GENEVA BITTLESTON came to NNC in 1945, since that time her dedication to the lives of NNC students has always been evident. She has touched our lives with her gentleness and kindness. She has taken time to encourage and inspire. Her twenty-eight years of dedicated service for the Lord and Northwest Nazarene College are deeply appreciated. As a token of our respect and gratitude we dedicate this sixty-sixth volume of the OASIS to Mrs. Geneva Bittleston. Respectfully, the Students, Faculty, Administration and friends of NNC.

Do not model yourselves on the behavior of the world around you, but let your behavior CHANGE, modeled by your new mind.

This is the only way to discover the will of God and know what is good, what it is that God wants, what is the perfect thing to do.

In the light of the grace I have received I want to urge each one among you not to exaggerate his real importance. Each of you must judge himself soberly by the standard of the faith God has given him.

Just as each of our bodies has several parts and each part has a separate function, so all of us, in union with Christ, form one body, and as parts of it we belong to each other. Our gifts differ according to the grace given us.

If your gift is prophecy, then use it as your faith suggests; if administration, then use it for administration; if teaching, then use it for teaching.

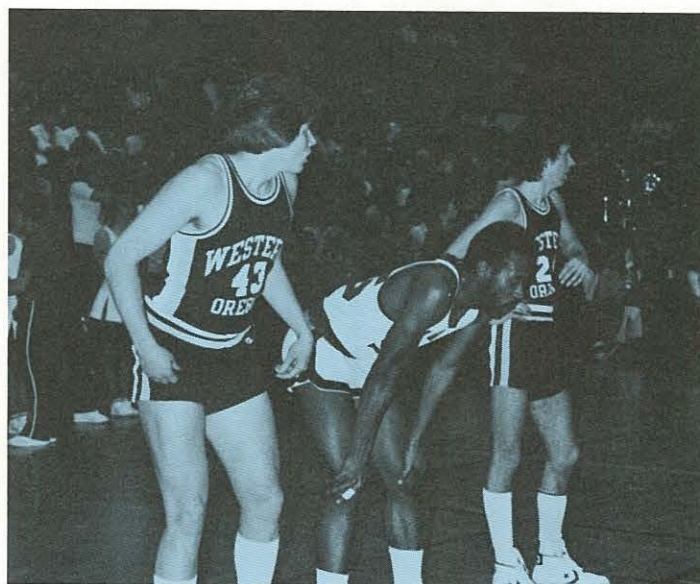

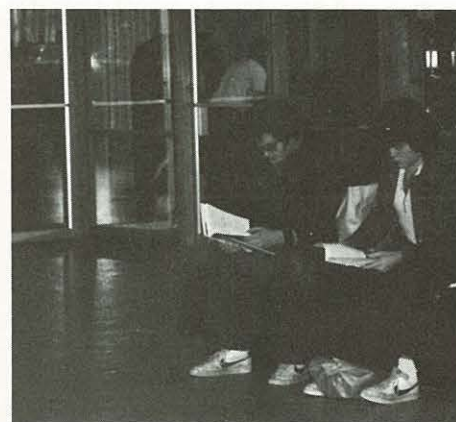

Let the preachers deliver sermons, the almsgivers give freely, the officials be diligent, and those who do works of mercy do them cheerfully.

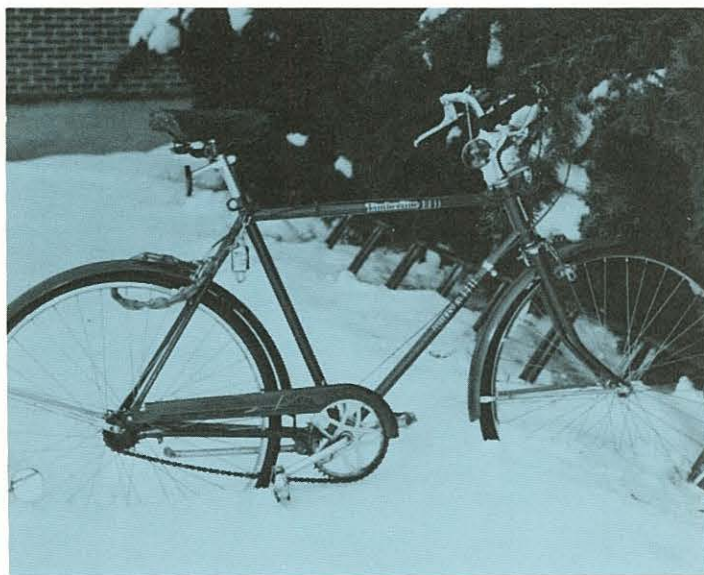

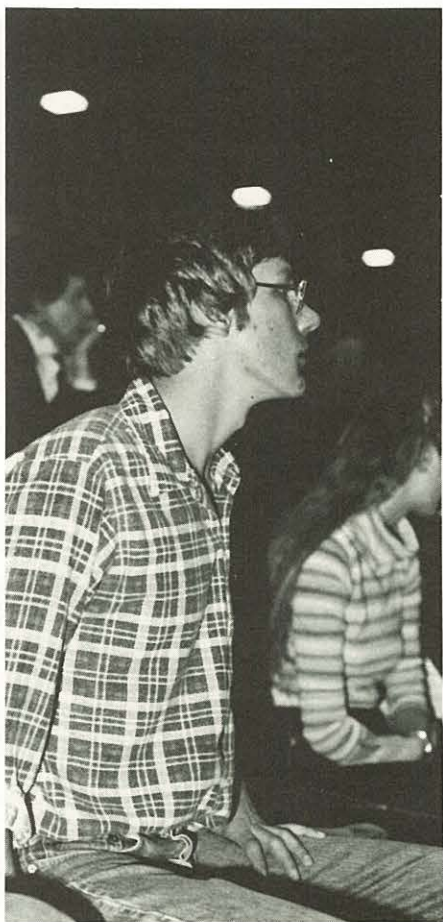

Do not let your love be a pretense, but sincerely prefer good to evil. Love each other as much as brothers should, and have a profound respect for each other.

Work for the Lord with untiring effort and with great earnestness of spirit. If you have hope, this will make you cheerful. Do not give up if trials come; and keep on praying.

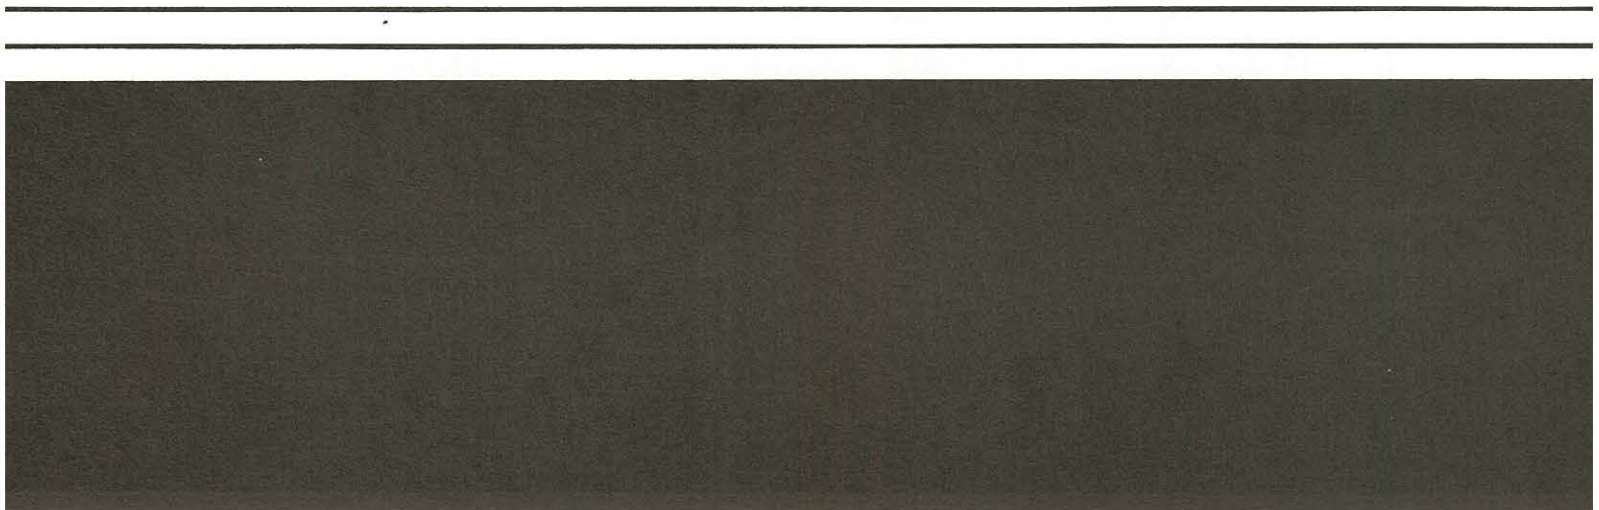

If any of the saints are in need you must share with them; and you should make hospitality your special care.

Bless those who persecute you; never curse them, bless them. Rejoice with those who rejoice and be sad with those in sorrow. Treat everyone with equal kindness; never be condescending but make real friends with the poor.

Do not allow yourself to become self-satisfied. Never repay evil with evil but let everyone see that you are interested only in the highest ideals. Do all you can to live at peace with everyone. Romans 12:2-19.

Registration enRolls on by

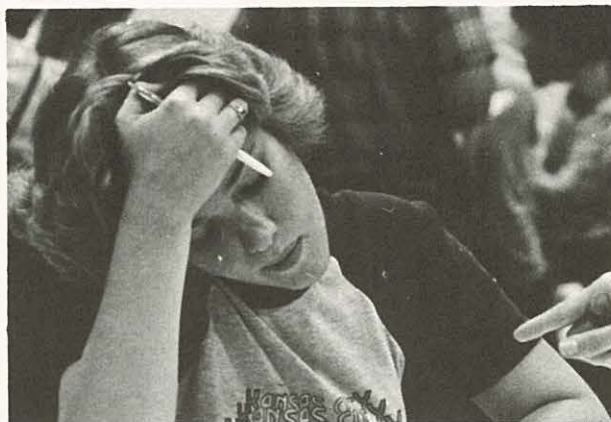

"If you can make it through registration, you can make it through the rest of college easy", so the saying goes. Thus new students wondered if it was all that bad, while returning students knew. "Waiting in line" was the key phrase. Many a student waited in the long lines, finally reached the front, and then suddenly found that they needed a student I.D. card; or that they had waited in the wrong line. Then it was back to the end of the line that had mysteriously grown 50 people longer. Nerves and patience were spent to the extreme, for an assortment of anxieties and trials plagues both student and staff. Has my loan gone through?, can I get into English before ending up being 16th on the waiting list?, and of course, where are the upper classmen when you need them?; are just an example of the questions running through students minds.

It seemed that the only good parts about registration were the facts that "home sickness" was forgotten in the chaos, new friends were made in pure desperation; and last but not least, the victorious sigh of relief as one left the gym completely registered. Well, perhaps not completely registered. One always seems to make a pilgrimage back to the administration building for some adjustment or other. Thus goes registration.-Kerri Calder.

above clockwise-LINES AND LINES fill the gym as the students WAIT AND WAIT; WRITERS' CRAMPS accompanies the registrations' announcement of courses as John Shurr figures it all out; TERRI THOMPSON gets great joy in telling Karl Mitchell where to go; THERE is chaos on the court; NOW Kathy Diamond would rather be sleeping; MARLA PETERSON shakes her fist and asks the question, "Why me?"; THE MUG SHOTS never make a hit, but I.D. has it as a requirement. Sharon Smith was thrilled about hers.

The first major event of the year, Root-beer Fest '81 allowed students a chance to relax after an exciting yet tiring week of registration and classes. Students gathered in the cool night air to down frosty mugs of rootbeer and watch the zany antics of cartoon characters. The evening provided opportunities for students to become better acquainted and talk about anything from a challenging class to Mr. Magoo. -By Dianna Heitter

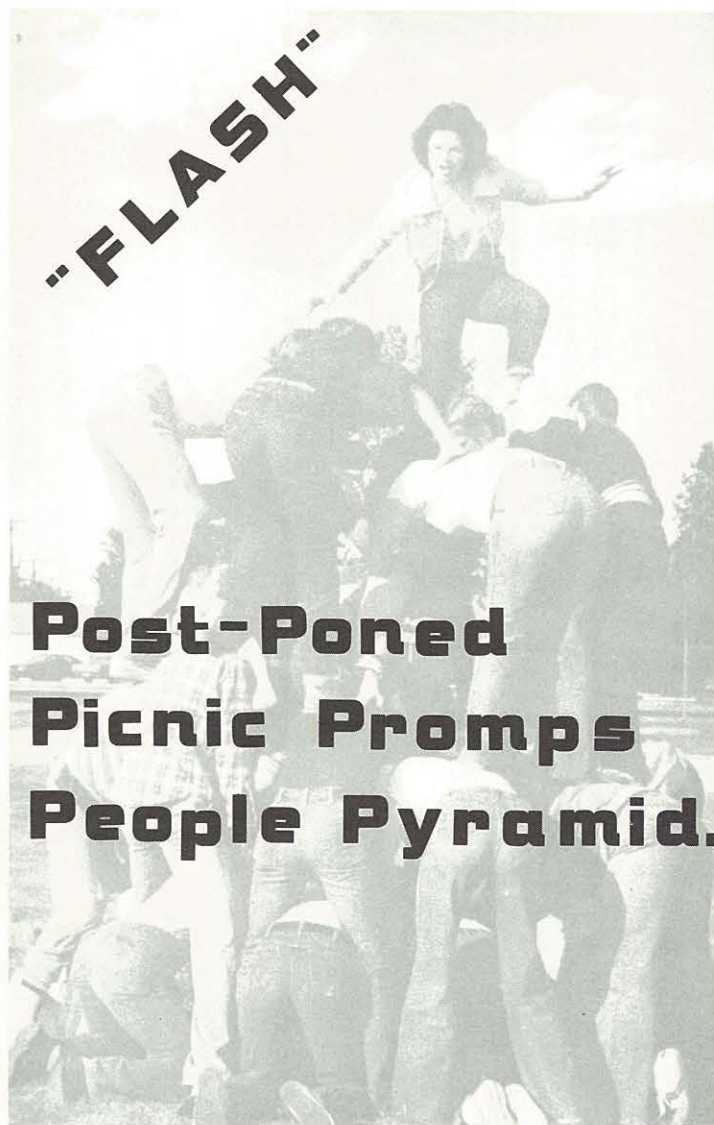

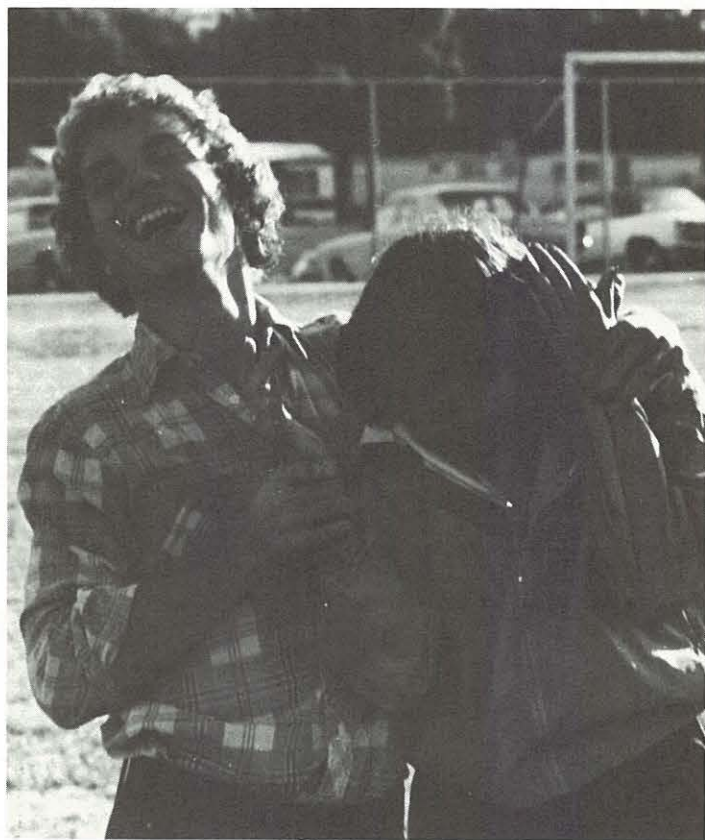

Cold Weather And Cold Draft

CLOCKWISE FROM FAR LEFT: DAVE Ketterman pours Sharla Staal a big mug full. DANA Michel enjoys herself. She is with Gordy Presnell, Phil Bryson, Bruce McKay, Jim Verity, Mark Johnson, and Dale Watt. STUDENTS are entertained by educational films. JAMIE Richards, Kim Clapp, and Clint Hahn get into some heavy discussion. DONNA Ness shares with a friend. "I'VE heard that they really grow them big in Texas." BRYAN McLaughlin is caught by surprise.

