Prof. F. C. Sutherland Speaks to I. R. C.

Prof. Sutherland, missionary to China, was the guest speaker of the I. R. C. meeting which was held in the Chapman recreation room the evening of Oct. 28.

After an educational film entitled "China" was shown, Prof. Sutherland was presented to the club. His topic was "China, Communism, and Christ."

Friendly relations were established between China and Russia after the first World War when China was one of the very few countries who would recognize Russia in her depleted financial condition, Prof. Sutherland said. The advisors who China allowed Russia to send began to stir up hatred among the Chinese against foreigners. Prof. Sutherland stated that after it was discovered that the Russians wished to take over the government, they were ejected from China; but their underground was firmly established. "During the second World War, one Communist-controlled Chinese army worked at their political ideas instead of fighting the Japanese."

Prof. Sutherland, who will soon be returning to China, remarked on the difficult time the missionaries have. He said that the effect of the Communist propaganda on the people has been great. "Things are serious. The people have little faith left. They are in a vacuum—Communism on one side, Christianity on the other. Which will they choose?"

Dolores Bloomquist, Clarence Barrows, Bill Griffin and Paul Kunkel were elected to go to the I. R. C. convention to be held soon at the University of Oregon. Alternates are Peter Burkhart and Stanley Nordmo.

I'll Be Seeing You' To Be Oly-SLA Play

"I'll Be Seeing You," the SLA-Olympian play, is being rehearsed now and it will be presented on November 19. The cast includes Dorothy Davis as Janie; Maureen Mason as Connie; Bud Hibbard playing Church; Elizabeth Hammond as Lucy; Dean Galloway as Albert; Mike Williamson, Tommy Tuttle; Mary Lou Anderson as Susan Wills; Wayne Johnson as Hal Broderick; Eunice Lintz, Belinda; Jeanette Robbs, Mrs. Tuttle, and Glen Wardlow is playing Sheriff Tucker.

Bette Harding and Roma Mitchell, the program chairmen of their societies, are directing this play.

U. N. Talk Given By Prof. Taylor

Prof. Edward Taylor spoke in a chapel program sponsored by the International Relations club on Oct. 27. During the chapel period, Clarence Barrows, president of the club, was introduced to the student body. He, in turn, presented the other officers of the local I. R. C.

Since the preceding Sunday was United Nations day, Prof. Taylor selected as his topic, "The United Nations."

He stated that during the three years the U. N. has been organized, 58 nations have joined the ranks. He outlined the six divisions of U. N. and explained the function of each. Although the U. N. has many serious problems to solve now, Prof. Taylor said that it has already been instrumental in avoiding open warfare in several sectors.

Senior Sneak

On October 27-30 the senior class relieved themselves of all duties and left for Ferncroft to have a vacation. After a rousing time with the juniors the seniors made their escape and arrived at Ferncroft sometime between midnight and dawn on the night of October 27.

The three days were spent in playing, hunting, hiking, fishing, sleeping, and EATING. Cabins were located on the hillside in which the vacationers resided amidst the roar of the river.

The following people had their annual bath in the Payette river: Prof. Kauffman, Doris Cameron, Ruby Feltar, Lloyd Gebhart, and Juanita Moon.

The seniors would like to give a little advice to the juniors at this time. "It does not pay to watch Ken Sulston's house all the time. Just because he is an active does not mean that he will disclose any secrets."

HE Club Meets

The NNC Home Economics club held their bi-weekly meeting in the home ec lab on Monday, Nov. 1.

After a short business meeting Mrs. Fred, club advisor, introduced Mrs. Bernice Powell to the girls. Mrs. Powell explained the art of textile painting and displayed some of her creations.

The club members also had op-

Stags, Staggerettes Hold Parties

Q. Where were all the women Friday night?

A. At the AWS staggarette party, of course!

Morrison hall dining room was the scene of a women-student party Friday night, under the direction of Joanne Burkhart, A. W. S. president, and Jeanne Vail, vice president.

