NEW SUPERVISOR OF THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Our many patrons will be glad to know that Mrs. Coral Osborn Young has accepted a position at N. N. C. again. She will be Supervisor of Teacher Training work in the college; also she will teach a five-hour course in Methods and have ten hours of Supervisory work for student teachers.

Mrs. Young has trained teachers in four Normal Schools, Moorehead and Winona, Minn., Valley City, N. D., and Cheney, Wash., she also has taught in the University of Kansas. Mrs. Young obtained her degree from the Teachers' College, Columbia University.

During these summer months Mrs. Young is conducting Summer Normal courses in Nampa. The class attending consider themselves very fortunate to have the privilege of availing themselves of the fine courses she is giving. We feel that it is a splendid asset to our college to have a training department under so capable and efficient a head.

Students and graduates who aspire to teach, and who take advantage of this department will thus save themselves the necessity and expense of taking Normal training elsewhere before being able to teach.

AN INNOVATION IN THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Thinking people of today are not blind to the advantages of a private school conducted with the same advanced methods of teaching as are used in the public schools. The more personal attention and closer supervision together with the proper moral and spiritual atmosphere, count not a little. In addition to such advantages the Elementary Department of N. N. C. will include, this year, a systematic Bible study course. The course will be given by Mrs. Rhoda Wallace, an efficient, experienced teacher.

Mrs. Wallace will continue in her position as Dean of Women, which position she has held for the past five years, but has resigned from her position as Matron of the Women's Dormitory. She is well equipped for her work in the Elementary school having taught for many years in Oregon. She was at one time the President of the Multnomah Co. (Oregon) Teacher's Association. Later Mrs. Wallace successfully conducted a Bible school at the Sellwood Nazarene church in Portland, Ore.

This summer Mrs. Wallace is taking a Summer Normal Course under Mrs. Coral O. Young, who is to be Supervisor of the Training School.

THE CAMPAIGN

(The following letter is from Miss Mildred Bangs, a member of the College Quartet which is touring the Northwest Educational District in the interests of the College. Dr. Wiley is also traveling with them and is conducting the summer campaign. The quartet is composed of John Mandtler, William Penner, Minnie Hess and Mildred Bangs.)—Ed.

Yakima, Wash., July 14, 1925.

Greetings from the College Quartet—

You may be interested to know a little of the adventures of your quartet since they started on their summer trip. Surely if variety is the spice of life, then, we cannot complain. In fact, we were kept wondering from moment to moment what would happen next, and the unexpected always happened. We have returned to the coast where we are in meetings with Rev. Bona Fleming; much wiser indeed but perhaps no sadder, for "all is well that ends well," and we are all well and happy, in spite of the experiences of our "checkered career" in an Overland touring car.

We started from Nampa June 8 with Mortlach, Sas. as our destination.

On the way we held a meeting with the people both of Twin Falls and Pocatello and God richly blessed us and gave us a very profitable time.

NAMPA, IDAHO

Entered as second class matter, November 23, 1921 at the Post Office at Nampa, Idaho, under the act of August third, 1912.

Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized May 25, 1923.

Editorial

This number of the Messenger will conclude the editorship of Glenn Wallace and Calvin Emerson, who have had charge of the paper since last October. Mr. Wallace is to be engaged in school work as Superintendent at Star, Idaho, so feels that he should now say farewell to his Messenger audience in favor of his coming busy year. Mr. Emerson is also giving over his work with the Messenger to go into other fields of labor. Their successors have not been named. The editors wish to thank the friends of the Messenger for their kind indulgence during the past months and trust that under even more able leadership the paper may become a greater factor in the upbuilding of Northwest Nazarene College.

New Dress Regulations

At a recent faculty meeting the following dress regulations for all girls attending the Northwest Nazarene College were unanimously adopted:

Dresses are not to be worn low in either front or back of neck.

Sleeves must be full length, or four inches below elbow.

Skirts must be of modest length.

No extremely thin or flesh colored hose are to be worn.

Thin dress material may be used only if under-slips are provided.

Bobbed hair is prohibited. If any who attended N. N. C. last year cut their hair during the summer months we do not expect them to register for the coming term. Those who plan to enter this Fall who have bobbed hair may do so providing they keep it in nets until of sufficient length to handle otherwise.