LEFT CLOCKWISE: Kathy Delker and Debbie Hersey's like many other people's wheelbarrow, ended up looking more like a plow; WHEN one falls down in the dizzy baseball bat relay it's still jolly fun. The WEATHER was pretty nice and sunny which at times made it hard to see for the many in the crowd. LINDA Daniels attempts to hide from the camera, but Gary Smith has different ideas. SHIRLEY Hawk struggles to the top of the Junior's pyramid. IF you don't care for the games and relays provided you could bring your own. Rob Duncan did as he flies his own frisbee. HEATHER Jennings watches the relays, and Dave Sherbondy watches Heather. PETE Young is by far one of the toughest anchors to loosen. Even with students piling up on the "Buck-Buck" line he holds on.

A time to Kick Back and take it Easy

By Kerri Calder

The be-lated festivities of the All School Picnic, although not traditional, provided an afternoon of fun for all. Post-poned twice with a location change. The picnic consisted of games and races on the softball field and fried chicken in the SAGA cafeteria.

Some of the favorite events in the field of competition were the baseball bat relay, the wheelbarrow race, the egg throwing competition, and the class built pyramids. The Junior class won there with a dome shaped pyramid crowned with the light footed Shirley Hawk.

As the afternoon waned, a hardy game of "Buck-Buck" got underway. Spectators rolled with laughter as people piled up and plundered down. Over all it was a fun filled time for everyone.

By Kerri Calder and Roger Houser

With initiation '80 embedded in their minds the schemeful Sophomore class welcomed this year's Freshmen to a three day initiation that saw these new students wearing big plastic noses and glasses, clothes turned inside out, and clashing colors that would suggest a new wave of color blindness. What is more, Freshmen were found tied together, wearing paper hats, and red-lipstick smiles-the handy work of the Sophomores.

On Saturday night Freshmen received a final welcome when the Sophomore class, along with a few Juniors and Seniors, provided an evening of entertainment in Saga. Nancy Donnelly and David Egger emceed a medieval based Fresheree that included "Ann Ellen" discussing her "uh ha uhha" theory on dragons, Medieval Knieval doing a broad jump, Morrison girls the morning after, a local psychiatrist's office, a reader theatre performing, "Fifty Ways to Leave Your Mother," and several other dynamic acts.

Once the evening had ended, Freshmen could breathe a nice satisfying sigh that they were now official members of the mainstream at NNC.

The old brick manor stood foreboding on the dark quiet side street. Suddenly a shriek of terror escapes into the frosty night air. The neighbors shake their heads in amazement. "It must be NNC's Junior Class Haunted House," one says to the other. Indeed it was the annual Junior class project. The House was opened each night from October 28-31, with each room of the three story house occupied by hideous inhabitants offering chill, thrills and gore galore. Those wishing to enjoy a good fright were ushered from room to room, up- and down rickety stairs, and through dark narrow halloween tunnels. It was great fun for both goblins and guests alike.

Spooks Night Out

LEFT CLOCKWISE: JACK-IE Bauer creeps up the stairs of what seems to be a rather innocent house. LITTLE does she know that Scott Cook has gone mad and is being chained inside, JIM Verity lost his head, and TODD Bledsoe, quite deranged, sits in a corner smiling while blood drips down his body. NOW what ever happened to Miss Jackie. These four: Rhea Bunts Sallie Weber, Heidi Kortman, and Elizabeth Martin will never tell.

Steve Camp,

Great Entertainment to Start the Year.

Steve Camp, after finishing an engagement in Europe provided NNC with their first live concert. His charm and wit put everyone in a good mood as he shared about his European experiences and his songs about Jesus. Songs consisted of both light hearted and serious messages, with titles such as "Under His Love", "Run to the Battle", and "He's for Every Man". The first half of the program was done with the help of his guitar strumming out lively tunes, while the second half had the help of a well played grand piano. "Don't be so wrapped up in the petty things of this world, but rather, take the time to love your brother", was the theme of the whole concert. Steve illustrated this point with a song about his own brother entitled "Bobby". Steve Camp's songs and sincerity touched home for many of those that attended the concert. -K. Calder

The Gaither Concert

Entertainment at it's best

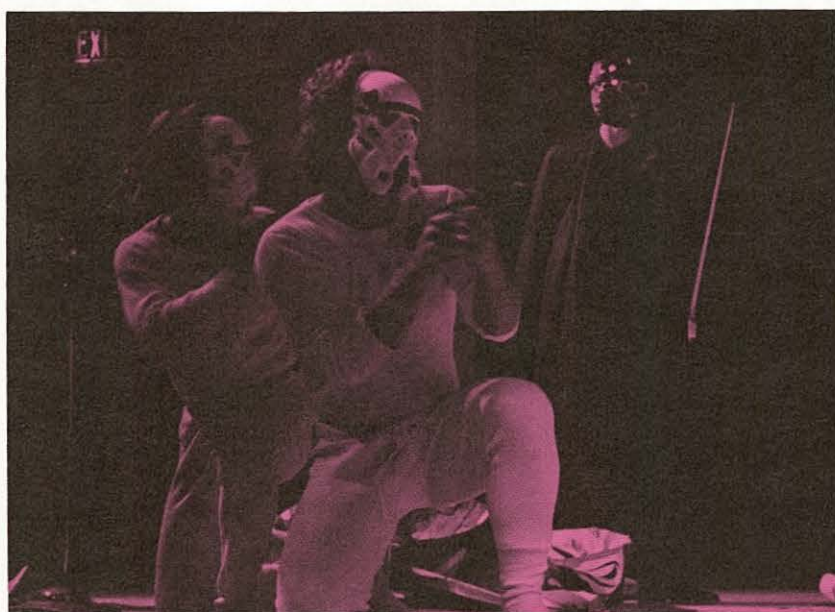

On Monday, Oct. 12, the Bill Gaither Trio, with the help of a versatile back-up band and guest vocalist, Sandi Patti, treated NNC to an inspiring evening of musical variety

The audience listened intently to a full program that featured the Gaither Trio singing some popular Gaither numbers, the new Gaither vocal band sang in four-part harmony, and Sandi Patti thrilling the crowd with her powerful, operatic voice. On the song "Jesus Loves Me", Patti showed her vocal flexibility by impersonating the voices of stars, Barbara Streisand and Karen Carpenter.

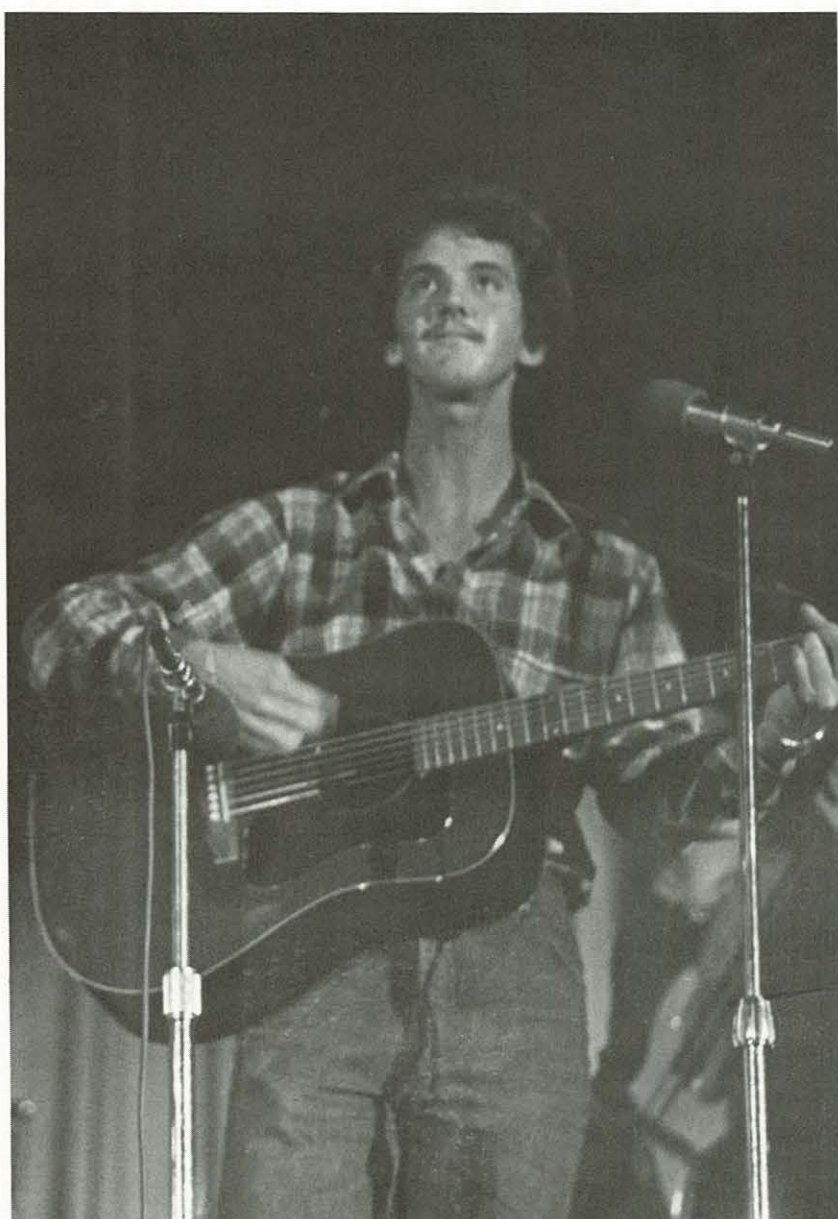

The Gaithers and Sandi Patti hold a kind of affinity for NNC since all three attended colleges of similar size. They let that bond carry them through a warmly received evening of celebration and praise.-R. Houser

FRIDAY NIGHT LIVE

ABOVE CLOCKWISE: BOB Nelson peeks into Brian Haley's lunch sack trying to escape the Peanut Butter and Jelly Syndrome; DARTH VADER and his storm troopers invade the stage; WHAT, Mark Bernhardt singing again, why of course; JODY Kammerzell and Lynne Cowley, "Tennis anyone?"; BRIAN Haley makes a quick change to a pyromaniac at large, (poor Barbie); BILL Bowers singing and strumming his guitar, (notice that starry eyed look).

Friday Night Live Lively Lives On.

Although a bit disappointed at the announcement that neither Robert Redford nor Jane Fonda could emcee the show, the audience in the Science Lecture Hall still responded gleefully to the introduction of the one emcee who could make the show - Keith Spicer. With Spicer leading the way this year's Friday Night Live (actually a Saturday night show) was a roaring success.

A large and lively crowd witnessed an evening of musical skill and comic variety. The stage where scores of lecturing professors have stood became the setting for four men to sing "Rubber Duckie," while sitting in a bathtub, a battleground for Darth Vader and Co. to contest the crew from the "Boobie-prize", and a place for congenial Mr. Rogers to give Barbie doll the beauty treatment of her life!

The lecture hall had become a place of laughter and applause, and the only point memorized by the students was the line of a frequently seen construction worker who at lunch time said, "Peanut butter and jelly! That hacks me off!"

The Solid Gold Cadillac

By Roger Houser, Photos By Garry Smith

The workings of a persistent old lady came to life before amused crowds as NNC presented the fall play, The Solid Gold Cadillac.

A little old lady, a former actress, named Laura Partridge (Angelique Kennelly) wreaks havoc when she attends the General Products Company's stockholder's meeting. Partridge, a holder of merely ten shares, raised questions about the large salaries of the board members, T. John Blessington (Del Gray) and Clifford Snell (Craig Rickett). To silence her, the board creates a position for her as "stockholder relations." Later, when Partridge learns of some scandalous doings by the company, she seeks the help of the company's former president, the boisterous Senator McKeever (Ron Keen).

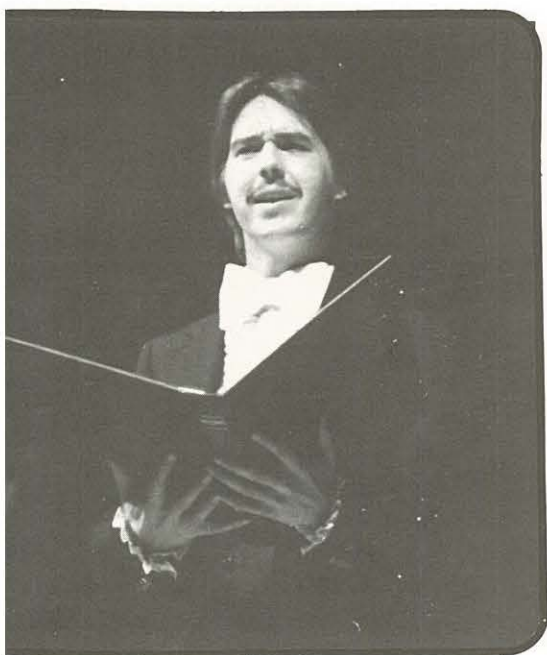

When things begin to look bleak for Laura Partridge, she and McKeever team together to foil the wicked Board of Directors and take control of General Products.

The Parasol Pageantry Of Homecoming

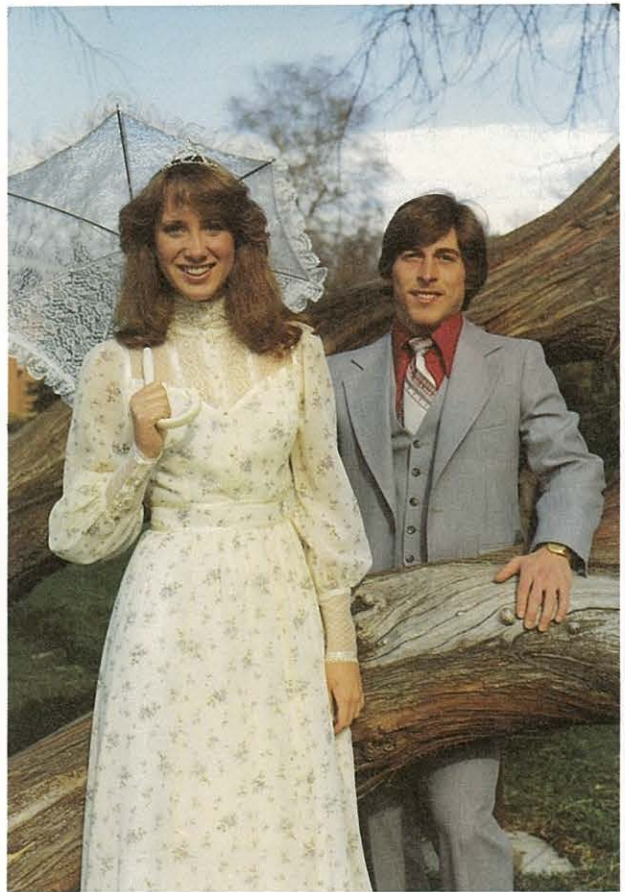

The queen's coronation took place just before NNC's game with Mid-America. Homecoming court princesses, Barb Wilson (Fresh.) Lynn Cowley (Soph.), Peggy Tate (Junior), and queen hopefuls, Tracey Crook, Colleen Bullis, and Colleen Beech, entered the gym by way of carriage, pulled by the Circle K honor guard.