With the record player grinding out music, Joyce King dizzily emerged victor in the game of musical chairs, for which accomplishment she was awarded a dill pickle. Joyce was also presented a second pickle upon being the winner in the pin-the-beard-on-the-man contest.

The acting out of nursery rhymes and proverbs provided added amusement, while bruises appeared during the rush for chairs when playing upset the fruit basket.

With no men around to put the eagle eye on the amount of food consumed, all girls indulged in hotdogs and pop to their hearts' content.

Recital Presented By Fine Arts

The Fine Art department presented students in a miscellaneous recital Friday evening, Nov. 5, in the chapel.

Numbers included in the program were: "Sixth Symphony Excerpts," by Tchaikowsky, played by Jeanne Vail; "Sonata, Opus 12—Rondo," by Beethoven, played by Beulah Vore; reading, "The Raven," by Edgar Allen Poe, given by Jim Wolstenholm; vocal solo, "On the Road to Mandalay," by Speaks, sung by Marvin Bloomquist.

Other numbers were "Concerto in D Minor" by Bach, a piano solo by Lyndol Pullen; "Er, der Herrlichste von Allen," by Schumann, sung by Dorothy Davis; "Odel Mio dolce ardor," by Gluck, sung by Carol Sharp; "Fountain of Aqua Paola," by Griffis, given by Pat Bolerjack; "Concerto in E-Flat Major," by Liszt, played by Dallas Quick; "O Lieblicke Wangene," by Brahms, sung by Eunice Lintz.

The final number of the program was "Revolutionary Etude" by Chopin, played by Double E. Hill on the piano.

Plans for this recital were made by the Speech and Music departments.

Child Adoption Plan Discussed

So far $90 has been contributed to the child adoption fund. This fund will be used as the study body project for the school year and will support one European orphan for one year.

On November 2, an offering was taken in chapel for this fund. It was hoped by the student council that enough would be taken in to pay for the project. However, only half of the required amount has been raised. It will cost $180 to support the child for one year.

Later on in the year after communication has been made with the child, announcements will be made in chapel to the student body and plans made to help the child as much as possible.

New Grade System To Be Used

According to the registrar's office, a slightly different system will be employed with regards to grades this year. Instead of students calling at the registrar's office, they will receive their grades directly from their professor.

The grade point average of a student is determined by dividing the total number of grade points earned in any semester by the total number of credits in his academic load excluding neutral credits.

Don Tucker Speaks To Missionary Society

NNC is privileged to receive a new student into its ranks, in the person of Don Tucker from British Honduras. It is with sincere pleasure that we welcome him to the campus, and hope that he will feel at home, and be happy here.

Don spoke to the student body and faculty during the chapel period on Wednesday, Nov. 3. He gave a comprehensive picture of the Nazarene work which is being done in British Honduras, stressing the urgent need for more workers, and help of any kind, for great darkness still prevails in Honduras which can only be banished by the entrance of the light of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

The Missionary council has received word from the Rev. Rehms Rehfelt with regard to the project for the year. Two projects have been given from which the council will select the one to be used for the year.

Prof Wilson Entertains Speech Club

The Spencerian Speech club met Thursday evening, Nov. 2, to learn more about better speaking qualities. Professor M. A. Wilson entertained the group by presenting three cuttings from C. A. McConnell's book "Happy Day." The cuttings are entitled "It Just Happened So," "A Missionary to Africa," and "Take Up Your Cross." In the last cutting Professor Wilson even treated the group by singing "Take Up Thy Cross and Follow Me."

Ken Sulston gave a sketch of C. A. McConnell's life. This, of course, was interesting to all as McConnell was one of the early founders of our church and is still living.

Professor Knighton spoke on the speaking and singing voice and answered questions. He informed the group that anyone who has more than a monotone voice can learn to sing. Of course this doesn't mean you'll be a soloist but your voice will be of a pleasing quality.