Professor R. H. White, of the college faculty, left recently for the summer session of the University of Chicago. He expects to receive a Master's degree from that institution this summer. We have been very glad to have Professor White as one of our instructors and those who attend school next year should feel especially fortunate in having him as a teacher.

we drove through a corner of Yellowstone National Park, on our way to Canada, and scanned the woods for bears, which we heard held up cars for peanuts, but not one did we see.

June 11, Thursday: Montana students, please excuse any remarks about your highways but they were brought so vividly to our attention we feel impelled to speak a few words. We entered Montana during their rainy month, much to our sorrow, for we found nothing but "gumbo" roads, so slick and sticky we could scarcely keep our car in the road. The rain beat down upon us in a most merciless manner and we were as wet as drowned rats, for our top leaked like a sieve. Still we were as happy as we could be and were thankful it was not worse.

June 13, Saturday: We have finally reached the Canadian line and crossed about 7:30 P. M. We had been following a so-called highway for several hours which consisted of two ruts cut in the prairie grass and which led sometimes zigzagging through a dozen sections, then out beyond the section into the vast prairie with not a house in sight, not a tree, not a living thing but prairie, prairie, prairie, as far as the eye could reach. I must confess a very lonesome feeling stole over me and sometimes I felt a catch in my throat especially as night settled and strange sounds of unfamiliar birds and small animals began to fill the air. If those two slender ruts should suddenly disappear would we ever find our way out of this lonesome land?

After we had crossed the border a few miles we found our trail led us through a low boggy place. Miss Hess then laughingly remarked, "Wouldn't it be funny if we would get stuck and all have to get out of the car and pull off our shoes and stockings and push the car out." We did not know how literally this was to be fulfilled, for not five minutes after, as we pulled through the soft place, down went our wheels into the gumbo and stuck fast. All efforts to pull out were in vain for the wheels only spun and sunk deeper until our running board was setting on the ground and we could go no farther. Darkness was fast falling and what we did we must do quickly. Our starter was dead and we had lost our crank, so we had to leave our engine running, while we pattered around. We remembered that we had passed a house about two or three miles back so hoping to find assistance there we turned off our engine and John Mandtler started out for help. The only help we could muster was a long pole with which to jack up the car, but it was so late we could do nothing that night, so we decided to wait until morning. It was cold, oh so cold, for the rain was pouring down, and we had no blankets in which to wrap. We opened our suitcases and put on everything we could to keep warm and then climbed back into the car, supperless and dead tired. Yes, we actually slept for about three hours and as dawn had come we got out and started to lift the car out of her hole. A little stream flowed near by and from this stream, we girls packed pebbles and pounded them under the car while the men jacked it up. Then Dr. Wiley started out in another direction in search of a team. After a space of about three hours he returned with a kind Russian who not only had a team but a bottle of milk and some sandwiches. I want to say that no chicken dinner ever tasted any better to us, for we had had no supper or breakfast.

We enjoyed our meeting in Mortlach with Brother Jay very much. Although the camp was not largely attended, God was very near and gave us souls for which we praise Him. The Canadian field of opportunity in the Master's vineyard is truly great and our hearts go out to God to see several strong holiness churches established in this needy field.

We spent a couple of days in Winnipeg, Manitoba, and surely blessed days these were, for the Spirit of the Lord was there and blessed both people and workers. We fell in love with our Canadian friends and hope to become better acquainted. We noticed for the next few days that Mr. Penner was trying to get the Canadian "twist" to "about, house" and "now."

I will not mention the trip through the western part of Minnesota, about gumbo roads, rain, detours, mud holes, etc. etc., except to say that as soon as we got down into a mud hole the rain poured in torrents and stopped as soon as we got out on the other side. There wasn't a dry piece of clothing on our backs most of the time but we discovered that we would not catch cold if we let our clothes dry on us. We will never stop learning.

On our way west we stopped at the Jamestown campmeeting and represented our N. N. C. as best we could.

Our next stop was at Billings, Montana where Dr. Williams held a week's revival after the district assembly. God gave us blessed victory here and Dr. Williams preached with the unction and anointing of the Spirit until every heart was moved. Each of our own hearts were helped and encouraged under his powerful messages, and we feel stronger to push ahead in the fight and battle sin on every hand.