Having been introduced by emcee Gamon Bennett, the court lined up to nervously await the climactic moment. Filled with delight at the suspense ending announcement, Colleen Beech stepped forward to receive the crown from last year's queen, Jan Galloway. Amidst joyful smiles from the other court members, and from the large crowd (particularly from proud parents who attended the affair). Colleen, with escort Dave Butkus, took a walk around the gym to curtsy graciously before the large homecoming crowd.

With the game completed, the homecoming court, with escorts, gathered once again, (this time in the SAGA dining room) for the queen's reception. - Roger Houser

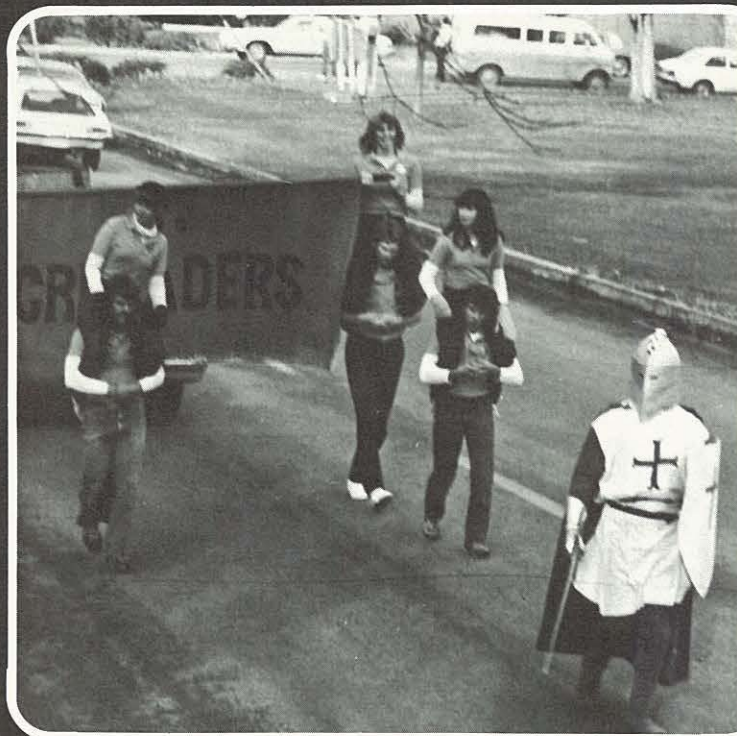

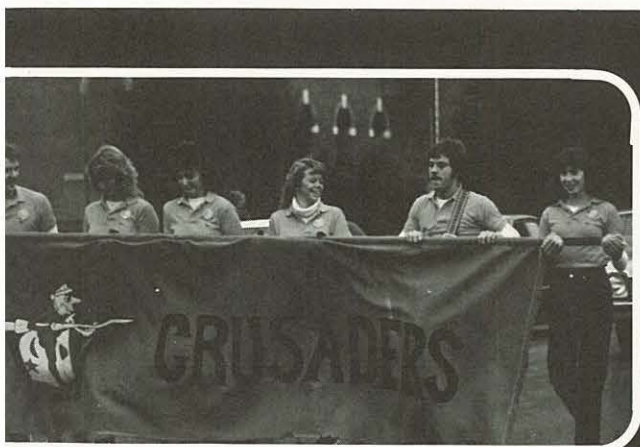

The Traditional Homecoming once again worked colorful magic over the crowded campus. Homecoming festivities excluded no one as the classes entered their floats in the gallant parade, and joggers of every shape and size ran laps on the track in the new Jog for Fun. Even the snow, not to be denied its seemingly usual place in Homecoming, temporarily blanketed the ground.

A little moisture and cold temperatures, however, could not dampen the warm spirit of the crowd. The splendor of Homecoming shone through again.

Horses and buggies were a typical scene in the Homecoming parade as were the class floats of which the Freshmen's float of a tall cowboy boot took first place. The alumni were there to enjoy the "down home," feeling, and the brand new freshmen who were a long way from home enjoyed the homy feeling too. Homecoming was great fun; indeed a Great Western Homecoming.

Kathy Herivel And Runner

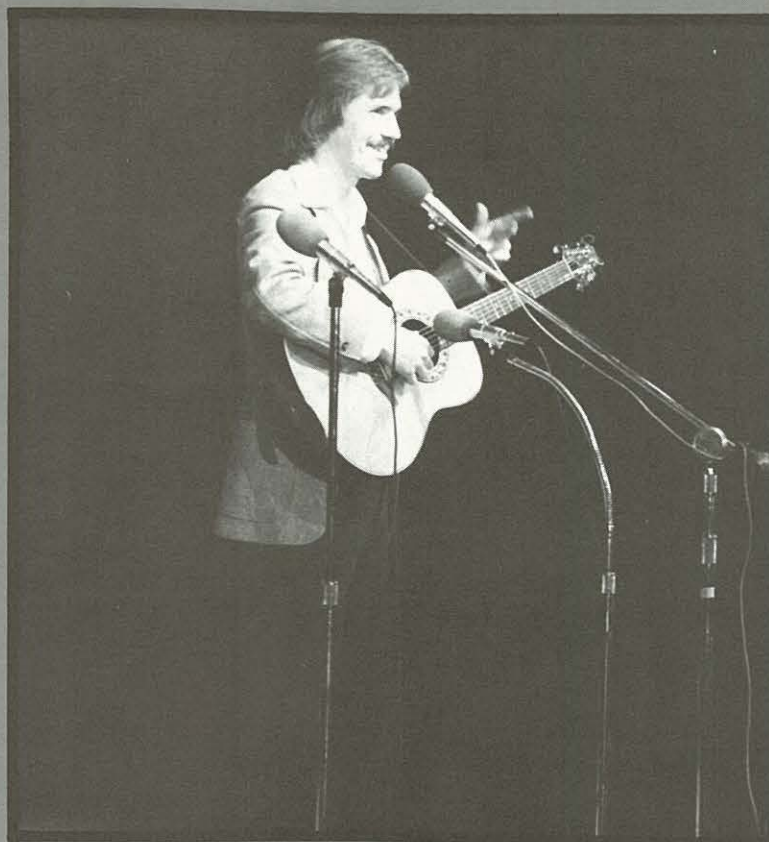

By Roger Houser and Kerri Calder
Photos By Engelbrecht

Guitarist Mike Hathaway termed the group, "Kathy Herivel and Runner," since only two members out of a possible five were present for the group's first concert at a college.

The newly formed group, however, were two forces strong enough to delight the NNC crowd with a simplistic, but heart warming concert. Backed by Mike's rhythmic acoustic guitar playing, his humorous comments, and his singing, Kathy Herivel attracted the attention of listening ears with her powerful voice as she sang her theme of Gods' love in such numbers as, "No Greater Love", "You Did it For Me", and others; many of which were written by her.

These former nightclub performers really captured the audience when they announced to a largely Washington crowd that they were from Seattle. Smiles could not be contained during this easy going evening.

David Meece

After pounding the ivories on a couple songs, one in which he performed his own hilarious back-up singing, David Meece quipped, "I want to thank Rent-a-Crowd for making this all possible."

The young singer quickly had the large audience roaring with laughter after telling stories about his brother and he growing up in Texas. Meece used humor and his keyboard talent, a skill he has developed since the age of five, to warm the crowd on a wintry evening.

Despite all the comedy, David Meece provided some serious moments through such songs as, "We are the Reason", "Dave's Prayer" (a song about a friend who suffered much tragedy), and "Everybody Needs a little Help". -By Roger Houser Valentines week found the NNC post office in a busy stir in attempts to keep up with the steady inflow of cards, letters, sweethearts, and secret admirers of near and far away locations.

The Sweetheart Banquet on Feb. 12, served as a perfect and peaceful climax for this week of affection. Sweethearts and friends gathered in a colorfully decorated SAGA dining room to partake of not only a delicious steak dinner with all the trimmings, but also a full evening of entertainment.

"Touch of Jazz," an NNC group, filled the air with relaxing dinner music, and the brother-sister duo of Greg and Sue Woodruff added more musical variety by singing a few touching numbers.

Besides music, the program included some humorous poetic readings by Craig Rickett, and was concluded with Terry Smith's light but humorous devotional about love.

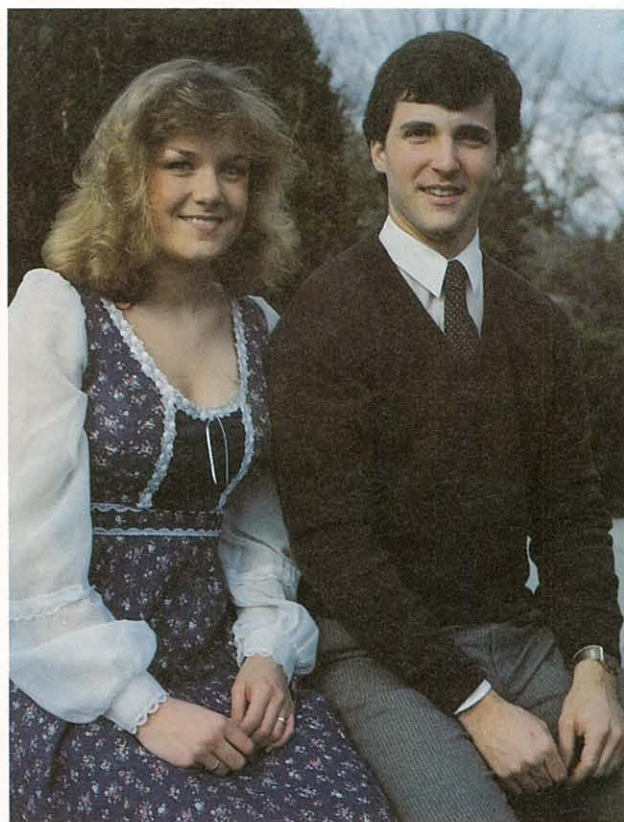

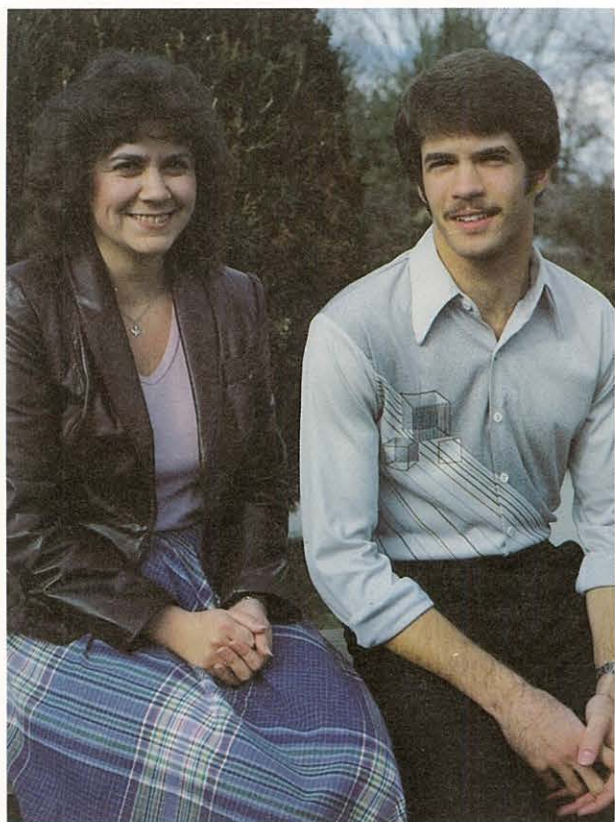

Reflecting upon the well-balanced evening, Senior Sweetheart Doug Rotz stated, "I thought this years banquet was the best that I've been to. It had such a relaxed atmosphere!" Said the Social Vice-President, Dana Michal, "It went over very well." For those who attended, few would disagree. -Roger Houser

Benny Hester Live

On Friday March 12, Benny Hester, with the strong support of a four member band, thrilled an NNC audience with an electrifying concert. Hester and band, providing smooth guitar work, and some effective synthesizer which served as a sound effect device on one song, and added much spice to other numbers. They energized the crowd with creative songs such as, "Come Back", "No Man's Land", "Nobody Knows Me", "Real Change", and others.

Although the energy level was high, Benny Hester, who kept a humble stance and said, "We are not a bunch of hot stuff from L.A.," provided time for spiritual introspection as he talked with sincerity about his life and the lives of others. He capped the evening with, "Solid Rock", which put a very fitting finish on a moving performance.-Roger Houser

Bridge,

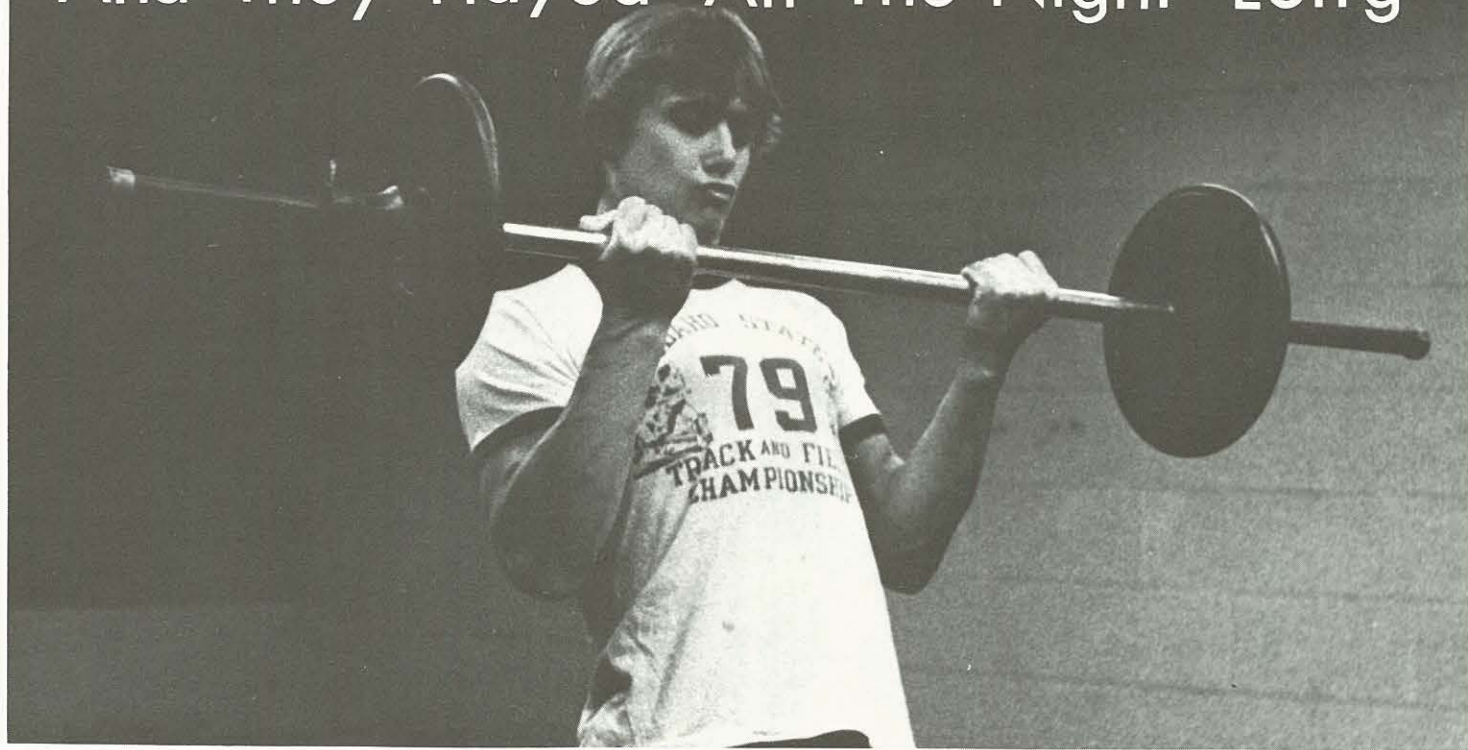

Songs for the Young and Old

The popular group Bridge rolled into town on April 20, to present a full evening of music in Montgomery Fieldhouse. Supported by six musicians, some of which composed the rhythm section to others which composed the brass and woodwind section to give a bit of a big band sound. Five Vocalists sang a variety of songs. Bridge not only performed a medley of re-arranged traditional church hymns but also sang popular contemporary numbers such as, "Stand Up" (by the Archers) and "Sail On" (by the Imperials). With its lively instrumentation and variety, the group provided an evening of concert that appealed to both young and old alike. -Roger Houser.