The next program promises to be an enjoyable one for Ken Sulston and his radio speaking class will have charge of the meeting.

A "German band" started the barrel rolling for the semester stag party put on by the Men's club last Friday evening. The first musical number from the band, "Roll Out the Barrel," was played while Jim Wolstenholm and Ray Hastings rolled the barrel out. Members of the "German band" were Dick Friesen, Wayne Johnson, Don Carpenter, Don Farrand, Dean Wilson, Clarence Peterson, Lloyd Hubbard and Guy Wright. Besides furnishing music and atmosphere, members of the band provided many laughs for the fellows. The boys were given a convincing demonstration of the meaning of the song, "Pack Your Troubles in the Old Kit Bag" while the band played the song and the music was stopped periodically so some member could exhibit his brand of "corny" jokes and puns.

Bob Regester directed the "Sons of Sampson" in demonstrations of weight lifting and certain members of the "German band" were given an opportunity to display their talents in tumbling. It seems that while some of the band members were overly reckless, they were well protected with oversize bay windows and padded posteriors. Many apt comments were heard about Dick Friesen's built-in "rumble seat." Howard Zing, a former student at NNC, demonstrated three types or methods of weight lifting used in competition. Jesse Wilson and Wayne Johnson each surprised everyone by lifting a weight of 295 pounds above his knees. It seems that Mr. Johnson, our business manager, offered to do the same thing but declined at the last moment. Howard Zink seemed to have no trouble lifting 190 pounds above his head, yet no one offered to duplicate the feat.

One of the outstanding events of the evening was an exhibition boxing match between Gordon Belzer and Lee Hopkins. During the first two rounds it was difficult to tell whether the boys were boxing or wrestling and some blows were landed in entirely unusual places. They began really to box in the third round and the match ended as a draw with nothing definite decided. Wayne Johnson was trainer for Lee Hopkins and Don Ferrand was trainer for Gordon Belzer, the while Don Chavis was the referee. Jesse Wilson, the Men's club fire marshal, ran out and cooled each pugilist off with a glass of cold water after the first round.

At the end of the boxing match, all participants in the beard growing contest were called out and the judges examined the beards. A few artificial beards were eliminated and the decision was reached. Jesse Wilson was named "King Bluebeard" of the campus and was given a prize.

Those who had worn sweaters were then given a chance to compete for a new sweater. The colors were so bright and dazzling that the judges made a decision with difficulty and Jack Burke was chosen and given a fine new sweater.

As the final number for the evening, the band played "Now Is the Hour" and crooner Don Farrand sang while husky, be-whiskered young men swooned allover the gym. It seems that

An Armistice Day Thought

On Thursday, November 11, we shall observe what is known as Armistice day. In quiet, reverent pause for one minute at 11 minutes past 11, Americans will bow the head and pray for peace, a peace that the world so terribly needs. It is fitting, then, at this time, to think for a moment about the peace which is the need of the world at this critical hour.

The careful observer of international events can easily note that the aim of most, if not all, of the members of the United Nations is against war. The very existence of the UN, as was its predecessor, the League of Nations, is predicated upon the desire to abolish war. Machinery has been set up to avert war. Now more than ever men fear war. They have reason to fear it. In spite of all efforts, however, it appears that nothing effective is being done to stop the slow, steady drift toward what everyone fears,—another, and this time catastrophic, conflict.

This state of affairs prompts one to wonder if, perhaps, the preoccupation with avoiding war, like that of the tight-rope walker who watched the danger below,—disastrously, is not contributing to the critical situation in the first place. And instead of being so frantic about the dangers of war, we might spend more time and money in the promotion of peace.