July 6, Monday: Today we started once more for the coast country, passed through the Yellowstone Park and saw everything possible in the few hours we could spare.

This pioneer life for a few weeks has done us all a lot of good. Some of us who have had at least the necessities of life felt a little downhearted once in a while but now that it's all over we are glad of the experience for it is rounding out our lives and enriching our educations, knocking off some rough corners, and smoothing us off.

Nampa Church Notes

Mrs. Plumb has been sick nearly ever since Assembly time but is better at this writing. If she continues to improve the Pastor and she and Frances expect to leave for Colorado about the first of August.

We will miss Professor Bouchard who leaves this week for Council, Idaho, where he will assist Miss Myrtle Mangum in a revival meeting.

It is good to have Professor Paylor and family out from under the quarantine after several weeks' battle with the small pox.

The Pastor was agreeably surprised not long since by a call from his brother, T. W. Plumb, who was enroute from Colorado to Olympia, Wash.

We miss our young people who have had to get work. About twenty of our young men are in the harvest fields at Connell, Wash. However there are enough left to keep a live N. Y. P. S.

going in full swing under the blessing of the Lord.

The Church and Sunday School enjoyed a very fine picnic on the Fourth of July at Kurtz Park. The weather was just right then but is too hot these last few days.

Our flock was made sad by the passing of our dear Brother Mansur, who was called to be with the Lord on July 11th after a long spell of sickness. Thank God, he was ready and will doubtless 'linger near the eastern gate' to meet us in the morning.

Rev. Fred Harris, of Pennsylvania, gave us a fine call while West on a visit and gave a fine message on Holiness Sunday evening, July 5th.

A revival meeting is planned for the church to begin the first week in October. R. J. PLUMB, Pastor.

Starting the New Year Right

You know our New Year's Day is July 1st and we are glad of it. July is not quite so cold a month as January so the very first transaction to be recorded on our Improvement books is a donation of thirty dollars from a former student. Thank God for our students. They are loyal and because of this we were enabled to "start the year right." Let everybody warm up.

Fresh Canned Fruit

Fresh fruit is fresh fruit these days. It is valuable. You can sell it for a fair price and nearly everybody needs money but when picking this fruit and getting some ready for the market or your own fruit jars just remember N. N. C.

Canned fruit is a toothsome dainty as well as a necessity for our young people. Several churches remembered us last year. We will be glad to pay you for the jars and sugar used providing you can wait for the money until school starts. Please pack the fruit well in barrels and ship by freight. Remember we will pay the freight. We have hundreds of empty fruit jars but it will not pay to ship them out of the state.

Last year our salaries for the Improvement Fund were over three thousand dollars; this year only three hundred dollars. Dr. Wiley and the quartet are doing the work without remuneration other than expenses.

Who is Paying the Debt?

The North Pacific District promised us $7500 last year; they paid $1571.15. Five hundred dollars of this came from a brother in Victoria, B. C. The Northwest District promised us $4000 last year; they paid or assumed $2682.46 of the debt. The Idaho-Oregon District promised $6000.00 last year. The Nampa church alone paid $8019.62. North Dakota made no promise but paid us over $500.00. One of our students gave us nearly $1700.00. It is plain to see that those who know us best give us most. (Move to Nampa and get acquainted with us.) This is thrown in—we did not find this in the Treasurers report. Our treasurer is too kind hearted and too considerate to even intimate that all promises should be kept even by the districts. The Bursar is not quite so careful. He thinks and says that a district no matter where it is located or what its name is should do what it agrees to do even to the payment of a pledge. If you have religion, say Amen.

Clippings from the Treasurers Report

It would be impossible for us to publish the Treasurer's Report for only sixteen pages of it were ready. We had access to them and have copied a few things that we were interested in and knowing that you are like us, feel sure you will be interested also.

Last year we reduced our indebtedness on the plant $8,564.47. This year we reduced it $33,627.87. Last year it cost us $1,359.57 more to collect the eight thousand dollars than it did this year to collect the thirty-three thousand dollars.