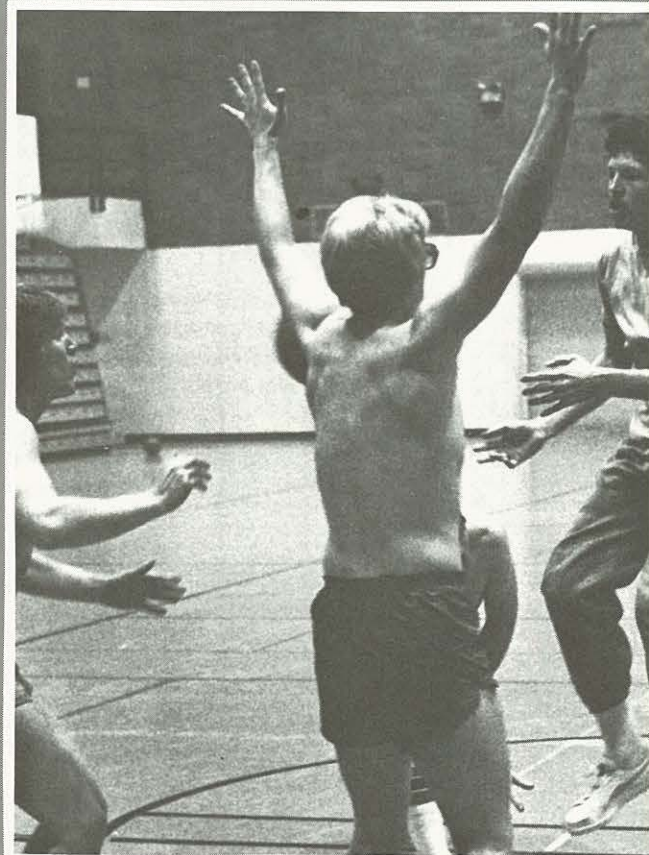

And They Played All The Night Long

As a means to assist the March of Dimes, Circle K tackled an imposing project by sponsoring and participating in a Sweat Fest. The event, which began directly after the girl's basketball game on Friday, January 29, went for twelve hours, eventually ending on Saturday morning.

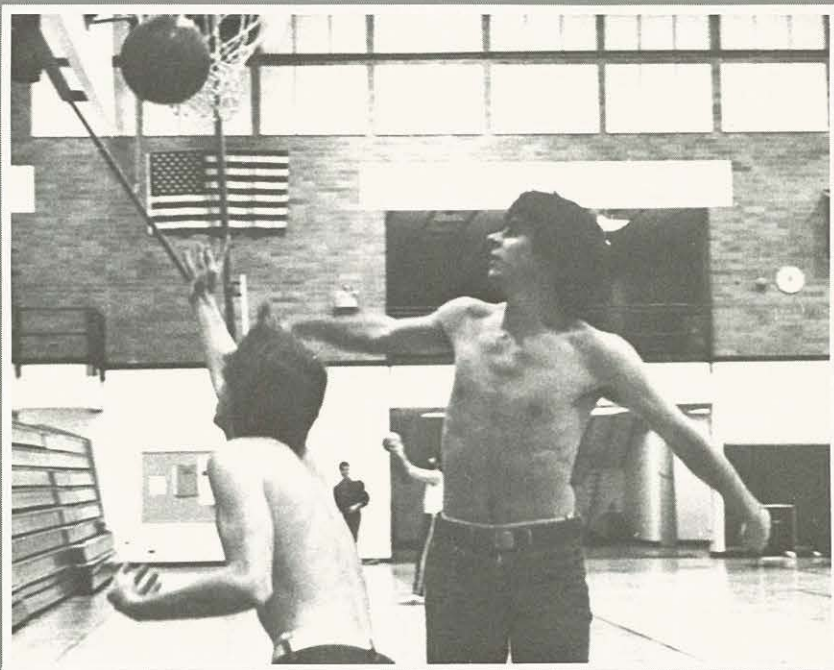

Circle K members found themselves in an endurance test as outside teams and individuals, who paid designated amounts of money for certain hours of play, competed against Circle K in such sports as basketball, volleyball, and racquetball.

After the marathon of events had passed, the persevering Circle K participants were as President Del Gray sighed, "Dead tired." Yet, despite their haggard condition, they were satisfied that they had worked for a good cause. -Roger Houser

Senior Slick

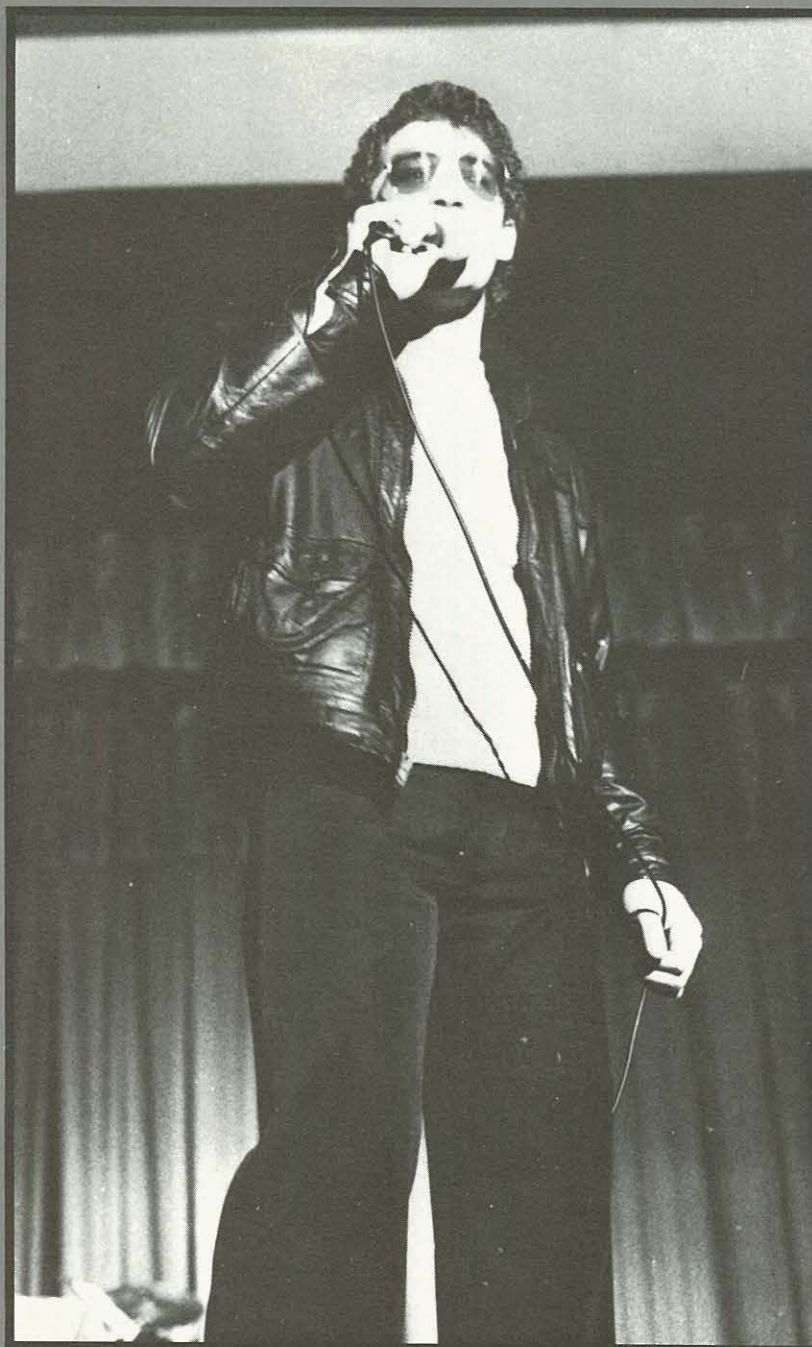

On the evening of January 31 NNC quickly flashed back to a 50's craze.

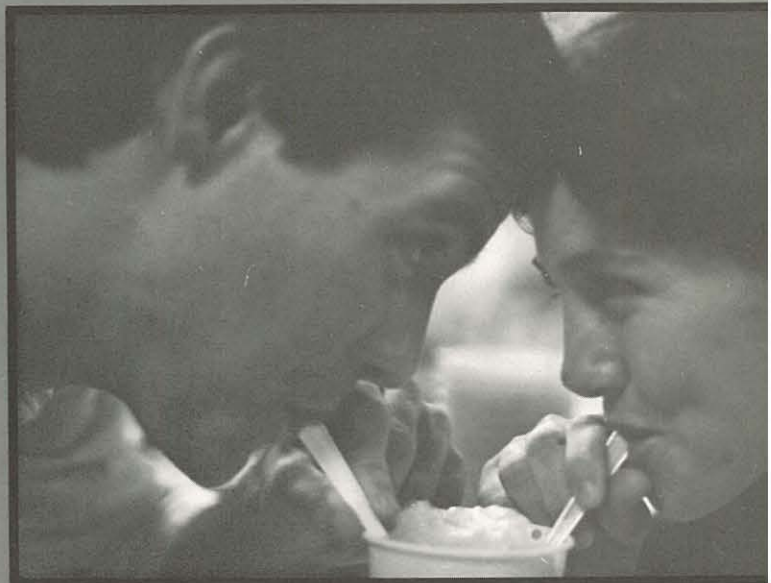

Decked out in their own versions of 50's fashions, students bopped into Montgomery Fieldhouse in striking assortments of styles. To be in vogue this night one had to sport greased or bobbed hair, rolled up straight legs or baggy pants, long skirts, blazing red lipstick, or even nerd styles of clashing colors and prints along with high pants of flood expectant dimensions.

The nostalgic frenzy carried on strongly throughout the night as multitudes began hurried exits from the basketball game to get in line for this year's Senior Slick. A capacity crowd of anticipating slickers soon reveled in excitement when the show got into full swing. Giving the traditional show a new "twist," Craig Rickett acted as disc jockey in a booth to the side of the stage. Besides humorous announcements and commercials from the dj and others, the Slick featured slides of older days at NNC and individuals and groups who performed such golden tunes as "Hound Dog," "Why do Fools Fall in Love," "Chuckie's in Love," and "Boy from New York City." Also included in the show was a special performance by the Splatters, a group which included three basketball players fresh from another victory.

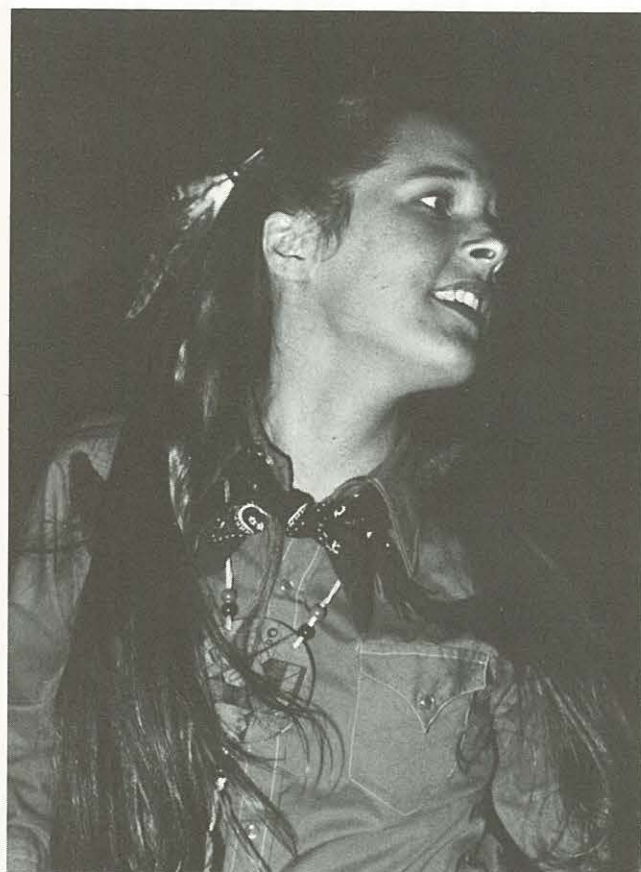

The show complete, students rockin' from the musical vibes strutted over to the Senior Soda shop for some refreshments. Before long slick enthusiasts would find themselves in a de-greasing process, but the memories would live on (at least until mid-terms). -Roger Houser

"Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord!" That was the opening line of this year's Junior class play. GODSPELL, a jubilant celebration of the gospel as told by St. Matthew, exploded with joy, color, and the teachings of Jesus Christ. An appreciative audience filled the science lecture hall, and an encore performance was required. GODSPELL will live forever through the lives it changed and the people it touched.

MALIBU 82

The sun finally decided to show its face, and on May 22 students of all shapes and sizes abandoned their term papers and donned summer apparel. Heading off the festivities was the skim board competition, followed by the frisbee throw and water balloon toss. The classes competed against each other in the volleyball contest. A real Malibu-style Volkswagen cram added to the spirit of things, and a few students had muck kicked in their faces during the tug-o-war.

Following the games, spectators and participants took a supper break as SAGA provided an outdoor picnic. The crowd was entertained by the Elijah Drain Boys, the Cheeseheads, and other musical talents at the evening show.

After a very full and exciting day, all returned home to the books, with a few sunburns to remind them of Malibu '82.

This year's Kicker Night started off with a bang. Circle K's annual western-style show featured many aspiring singers and actors. The NNC puppet team introduced such quality groups as the Elijah Drain Boys and the Mandrell Sisters. Lisa Hoyle asked the musical question "Have you Never Been Mellow?" While Rhea Bunts sang of her "Desperado." All of the would-be cowboys and cowgirls seemed to enjoy themselves, and rode off into the sunset feeling entertained.