Nations are much like people. People must learn to get along with one another. But no two people can get along if each of them is at war with himself. However, if a man can rule his own inner spirit by God's help, then, and only then, can he live in peace with others. And so it is with nations. The nation which forgets God is divided within itself. It cannot get along with other nations. But if a nation is to come back to God, the people who compose it must make the first move.

Our Armistice day pledge at N. N. C. should be to show ourselves and the world that we are united as individuals,—students, faculty, and administration alike. Let us demonstrate our unity as members of our college, our church, our country, and then of the whole world. Let us be "peace-bearers," not "war-scarers." Let us be positive, not negative. Let us be the "men of good will" who deserve "peace on earth."

—Alvin H. Kauffman.

So You Did Him a Favor

So you think you are doing your friends a favor? Well, now, maybe you aren't. Stop and think it over.

When you do a favor for someone, do they feel that they must return it or else be eternally grateful to you? If they feel that way, then you haven't done them a favor. You might as well ask for wages.

Before you promise to do someone a favor, check yourself on these points and decide if you will be doing them a favor or asking them to sign their lives away.

1. Don't give up onve you have started to do someone a favor, and even if it does turn out to be more work than you bargained for, make it seem that it is really nothing.

2. Don't run around substly mentioning it or take a superior attitude toward the person just because you were in a position to do him a favor.

3. Don't expect payment for a favor—even in the form of gratitude from the person who accepted it. Don't keep reminding him of the favor.

Remember—you can build friendships on favors, but only if it is a real favor and not a weapon of blackmail.—"The Maverick," Northern Oklahoma Junior College.

Justifiable Beliefs vs. Prejudices

Nearly everyone is prejudiced to a certain degree, but intelligent analysis of personal "beliefs" will reveal which are justifiable, and which are harmful prejudices. Much of the harm done by prejudice results from an unwillingness on the part of the individual to accede the possibility of anyone else's having a side in any question.

Just as important, however, is the harm done inadvertently by persons who would not dream of being malicious. Prejudice

THE LOWDOWN

From THE EDITOR

The election is over and after the surprise everyone seems to settle down and forget all about it. From now on what goes on in our national government does not concern us too much. This attitude prevails throughout our nation today. Not even all of the people were aroused out of this attitude enough to go to the polls and vote.

But, is that all there is to it? Can we just sit back and let the officials run our government while we forget all about it? Is this the democratic type of government we are so proud of? Of course not. Everything that is done by our government affects us whether we realize it or not. Therefore it is the duty of every American to take an interest in what is going on. Especially in this critical period of our nation's history should we be alert and watch what is going on. The government is YOUR government. Remember what Abraham Lincoln said in his famous Gettysburg address: "That the government of the people, by the people and for the people shall never perish from the earth." It is up to us as Americans to see that this government does not perish, but that it will thrive and grow and improve. The president or congress alone can not make this a better nation. It takes the help of every American citizen, and every citizen that is not helping our government is hindering it.

This not only applies to our national government, but it applies to every phase of life. Here at NNC every person that is not doing his best to make this school better is working against it. In other words we can never stand still; we are either going forward or going backward. That is true in every phase of life. Even a house that is left empty and unused begins to deteriorate. So each one of us should think about this question, "Are you helping push the wagon up the hill, or are you dragging your feet?"

Have You a Burden For the Sunday School

By TOM KELLY

As I sit here and write this my heart is heavy within me. I ask myself the question, "Have I, to the best of my ability, so presented Christ through the Sunday school that souls have been helped by it?" It is a responsibility to God to be burdened for souls, and, oh, may the Sunday school bear the responsibility!

The Lord has been good to us; He has answered our prayers, He has blessed us in our attendance, and has bestowed many blessings upon us through His love toward us. But what have we done for Him? Have we attempted to invite someone to Sunday school that they might receive even a grain of the precious truth that "Jesus died for sinners?" Have we in our Sunday school classes spoke to that needy soul and given to him the precious promises of Jesus Christ?

