them time, they say.

So, as I said before—here we go!

Crusader Baseball Squad Tops Former Athletic Groups in School's History

NNC Crusaders' baseball squad has been the finest athletic team in the history of the school. Despite their many successes, "Wait 'till next year," is already running through the victors' camp and good reason they have for looking forward to the next season.

Elect Detwiler Captain

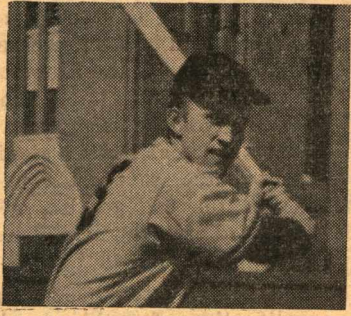

Batting statistics for the year have been dominated by two sophomores, the pitching staff records by two freshmen and a junior. Only two men are leaving the ranks through graduation. The popular "Flying Dutchman," Harry Detwiler, was elected honorary captain for the year. He hit consistently around the .500 mark throughout the season, slumped during the last week but rallied for five hits in nine times at bat in Saturday's double-header. He leads all the batsmen with a mark of .435.

Back Leads Team in Runs

Len Back, probably the most inspirational player from his first base position, led the team in home runs and fielding averages. He slapped out four round-trippers and gained a fielding average of .973.

Back also led in the most important runs-batted-in and was close behind Detwiler in the batting averages with .407.

Mickey Dean, a freshman, had the best pitching average among the regular moundsmen with a 2-0 won-lost record. Paul Ralphs, who was plagued by injuries, was the work-horse as a freshman, winning five and dropping one. Rod Newman, a junior pitcher, has improved greatly both as a starter and in relief roles, with a 3-2 record.

Other High Batters Named

Dean was far distant from the two battling leaders but still was above .300 as he edged out Clary Olson for number three position by one point at .313. Olson's .312 made him the only other man above .300.

Detwiler led the team in hits, stolen bases, runs scored and two-base hits with 27, 20, 28 and 3, respectively.

The team's 33 hits in 81 official times at bat in the 16-3 and 23-0 whippings of EOCE raised the team batting average to a whopping .295. All this added to next year's freshman prospects help to raise their thoughts of "wait 'till next year."

Predict Trouble For Olympian Boys In Society Track Meet

Without the help of Millard Reynolds and Art Sullivan, who have spearheaded the Olympian boys to four consecutive intramural track championships, the Olys' chances for a fifth straight title look dim as the LSP boys seem to have the favorite's role in the tomorrow afternoon meet. This last intramural activity of the year will start at 1:00 at Bulldog Bowl.

Sparked by Arlan Anderson in the dashes, Julian Hagood in the hurdles and Harold Hughes in the distances, the LSPs appear to have the best chance of dethroning the defending champs. Lois Tracy, whose all-around ability has helped the ADP girls to many athletic titles, will be back to post the ADPs as favorites in the girls' division. Ludella Heid for the Olys and Betty Miralles as an SLA, will gather enough points to threaten.

The ADP boys are always strong and stand a good chance of making it a clean sweep for their society, providing the girls pull through as expected. The other societies are of unknown quality due to their ineligible men through varsity track.

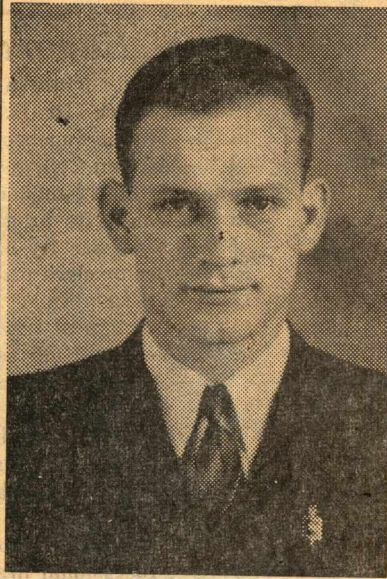

The winners in each of the two divisions are awarded 250 points toward the winning of the Faculty Loving Cup which could easily swing the decision for the entire semester.

NNC Tennis Squad Out-classes C. of I.

NNC's tennis squad completely outclassed the College of Idaho team Wednesday afternoon on the Kurtz park courts to take four singles matches and both doubles for a 6-0 victory. The two teams met again on Thursday in Caldwell in the final meet of the year.

Roy Croskrey, the NNC No. 4 man, made a fighting comeback after losing the first set 1-6, and trailing in the second, 1-4, to edge out the Coyotes' Max Sanchez, 1-6, 6-4 and 6-4. Mervyn Gale, as No. 3 man, also was forced to three sets before winning and, like Croskrey, lost the first set necessitating winning two straight for the decision. He lost to Jed Boscoe 6-8, but won handily 6-1, 6-3.

Myron Finkbeiner, team coach and No. 1 man, whipped Ron Daniels 7-5 and 6-1 in straight sets. Daniels was playing as the No. 1 man in the place of Dick Haun who was unable to turn out. Haun edged Finkbeiner as part of a 3-3 tie a week earlier.

Lauren Sanders whipped John Zeltner 6-4, 6-3, but Croskrey and Finkbeiner had trouble with Zeltner and Sanchez in doubles before winning the day's final match 3-6, 11-9 and 6-2. Sanders teamed up with Gale to outplay Boscoe and Daniels 6-2, 7-5.