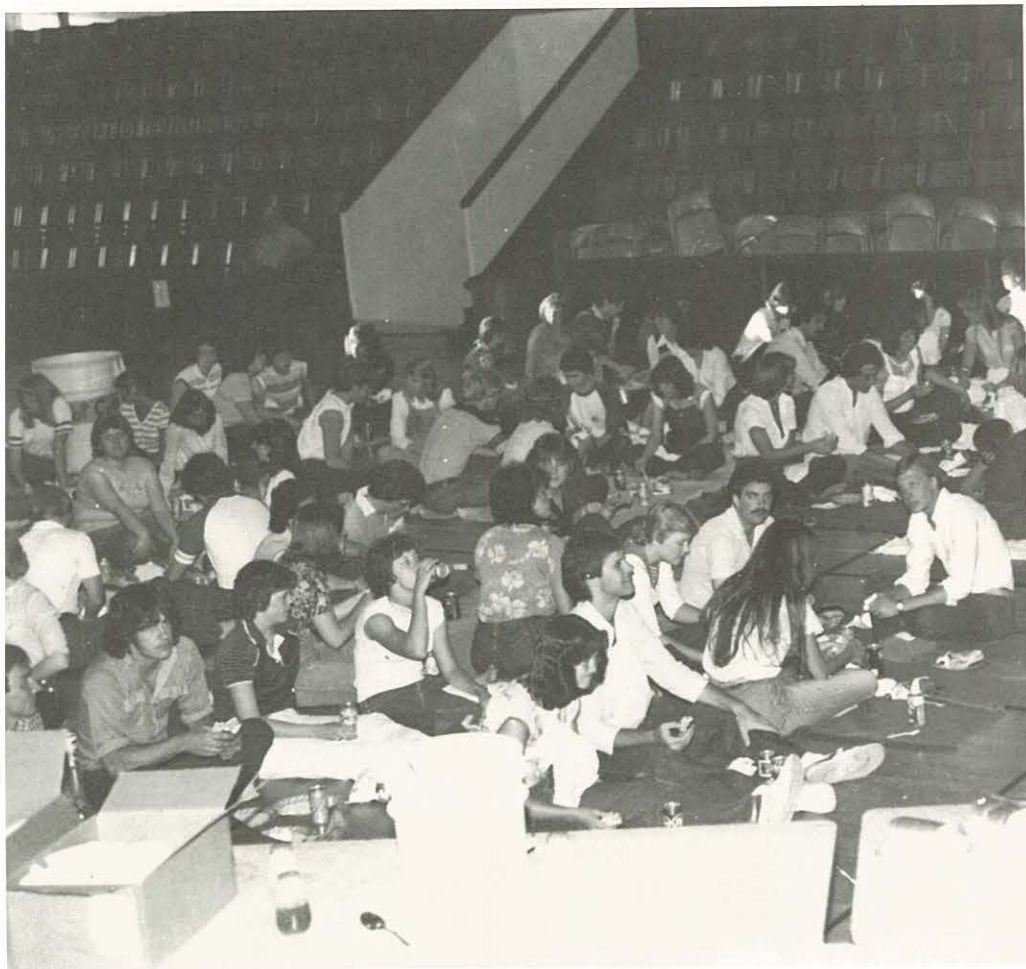

Blue Jeans Bash

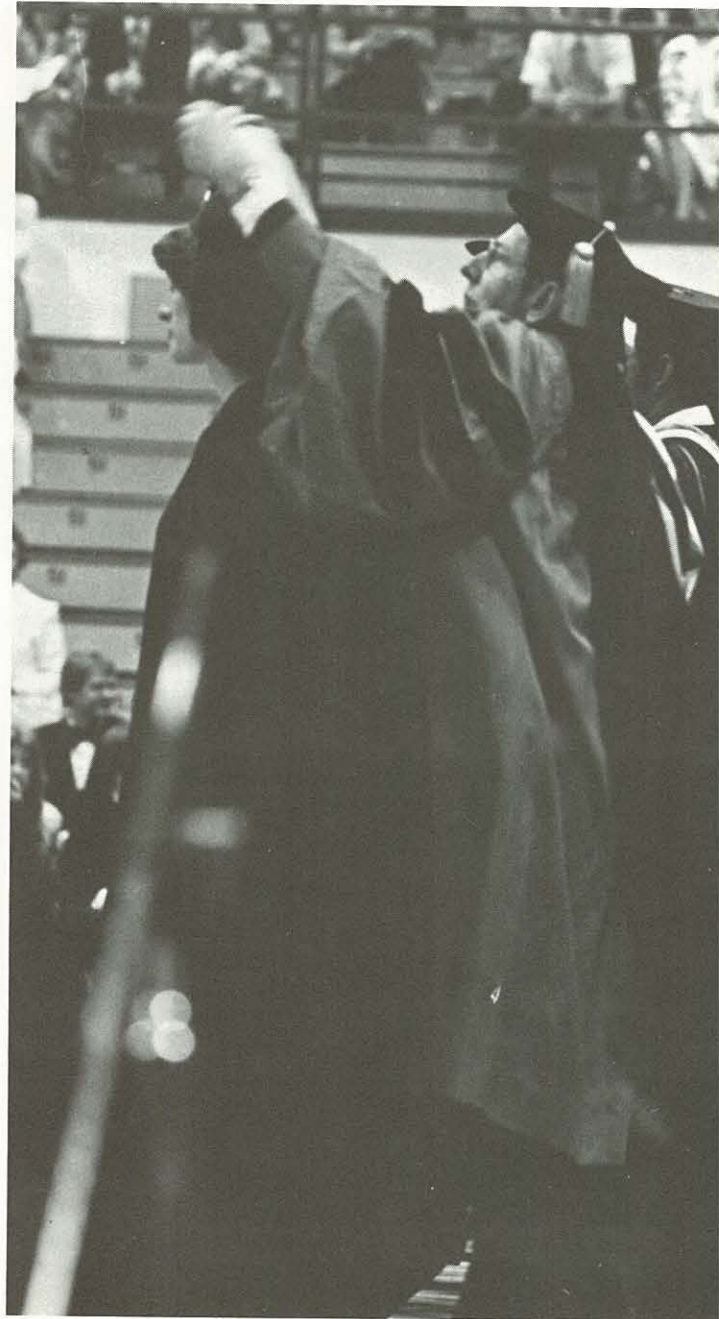

Clad in comfortable blue jeans, ravenous students converged in the gym of Central Elementary School to feast upon portions of six foot Blimpie sandwiches. To add to the enjoyment of the delectable dinner treats, the NNC summer traveling group "COVENANT" sang a few numbers. Soon, featured entertainer, Steve Pennington, a puppeteer and magician, made his presence known and felt through his honking horn and squirting gun. Pennington kept spirits high by performing with puppets and involving certain audience members by having them imitate various animals (costumes provided) in the song "Old McDonald Had a Farm."

On this evening, students felt the pleasure of full stomachs, pleasing entertainment and joyful fellowship. -by Roger Houser.

June 13, 1982 Graduation!

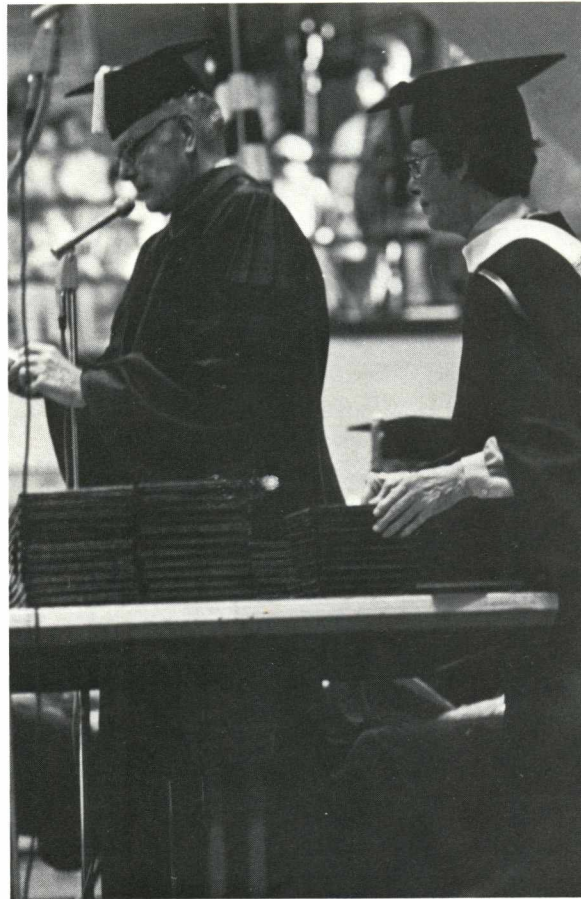

A day anticipated, a goal reached, a dream fulfilled.

To continue to dream, to fear the unknown, to hope for the future.

A sense of foreboding and yet the pride of past accomplishment giving way to undaunted zeal and confidence for the future. "I can handle anything!"

Can I, really? I worked hard, struggled, floated, and many times let down, but I made it.

Four years and I have succeeded in accomplishing that which I set out to do.

No longer the security of college—what now?
Loneliness, a let down and tearful good-byes to those I love so much.
Yet, we share in a future, influenced by NNC, strengthened by God and relationships, destined to be an instrument of the Creator.

The Beauty of the Sagebrush

by Louise Robinson, 1920

Reprinted from the 1917 OASIS, Volume I

We have named our school paper "The Oasis." The name might well be applied to the Boise Valley, situated as it is in the midst of the great western desert; and it might equally well be applied to the Northwest Nazarene College, here in the land of the sagebrush.

Just as God uses the water in the desert to transform the dust and sand into a beautiful garden-plot, so he is using this school as a channel to send living water to hungry, parched souls, and to change the stony barren hearts to garden plots where grow the beautiful flowers of which God only has the seeds.

To me, there is something wonderful about the desert and the sagebrush. I love to wander far out in a level stretch of gray-clad plain, until I am alone with God. Its vastness makes me think of eternity, and as the cool morning wind whispers through the branches of the straggling brush, thrilling my entire being with a strange emotion, I like to think that God is using the little shrubs as His messengers to tell the story of His undying love for me.

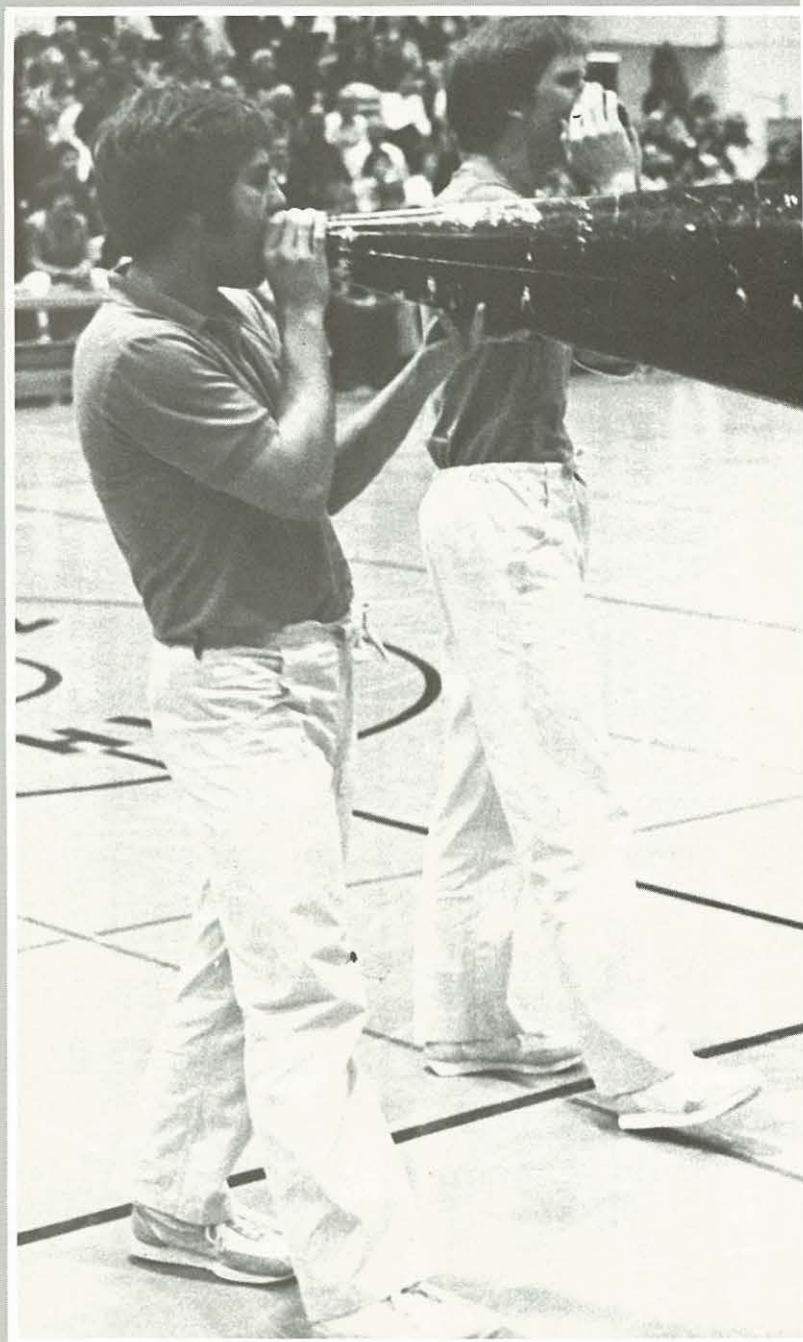

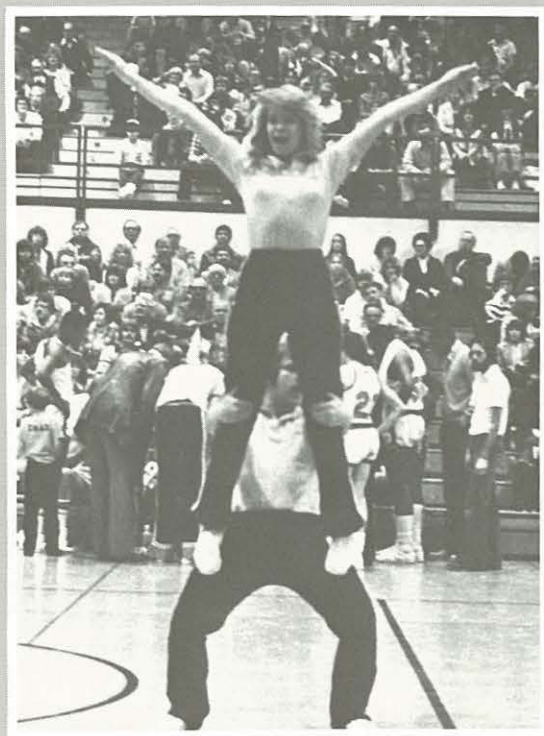

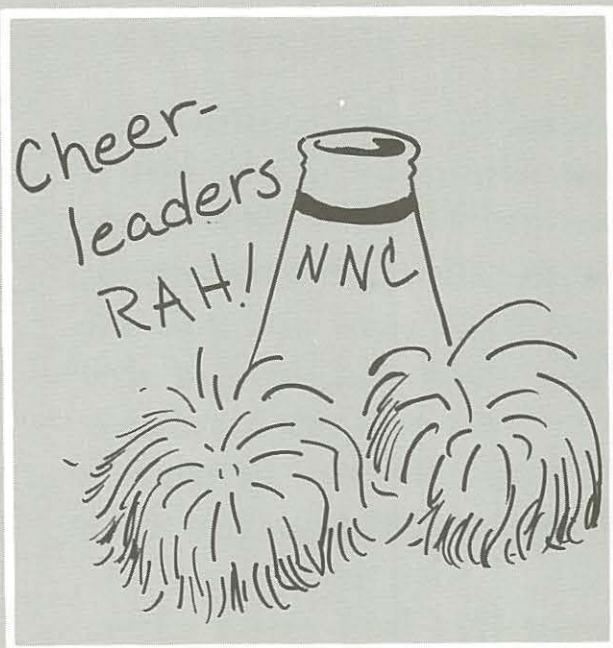

As the sun slowly emerges from its hiding-place and throws his golden rays across the measureless heavens, it lights up every clump of sagebrush. Every branch is bedecked with a million sparkling diamonds, and my heart cries to God, "Was ever Solomon in all his glory arrayed like one of these?"