May we fall upon our knees and ask God to give us a burden that we might see souls saved for the Kingdom of God through the Sunday school.

Throughout your life, never forget those people who, with one-half your opportunities, would have been ten times better in your field. (Robert Angus) from the masthead of "The Mississippi," University of Mississippi.

What's Your Opinion?

Question: What do you think of the results of the election:

1. Ralph Hull: Shows that the American people are conservative in the present crisis which they are in and will rally and put support behind the program of the president in the future.
2. Hisa Horiuchi: Even though I'm not old enough to vote I'll encourage everyone for Truman.
3. Eleanor Perkins: I'd rather have seen Dewey as our president but I think we should stand behind Truman.
4. Elizabeth Hammond: I thought Truman would win but I don't think he'll get much support.
5. Bob Anderson: Absolutely surprising!
6. Emmie De Vries: Wish Dewey would have gotten it.
7. Wathene Fitch: I think it's too bad. I think Dewey should have gotten it.
8. Butch Neubauer: I'm all for Truman. He's the only one for it.
9. Helen G. Wilson: Surprised but not discouraged. Still glad that I live in the U. S. A., still convinced that American history is the best subject in the curriculum.
10. Mrs. R. T. Holmes: I have learned in whatsoever state I am therewith to be content.

Nursing Notes

By Betty Edes

The annual Halloween party for the staff and personnel of Samaritan hospital was held Saturday night in Holly house, recently vacated by the senior class. The setting was ideal for the theme, "House of Horror," and the scenery and program, planned by the seniors, were typical hair-raisers. After an evening of surprises, shocks and killer-thrillers, everyone vowed "I'll never be the same again."

The student body, led by the student council of Samaritan hospital school of nursing, is in the process of forming a long-awaited student government, complete with constitution, dormitory rules and activity plans. The social program committee is very active and is laying the foundation for a calendar of activities to be carried out the coming year. The gym at NNC has been secured for one evening a week and a sports program including volley and basketball with teams made up of both students and faculty has been arranged.

Vets' Wives Meet And Elect Officers

New officers elected at the first meeting of the Veterans' Wives held Thursday evening, Oct. 21, in Morrison hall parlor, are: Dorothy Teare, president; Lillian Bozarth, vice-president; Gerrie Knighton, secretary; Ella Harris, treasurer. Mrs. LaMont Lee is sponser. Meetings are held every third Thursday of the month.

The project for the November meeting will be to fill a basket of food which will be given to a needy family. The husbands are invited to this meeting and each couple will bring a specified dish for refreshments. All veterans' wives are cordially invited to attend and join the club.

PROF. TAYLOR SPEAKS TO ALTRUSA LUB

Professor Taylor was invited to speak at the Altrusa club, Thursday, Nov. 4. This service club is composed of professional women who hold executive positions. Prof. Taylor's subject was "United Nations."

JUSTIFIABLE BELIEFS

is such an insidious, intangible thing that many persons quite innocently become enmeshed in the web of false ideas which it engenders.

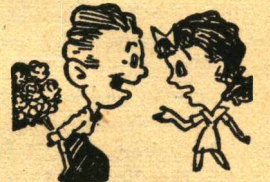

Much of this harm is done by the thoughtless repetition of discriminatory stories and jokes. On the surface, these may appear to be quite insignificant, but they can do irreparable damage.

Trite, but nonetheless true, is the statement that this country was founded upon the principles of freedom and equality insofar as said freedom did not interfere with the rights of others. We have freedom of speech, but the principles of equality and justice demand that we use our freedom with discretion—(Capha Arrow, Cape Girardeau, Mo.)

You probably all noticed how windy it was the day after election. Some of Hadley's more brilliant students have given this explanation. There was so much wind before the election that on Wednesday Mother Nature became so nervous she went a blowing.

One night several girls were in Hisa Houriche's room eating as usual. After everyone had eaten more than her share, Hisa said, "Have some more and we can all be hogity." Of course, personally I think Hisa's just trying to make an impression on Mr. Webster.