On July 1st, 1923, we owed
on notes$46,357.32
On July 1st., 1924, we owed
on notes 41,661.00
On July 1st., 1925, we owed
on notes 28,251.02

We found among other things in the Treasurer's report—and the report is not finished, they say—that there were some interesting statistics in the Current Account. Now by the Current Account we mean the operating end of the school. That's plain isn't it? Not the plant, not the debt, just the school such as has to do with students and teachers and such like.

On July 1st., 1923, we owed the teachers$4,339.86
On July 1st., 1924 we owed the teachers 1,830.51
On July 1st., 1925, we owe the teachers None

If our friend Prof. A. S. London knew this he would have to write to the Herald of Holiness and tell them that he just made a guess. The Treasurer says that we have sent a Financial Report to the General Board every month. He feels certain that all the schools should do this but wonders if they really do.

We were pleased to find that while it cost us $4,740.55 to run the Heating Plant last year that we were able to get through the coldest weather we have experienced with an outlay of $3,748.56. This is due to the fact that our competent engineer, J. O. Young and his faithful firemen A. H. Eggleston and Furman Harris, made every shovel full of coal do its best.

Brother and Sister Hanson, some of the best folks in the land, have given up the work in the dining room and kitchen. Brother Hanson will have entire charge of buildings and campus. We feel certain that the campus will take on a new appearance and the rooms will be tidy and clean. Watch and see if we are not right.

Oregon Trail Park Camp Meeting WEISER, IDAHO, August 13-23, 1925

Auspices: Idaho-Oregon District, Church of the Nazarene

WORKERS:

Rev. J. A. Kring, Evangelist, Billings, Montana. An able minister of the old-time Gospel message. He will preach each day, and his message is for YOU.

Rev. H. Orton Wiley, D. D., Nampa, Idaho. One of the greatest Teacher-Preachers in the Church world. President of Northwest Nazarene College. Hear him teach the BIBLE. He will speak each day.

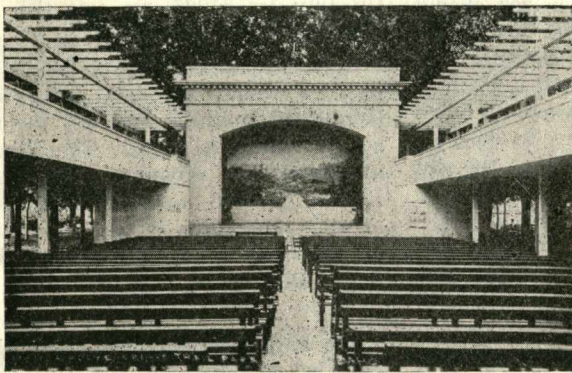

Rev. Fred St. Clair, Evangelist, Pasadena, Calif. St. Clair is one of the old-fashioned type, and believes in starting something everywhere he lands. Each morning he will give one of his lectures on PRAYER. Don't miss them.

Mrs. J. A. Kring, Deaconess, Billings, Montana. Mrs. Kring will conduct each day a service for the CHILDREN.

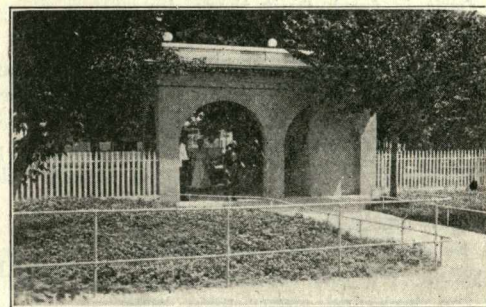

Miss Mary Freeman, Special Soloist, Chicago. She has sung the Gospel in Song throughout this land, and is blessed with a marvelous gift. Her singing will bless you. Hear her.

Miss R. Myrtle Mangum, Missionary-Evangelist, of California. Miss Mangum will not be present throughout the Camp, but during the latter days she will be present, and will conduct great missionary services on the last Friday and Sunday of the Camp.

Besides these Special Workers, most of our District Pastors and Evangelists are expected to attend, at least the last week. Let all our people who feel the NEED of getting closer to God, and who are interested in the job to which God has assigned us, PRAY for this Camp and attend if possible. We fully expect to see the manifestation of the Divine Glory and old-fashioned outpourings of the Holy Spirit.