Again I stand in the same field at noonday and the June sun beats its hot rays upon my little friend, the sagebrush, but it stands erect as a soldier in battle—a soldier who has never known defeat. And I cry, “O Lord, make me like the sagebrush, unflinching, unyielding!” I look at the gnarled root and I think of the root that Isaiah tells us of - “the root out of the dry ground,” and which, like the sagebrush, “had neither form nor comeliness;” and like it, was despised and rejected of men.”

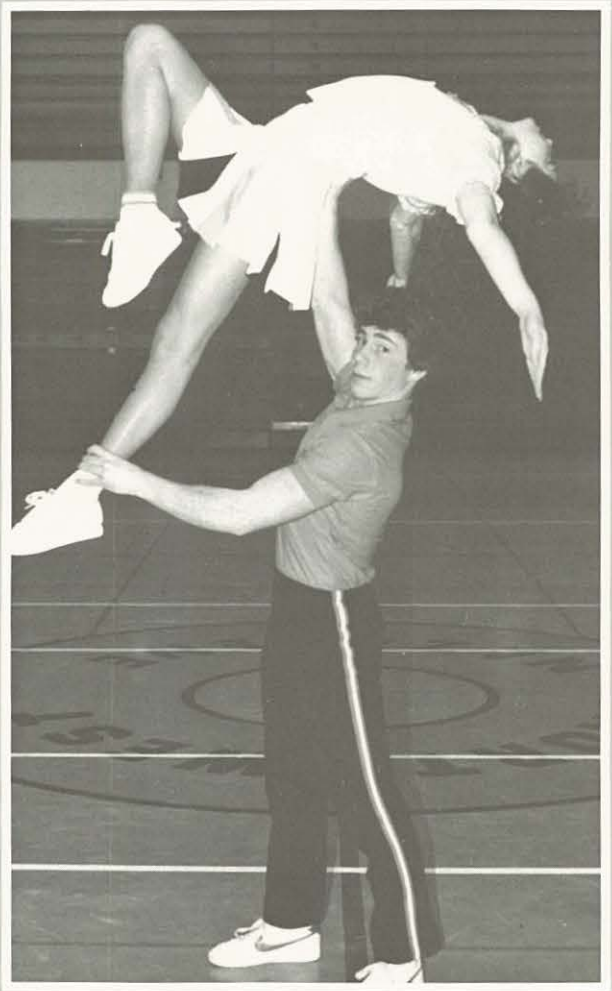

Again, when the sun disappears from sight and his last lingering rays light up the western sky, I like to watch the blush steal over the somber grayness as His last good night kiss sets all the plain aglow. Now, it sounds as if the soft winds were singing a lullaby to the little shrubs at my feet. Presently the whole world is lost in slumber, and no sound breaks the stillness of the evening air, save the far-off call of a coyote prowling on yonder neighboring hill.

The darkening shadows close about me until I am the center of a vast, mighty dome. Then, I consider God’s heavens, the work of His fingers, the moon and the stars, which He hath ordained. And I ask with the Psalmist, “What is man that thou art mindful of him? And the son of man that thou visiteth him?” Then I feel the presence of the angelic hosts, and I hear a sweet voice say, “As I was with Moses so I will be with thee; I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee.”

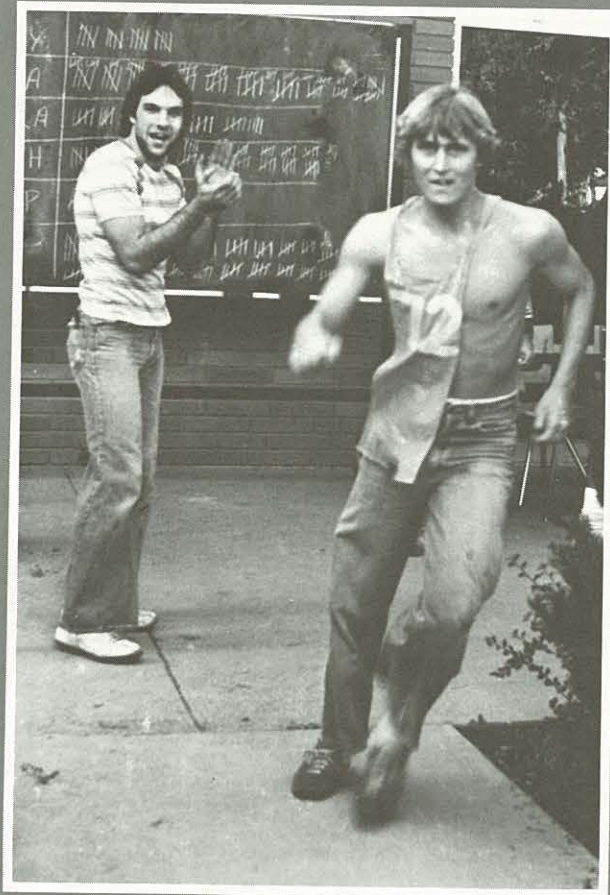

I go home with a firmer tread and a greater determination to do His will, for my soul has received a new touch and my heart leaps for joy because the great, mighty God of the universe cares for the little sagebrush and for me.

Intramural Competition

This years intramural competition was won handily by the tough SPARTANS. The ATHENIANS weren't to far behind in second followed by the OLYMPIANS in third. LSP finished fourth while ADP and SLA wound up fifth and sixth in the society race for the cup.

The intramural program here at NNC is designed to allow participation in sports for all students interested in improving their personal health, skill, and social development through recreation.

President Pearsall

One of the most ardent supporters of the Christian education that NNC offers is none other than President Pearsall. Expressing his commitment to the NNC ideals, he writes, "Every effort is being made to urge our students to seek God's Kingdom first and to realize that hard work, discipline, self-denial, sacrifice, commitment, loyalty, and service are vital to the Christian lifestyle." In his occasional chapel appearances, the tall, commanding man at the helm voices with strong conviction the school's motto, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God." After reflecting upon his own college experiences of trials and triumphs — experiences that enable him to understand students' academic, athletic, and spiritual strifes — President Pearsall encourages students to follow the school motto whole heartedly.

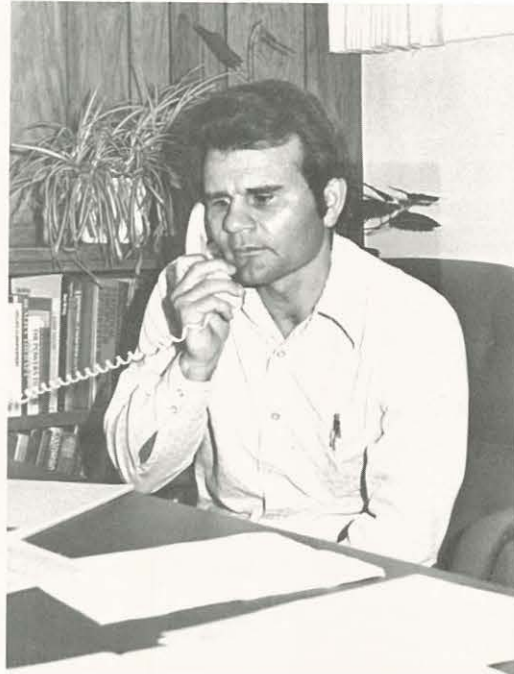

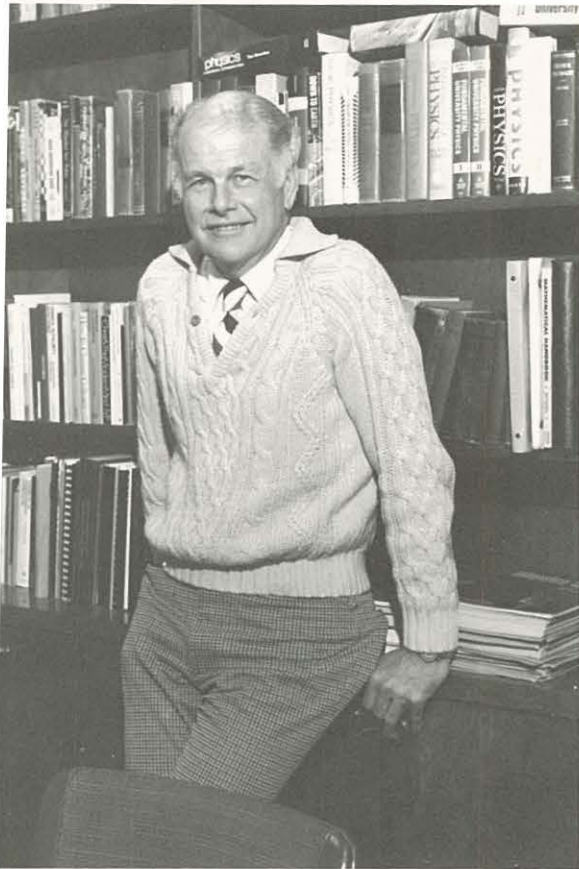

This year President Pearsall had the opportunity to represent NNC and its ideals abroad. On a one month sabbatical, President Pearsall, accompanied by his wife visited Australia and New Zealand. His agenda involved him in teaching two weeks at the Australian Nazarene Theological College in Thornlands, Queensland and speaking at the school's opening convention. He also visited Australian cities of Brisbane, and Sydney and spoke in five different churches. To complete this one-third of his sabbatical, President Pearsall toured New Zealand for a Week.

Whether near or far away, President Pearsall is a vocal advocate for NNC and its goal to produce highly educated people in a Christian setting.

Philosophy And Religion

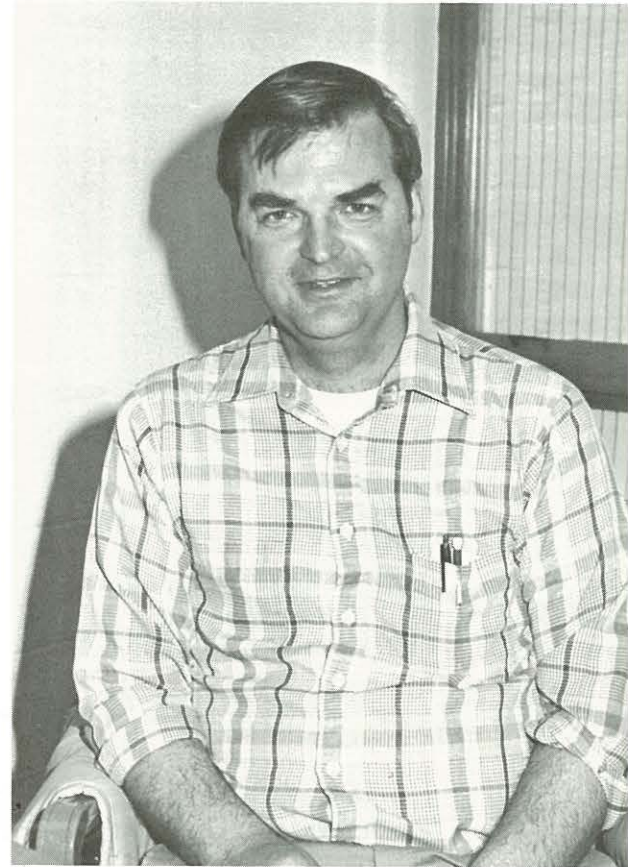

Being Chaplain for 1300 students is a job that requires something special. It takes a genuine concern for every student to give a unified spirit to the campus. This concern can not come only from one person, but it takes one person to generate it. Hal Poarch has an open, honest attitude toward the students, and it is that attitude that generates the concern for one another. We see that concern as we walk from class to class, as we eat in Saga and as we worship in chapel. When you meet Hal somewhere on campus you'll see the evidence in his special personality. Without that friendly smile and encouraging "Hi," the campus would survive, but that feeling of unity wouldn't be quite the same.

Experienced Team takes on Division I

The 1981-82 Field Hockey Team took on top competition this year from larger schools but gained valuable experience from it. The lack of Division II teams led the Crusaders to take long road trips and play against many larger Division I teams.

Even with the record of 7-13-1 Coach Jean Horwood believed the team looked stronger than NNC's previous year regional champions. "In many ways, I feel we were stronger this year. We played strong defense early in the season and the offense seemed to come along by the end of the season."

Much of the Crusader's experienced play this year came from six seniors - Dana Freeborn, Genevieve Koch, Peggy McMillan, Deanna Olson, Carissa Wilfong, and Karen Winters.

The 19th nationally ranked Crusader Soccer Team captured its 1st NAIA District II Championship. A determined and gifted group of seniors displaying will drove NNC to its first regional contest against Simon Fraser. It was the team's first regional play ever.

Team play sparked by numerous individual talent blended to produce NNC's success. Essa Gaye, second nationally in assists, set the clubs pace from his center half position. The 12th leading scorer in the nation, Brian Wheeler, struck from the left wing to balance the 18th placed defense led by Academic All American Goalie Jeff Hanway. Talented freshmen with depth completed the teams final touch.

Coach Art Horwood won recognition with his championship team in receiving NAIA District and Area Coach of the Year. An impressive NNC soccer machine has set the precedent for the future.

Harriers Run . . .

With no returnees from the previous year, this year's cross country team predominantly consisted of young runners—four freshmen and two seniors.

Despite the team's inexperience, Coach Paul Taylor stated optimistically, "one thing is sure in distance running; if you work hard and run many miles you will get better." While the squad of six failed to reach its goal of placing in the middle of the pack at districts, the team definitely saw some improvement.

The team placed eighth at the season's end. Senior Roger Houser, coming on strong at the end of the season was NNC's first finisher at the district championship.

Freshman Phil Jones, NNC's second finisher at districts, was the team's first finisher throughout most of the season.