Cheer up all you students who were givers or receivers of the Halloween pranks this year. Some day you, too, can say, "Say, I remember the good ole days at NNC when I, etc. etc."

Oh, yes, speaking of Halloween I imagine most of the Morrison hall girls saw the two ghosts floating around the dorm Sunday evening. I haven't had nerve enough to find out who they were but it is rumored that they were the ghosts of Misa Hourchi and Norma Lee Chapman.

I was sitting in church one evening listening intently to the Rev. Riley when all of a sudden the lady across the aisle jumped about two feet and let out a muffled scream. I craned my neck to see what was up. Guess what! There was a cat calmly perched on this lady's lap. Now, on Halloween cats are permissible but this wasn't even Halloween.

For the benefit of all Irishmen this joke is intended:

Two perspiring Irishmen on a bicycle at last got to the top of the steep hill. "That was a stiff climb, Pat," said one.

"It was that," said Pat. "and if I hadn't kept the brake on we would have gone backward sure." —Grit, quoted in the Wall Street Journal.

The real proof of courtesy is to have the same ailment the other person is describing and not mention it.

Scotch Quartet Presented in Lyceum Program

A Scottish quartet was presented in the chapel Friday evening, Oct. 29, as one in a series of lyceum numbers.

The four men of "The Kilties" quartet, in Scotch highlander dress, sang Scotch songs some of which are common in this country. The speaker for the group played the bagpipes, the famous Scotch instrument. He demonstrated how the pipes are inflated, and how the different notes are played.

"The Owl," sung by the second tenor, was the song that brought the greatest response from the listeners, because of its humor.

These lyceum numbers are presented from time to time through the year for the benefit and enjoyment of the students.

BCA Goes Forward

About 14 members of the Art club went to Boise Sunday afternoon, Oct. 31, to look at the pictures in the Boise gallery. The pictures exhibited were all made by Idaho artists and will be on exhibition this entire month rather than the usual three days. We are proud to have one of our own students exhibiting his work along with the other Idaho artists. Arleigh Eckhart has his picture, "The Window," on exhibit.

The pictures on display were done in oils, water colors, textile painting and sketching. Also there was a display of wood carving and metal work. The work included both conservative and modern works of art.

You no doubt have noticed the entrance to the art building looks a little neater and cleaner. Our artists have undertaken the job of planting flowers ahead of the building.

Last week was also cleanup week for the building. Once again you are able to look out of the windows.

How many have noticed the new bulletin board, and our picture of the week? This past week we have on display the picture of t. Sinai, done in chalk by Rachel Cockeram.

College High News

In this issue of our college high news we wish to salute the newest club on our high school campus, the Pep club. Under the sponsorship of Miss Larson this club promises to be one of the most active in the high school. We welcome this new organization and appreciate their fine school spirit.

While we're on the subject of new clubs we want to take time out to pin a bright carnation on the lapel of Professor Edward Taylor and the College International Relations club for their courtesy in extending membership to high school students. Several have joined already and have expressed a desire for membership. Thank you, Professor Taylor and members of the I. R. C.!

The Teen-Age Book club is in full swing again this year with 27 members from Miss Wilson's classes in English and history. Among the selections enjoyed so far this year are: "We Took to the Woods" by Louise Dickinson Carr, "Forgive Us Our Trespasses" by Lloyd C. Douglas and three of Shakespeare's comedies.

Signal Hour Change Announced

Chester Wells, president of Semper Fidelis, announces a change in the year's program for the Signal Hour, the high school prayer hour. The first and third Thursday of every month will be devoted to a devotional worship service while the other two meetings will take the form of a Bible study. There will be several series of Bible studies with various high school teachers as leaders. Miss Helen Wilson, sponsor of Semper Fidelis, will conduct the first series of studies on the general topic of "Redemption."