Finish Season Winning

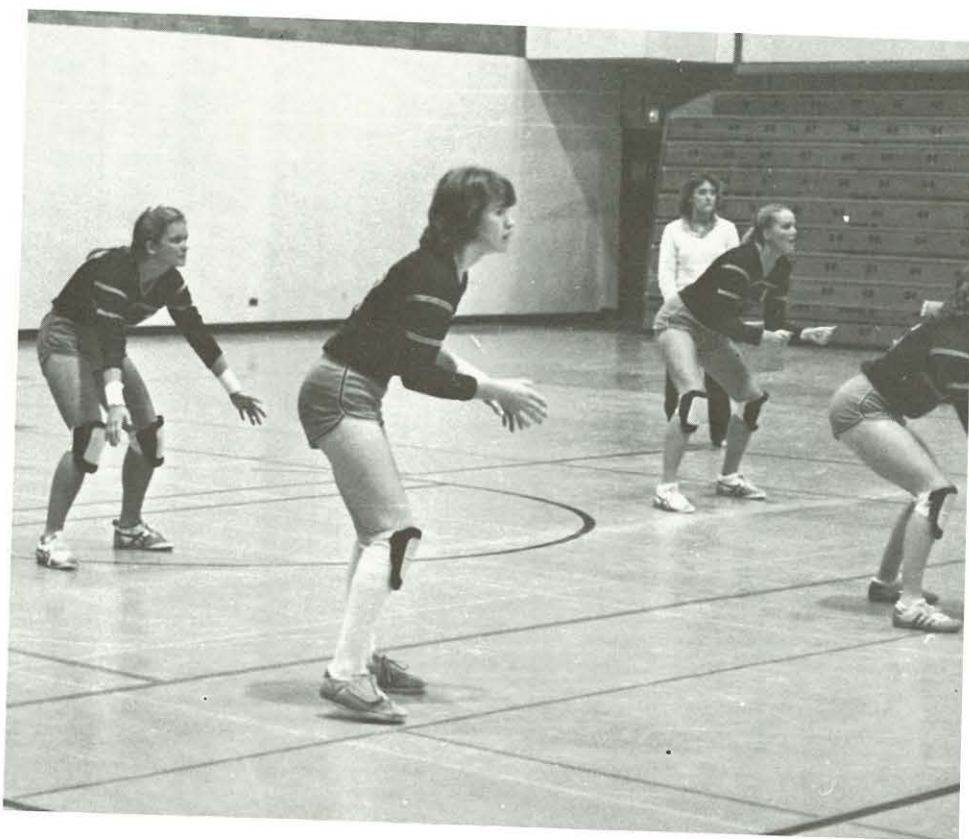

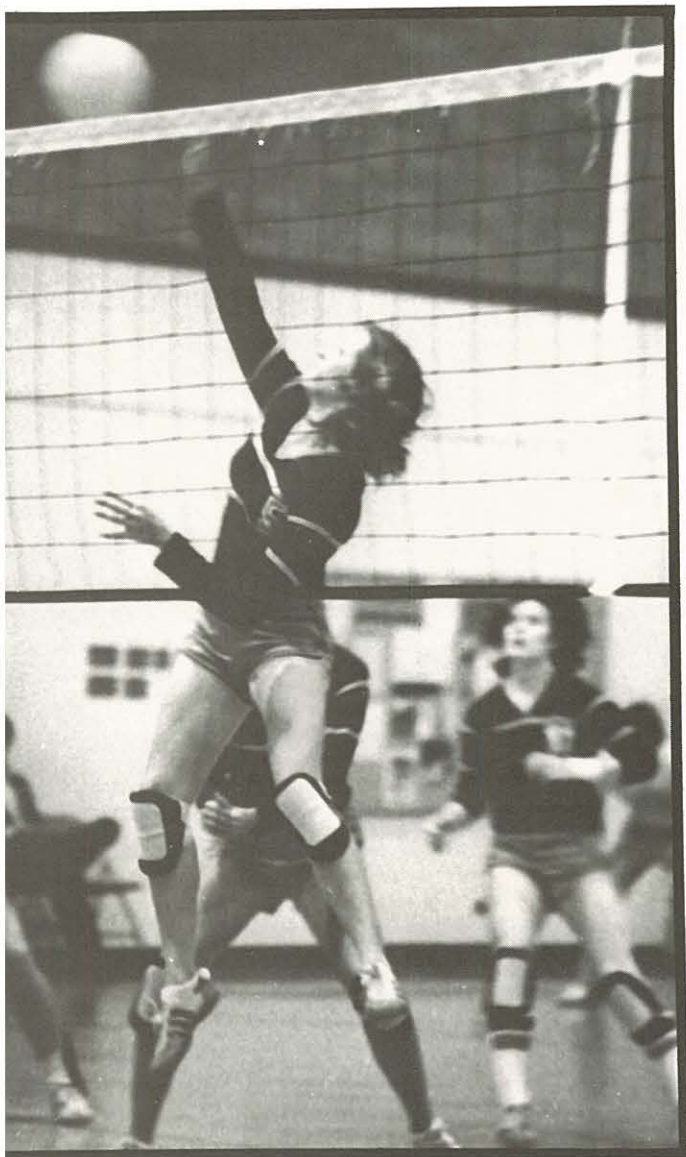

The NNC Volleyball Team experienced a season of ups and downs with things looking mostly up in the final few weeks. Throughout most of the season the team played with a definite disadvantage - the team's tallest girl only measured 5-10, short by competitive volleyball standards. The girls often found themselves overshadowed at the net.

The team faced another big disadvantage in that they had to play all their league games in the first half of the season. First year coach Michelle Cates noted, "I do know that we would have given the entire league a tougher time of it if we had played them all later."

With hard work and lots of heart the Crusaders gave a lot of teams a tough time in the closing stretch.

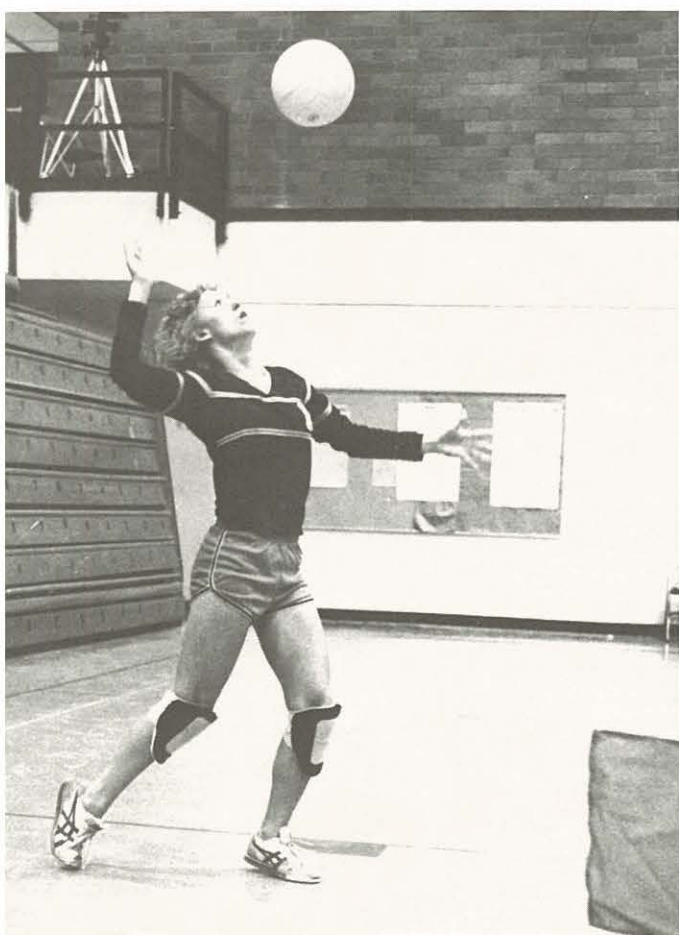

The bright spot of the season came when the team won five of their last ten matches to finish the season with an 11-25 mark.

Although never sporting a full squad (partly because of injuries), NNC's grappler's still displayed some individual and team strength. The Crusaders finished the season in dramatic fashion by placing sixth at districts which included four nationally ranked teams.

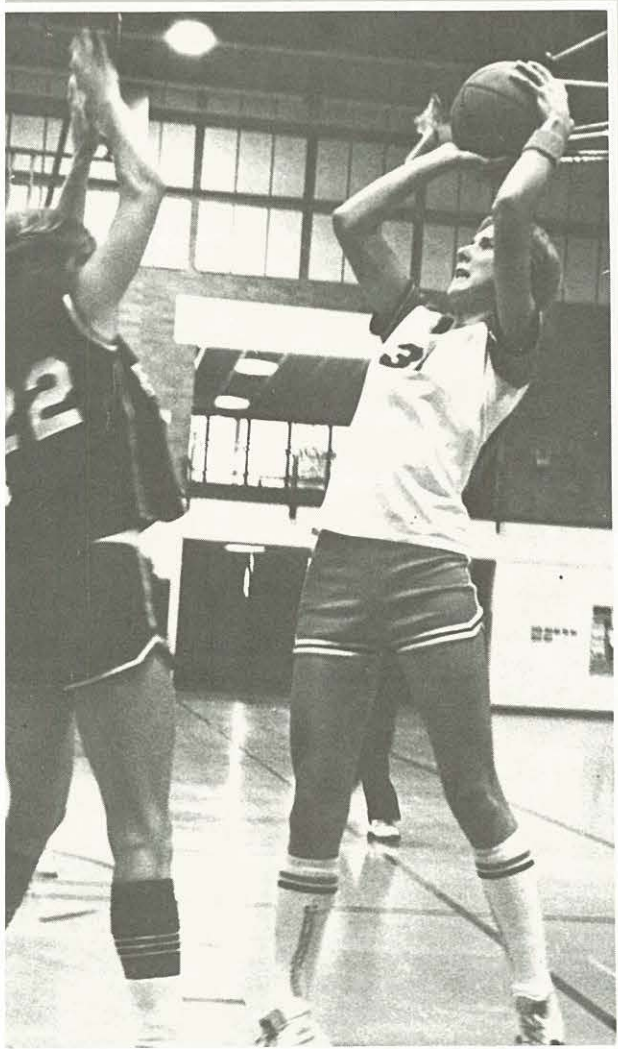

Leading the way for NNC was Mike Hicks (142 lb), who not only compiled a 20-4 season record but also became NNC's first ever district champion and All-American by virtue of a seventh place finish at nationals.

Giving further support to the team was Dean Carlson (167 lb), who placed fifth at districts and also qualified for nationals. The team showed a lot of individual and team improvement in a season that included a snow bound experience which kept the team from a tournament. This was a special year.

Woman's Basketball

The Women's Basketball Team went up against stiff competition and played many larger division schools this year. Without the advantage of outstanding height (the tallest girl was 5-10), the Crusaders ended the season 12-16.

Shelley Johnson sparked the offense with a new school record of 513 total points and a new school field goal average of 18.3 points per game. Shelley also set three new school records for individual games. The highlight of her sophomore season came when she scored 38 points.

Team captain Peg Hoover led the team in assists with 77. Peg filled a vital part as team leader and was the only three year lettermen on the squad.

Becky Hammond finished the season with the top field goal percentage of 66%, while Linda Grim proved to keep her cool on the line and led the team in free throw percentage with 65%.

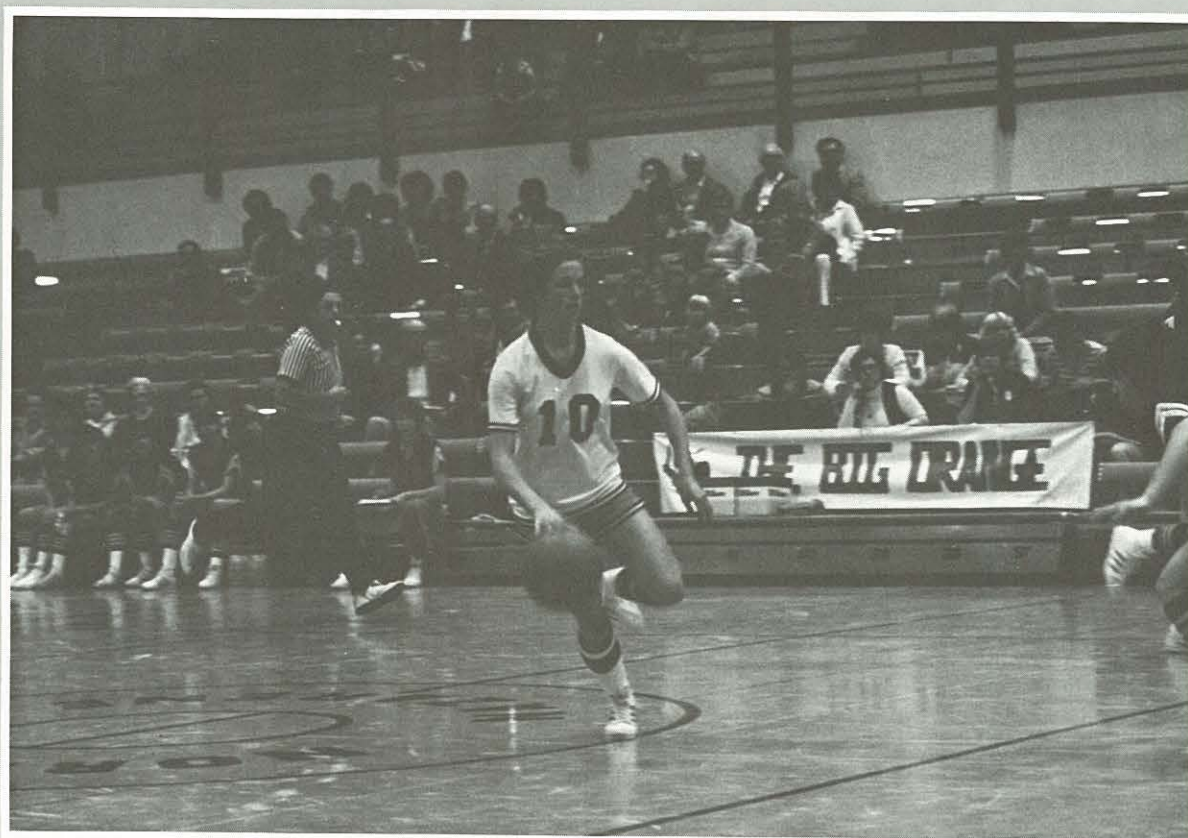

Since only two team members will be list to graduation, the future for the team looks very promising.

NNC Basketball

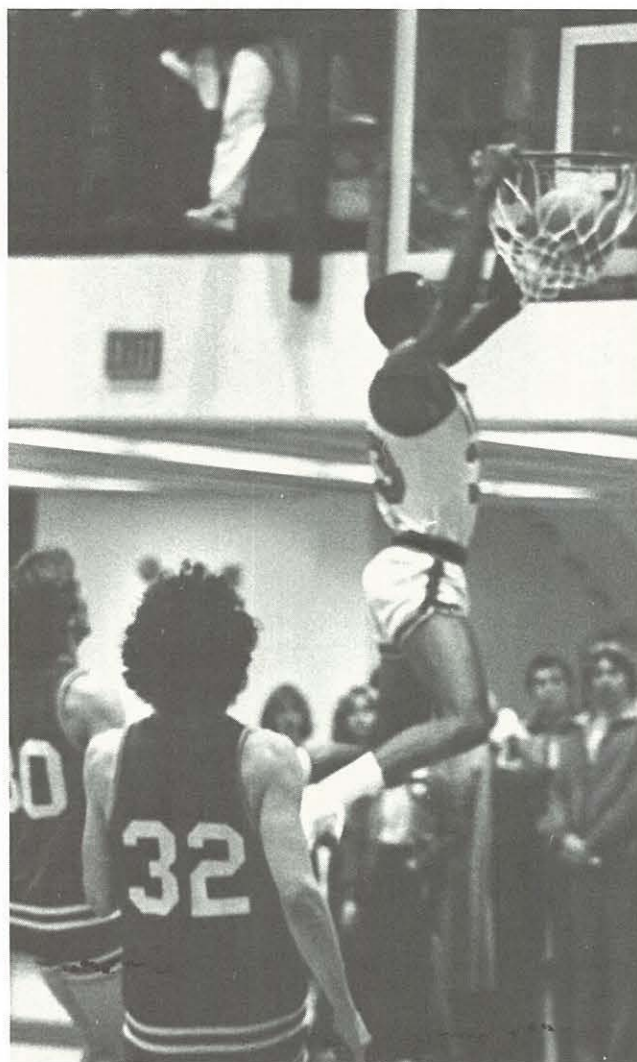

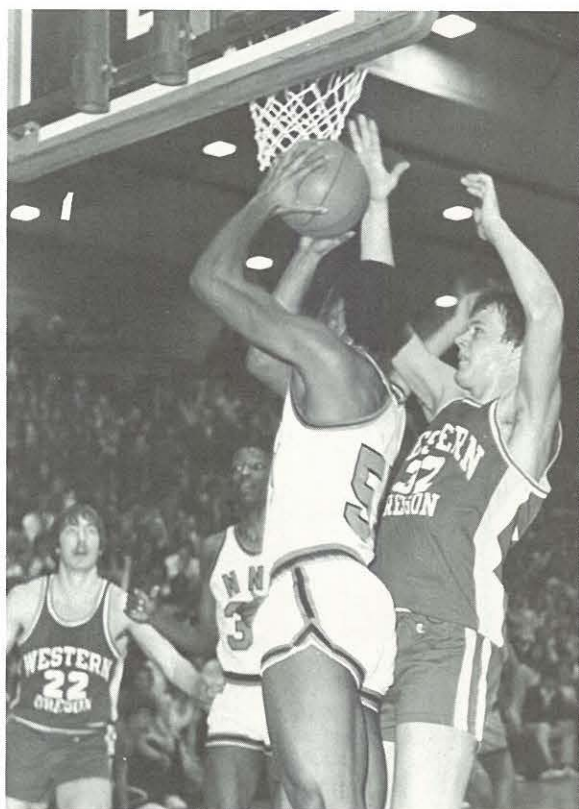

The 1981-82 Men's Basketball Team had their ups and downs this season, but came out ahead and finished with a winning record of 17-13. Even though the Crusaders played good team ball, many team members were honored for their individual efforts.

Mike Terpstra was named to the District II All-Star Team. He also led the team in total points with 532 and rebounds with 241.

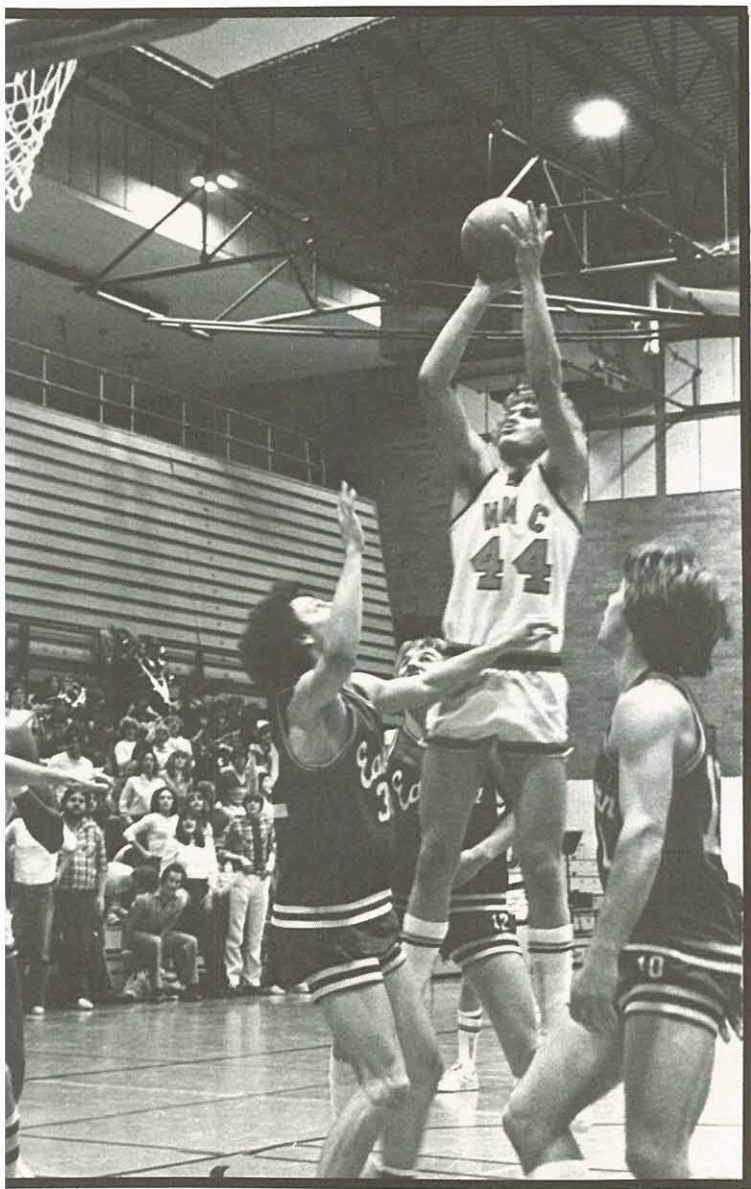

Senior Eric Forseth finished his college career playing 103 NNC games and was named to Region 7 All-American Academic Team. Eric filled an important role as team captain and his leadership was felt at all times on the court.

Daryl Crow's free throw percentage of 85.7 for the season was the highest in District II and the third best percentage in NNC history. Just behind Daryl was Dan Tristan who finished with a free throw percentage of 84.7. Tristan also ended the season with an impressive 145 assists.

The team field goal percentage of 49.3 was the highest for a season in NNC history. The Crusaders made the playoffs for the fifth consecutive year and the sixth time in seven years since Terry Layton has been head coach.

The Crusader Baseball Team closed the season with a respectable 20-22 all around mark and 16-19 record against NAIA competition.

Sophomore Widd Medford was selected to the NAIA District II All-District team. That makes him the first NNC player on the district first team in three years. Widd was also honored as Most Valuable Player, along with Best Hitter with a .367 average, and ended the season top on the RBI (runs batted in) chart with 29.

Senior Captain Eric Forseth pitched his way to a top season for the Crusaders. He ended the season pitching 7 wins, 4 losses.

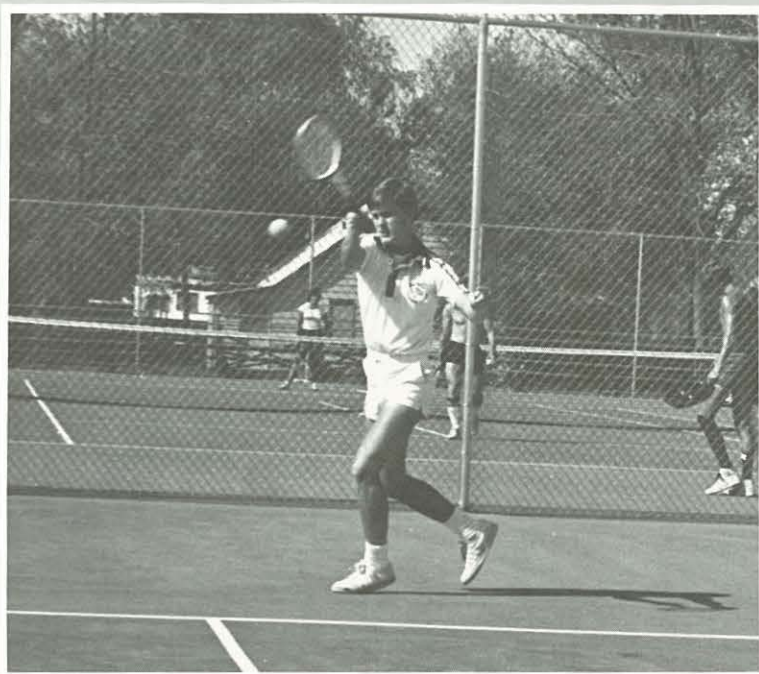

Dave Malpass was awarded Most Improved while Scott Martinez who batted .304 on the season, was named Most Inspirational. Catcher Troy Johnson ended the season with the highest average for the team with an outstanding .400 at the plate.

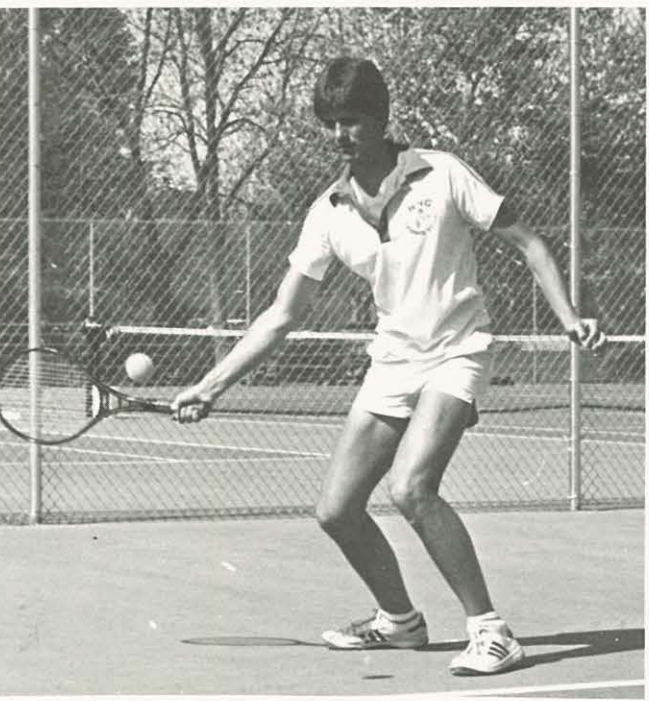

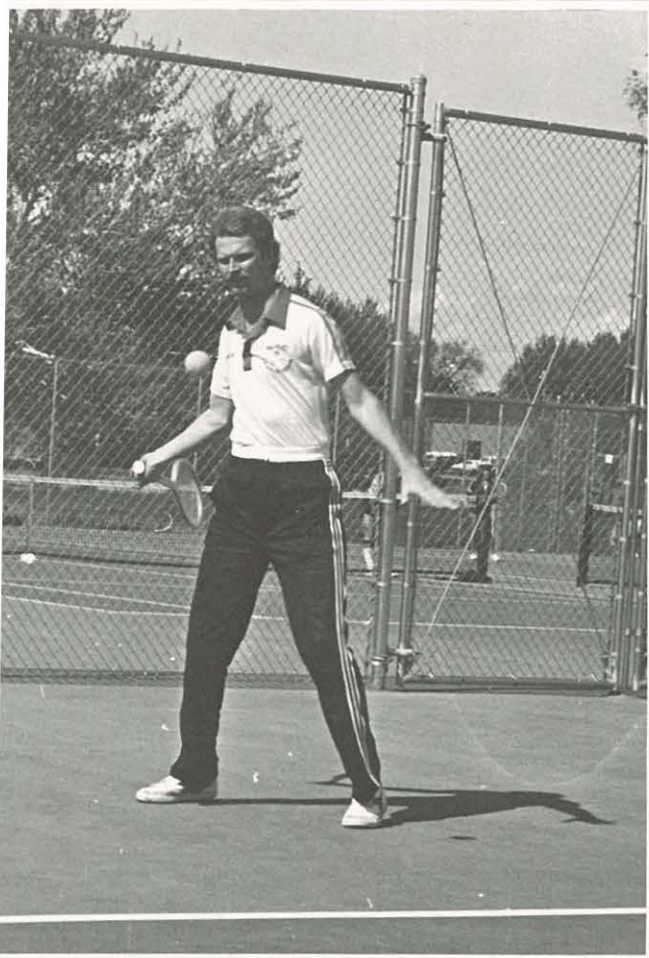

Men's Tennis

The men's tennis team finished the season 4-9. They traveled to various matches, some against large universities and gained confidence from tough competition. Jeff Pfeifer was awarded Most Valuable, while Gary Sackett was honored as Most Improved. Team captain for the season was Terry Hanson.

Brad Noffsinger summed up the season by saying, "As I think back on the season it resembled a running race. A race ran with discipline, courage, and commitment. A race ran with vigor and the determination to win. Yet never losing sight of our purpose for competing, that of representing our college, family, and God."

Womans Tennis

The womens tennis team experienced an up and down season this year. They lost to some tough teams while smashing BSU 6-3. Another highpoint occured when the women netters trounced Gonzaga 8-1, and also defeated Willamette 5-4.

The women netters closed out the season by hosting the regional competition. PLU won the competition handily from amoung eight teams. NNC pulled out three victories that day. Barb Christensen summed up the season with this, "We had our share of wins and losses, but it was a season in which we learned a lot."

Tracksters set six new records

The women's track team sprinted to a super season breaking six school records and coming home from Nationals with a first place. The 4 x 100 relay team of Robin Johnson, Kellie Bohannon, Shana Galloway, and Antonette Blythe turned the circuit during semi-finals at 48.7 seconds and went on to win Nationals. For their efforts this year, they became All-Americans - the most All-Americans on a NNC sports team at any one time in school history.

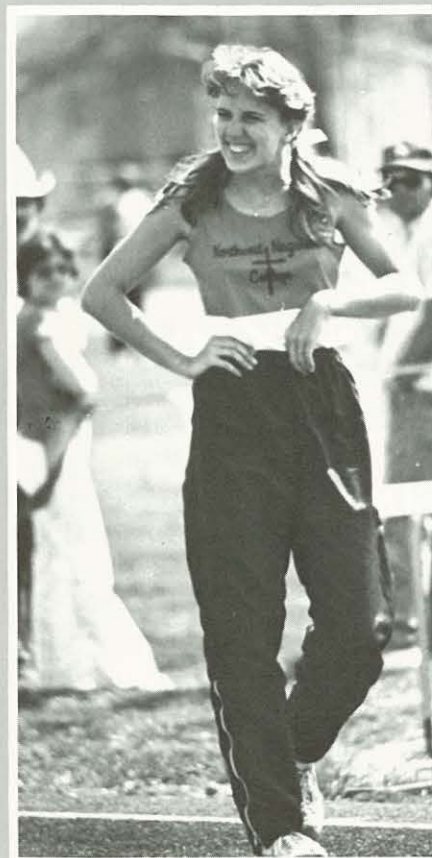

Antonette Blythe broke NNC records in the 100 meters at 12.07, and in the long jump. She broke her own long jump record by better than a foot at 19'2". At Nationals she took second in the 100 meters.

Johnson, Galloway, Bohannon, and Lorry Wirth broke the 4x400 meter relay record by setting a time of 4:08.3.

Team captain Robin Johnson, running the event for the first time during the season broke the mark in the 200 meters by recording a time of 25.76.

Freshman Sandy Early set the other school record in the discus by throwing a 129 foot effort.

Antonette Blythe was awarded Most Valuable while Shana Galloway was considered Most Improved on the team. Kellie Bohannon was honored as Most Inspirational.

Mens Track

This year's small and youthful squad of tracksters, coached by Paul Taylor, performed respectably during the season. A team of nine placed sixth at the District meet in Ashland, Oregon. Freshman, Don Discus, took the triple jump, while (freshman) Mark Unicum placed 2nd in the pole vault, and (senior) Daryl Winston achieved 3rd and 4th in the 100 and 200 respectively. Earlier in the season, (jr.) Dave Saranto broke his own school records and qualified for nationals with his 2nd place finish in the district decathlon.

At the national meet, Saranto competed against 19 other decathletes. Saranto suffered a devastating fall in the hurdles—a fall which cost him points that could have placed him 5th or 4th but he still managed a 14th place finish. Throughout the season, individual and school records were set. In terms of individual improvement, Coach Taylor termed the season a success.

After having put in over two hundred and fifty hours of work as well as hundreds of hours by the staff, the 1982 OASJS is completed.

Many times throughout the past months I have been able to relate to the following statement made by a previous editor "It has been an experience, and yes I'll say, a privilege to serve as your editor. I wish the job on no one, and yet I wouldn't trade my experience for anything."

There are many people whom I would like to thank for the time they spent encouraging and supporting me in prayer during this time. First, thanks to the staff for their cooperation during the transition period and for their work in the final days. I have appreciated the way that you all pulled together. Also I would like to thank Dr. Culver, Miss Helen Wilson, Ray and Barbara Lindley, Jerry Hull, Dr. Paul Miller and Norm Loll for the positive comments and the guidance that they have shown through the production of the book. I would like to also extend a huge thank-you to my wife Sue for the patience that she had during these times.

All in all, this has been quite a year to be remembered. A good one at that! I've never felt a part of anything so deeply - NNC means a lot more to me now. Friends are made forever and these are people I will cherish. But not just a handful of people made this book - all of us at NNC made the OASJS, for it is NNC, and we are NNC. My thanks to you, I hope you feel the 1982 OASJS is a reflection of you and your years here - together.

Thank you for the opportunity to serve you as the 1982 OASJS Editor