Cadet Teachers Enjoyed

Several cadets from the college education classes have been teaching in the high school this semester and several more will be with us next semester. Miss Juanita Mink, Miss Doris Cameron and Miss Pat Davis have been doing their parctice teaching in some of the English classes. Kenneth Potter and Miss Helen Rambo will begin teaching history during the next nine weeks. Students and faculty alike always enjoy working with the cadet teachers.

Classes Win Prizes

The sophomores swept the field in the recent all-high school party contests. They were followed closely by the seniors. Bonnie Painter and Gene Thompson are presidents of the victorious classes. Del Cherrington acted as general chairman of the party which has been hailed as one of the finest in college high history. One of the bright moments of the evening came in the form of a skit presented by members of the faculty. Students were enlightened considerably as to new and better forms of classroom conduct. Refreshments and decorations were planned by members of the senior class while sophomores and freshmen served on the clean-up committee.

Powerful ADPs Clinch Touch Football Crown With Perfect Season

Behind a big, free-wheeling line, the powerful ADP juggernaut smashed their way to the touch football championship as they continued their undefeated ways.

The champions rolled up four triumphs during the last two weeks to clinch the crown. Touchdowns by Unger and Wright were too much for the LSP's as the ADP's took a 13-0 decision. A battling underdog SLA nine went down to defeat 12-6, after holding a 6-6 tie at halftime. Burkhart's sensational catch in the waning moments of the game produced the deciding tally. Cramer kept the losers in the farcas with his excellent passing.

A scrappy Oly team fought the ADP's to a 0-0 tie in regulation time but the champions won in the overtime period as Dave Burkhart turned in an amazing circus catch on the last play of the period.

Playing with only eight men the SLA's put up a stiff fight before succumbing to the ADP's 6-0 in a tilt marred by injuries. The triumph clinched the championship for the victors and knocked the SLA's out of any chance to take second. The losers threatened throughout the last period due largely to several pass interceptions by Beukelman. Reynolds and Johnson paced

Cramer Net Champ

Johnnie Cramer of the SLA's is the new tennis champ in boys' singles. In the final rounds Cramer pressed ahead to defeat Francis Sutherland of the ADP's. Third place went to the Olympians and fourth to the LSP's.

M. Shafer Takes First In Girls' Tennis

Mary Shafer of the Olympian society slammed her way to victory for the girls' singles. Mary Wesche came in as a very close second. Third place went to the ADP's and fourth to the SLA's.

the Olys to an 8-0 win over the SLA's and a 13-0 triumph over the luckless LSP's. It was the third loss for both teams.

The SLA's clinched at least a tie for third place by eking out a 7-6 verdict from the LSP's. Beukelman's pass to Galloway tallied the SLA's first score and a pass to Likens for the extra point provided the winning margin. The LSP's broke a season long scoring famine with their first touchdown of the year but muffed the extra point to drop their fourth straight without a victory.

Crusader Gagers Prime for Lid-Lifter; Cramer, Others, Back to Bolster Hopes

Coach LaMont Lee's basketball Crusaders got down to serious work this week as they readied themselves for the season's opener, Dec. 4, against the College of Idaho.

The original turnout of 41 hopefuls has been cut to 20, including seven lettermen from last year's quintet which copped 15 wins in 27 contests.

John Cramer, brilliant junior forward, is again expected to bear the brunt of the orange and black offensive. Cramer, generally regarded as one of the best college players in northwest basketball circles, ranked among the nation's leading scorers in both his freshman and sophomore years and appears to have lost none of his point proficiencies.

Other starters back from last year include, guards, Ralph Unger and Woody Beukelman; center, Carlyle Dean, and forward, Bob Kiel. Unger, after a slow start last year, developed into a fine floor general toward the end of the season, and much of the Crusader success may hinge on his sharp passing and sparkling floor play. Carl "Tiny" Bellamy, Virgil Vail and Paul Jensen round out the list of returning veterans.

Coach Lee indicated pleasure at the performance of several of the newcomers freshmen who include Millard Reynolds, Whitey Johnson, Chet Galloway, Bob Giles and Kenny Hills. He was also high on the play of Jack Jamerson, a junior college transfer.

Despite these promising athletes, Lee still had time to wring out the crying towel as he sorrowfully admitted that Captain-elect Fred Fowler, a two-year letterman, may not have time for the cage sport this season. He also enacted a heart-rending scene over the short time he has had to prepare his charges for the season opener.

Claiming that most other colleges have been playing football for three months, he expressed doubt as to whether the Crusaders would be able to round into shape by the opening date.

STAG, STAGGERETTES HOLD PARTIES

the band got started on the wrong key when playing this song, but after considerable deliberation as to which key to use, Band Leader Dick Friesen announced that they would use the "skeleton key." It seemed to work very well.

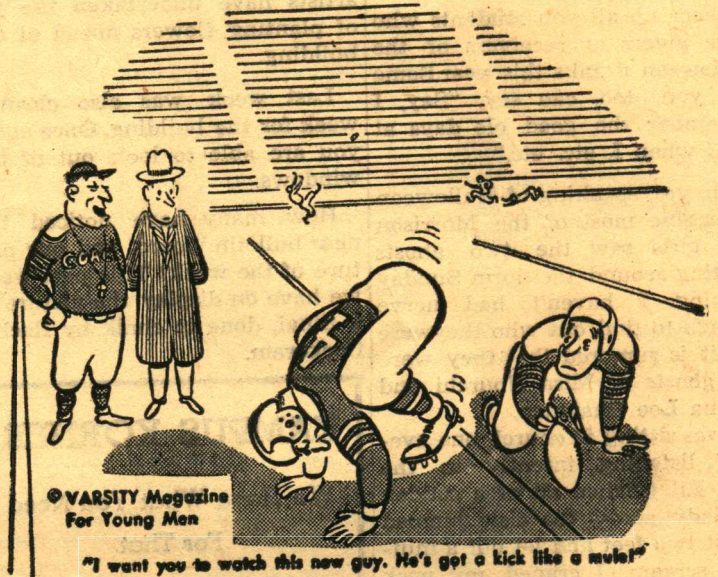

After attending this stag party, every young man realized he can have a very good time without any female assistance whatsoever, and it is hoped that it has given him a new feeling of independence and self-sufficiency.

McGraw Is Faculty Golf Champ

Prof. McGraw triumphed over Prof. Taylor by a score of 50 to 54 in a very close shooting match. Taylor was not headed until the eleventh hole where McGraw carded a brilliant 2, taking the lead for the first time by a 4-stroke margin which was the margin of victory. Good golf was displayed all the way and now Prof. McGraw is the faculty golf champion.

A woman entered the psychiatrist's office carrying a large duck under her arm. The doctor inquired, "Now, Madam, what seems to be your problem?" "Oh, doctor," she answered, "I have no problem. It's my husband—he thinks he's a duck."

Aquatics, or How to Swim By Olympic Star, Will I. Drown

Conditions needed for successful swimming:

1. Water (preferably wet).
2. At least two pairs of arms and legs. A large pair of ears will occasionally come in handy.
3. A dozen or more lifeguards of the opposite sex. (This increases drowning enthusiasm.)
4. Swimming trunks or an old union suit.

TYPES OF SWIMMING STROKES:

1. Pocketknife. (Distantly related to jackknife.)
2. One and a half. (Not advisable for non-mathematical students.)
3. Goose dive. (For those who can't look like swans.)
4. Most popular dive for all—Joe's dive, down across the railroad tracks.

HELPFUL HINTS:

1. In case of drowning don't try to drink the pool dry before you succumb. It holds just a little more than you can.
2. Remember, take bath before going for that dip. There is nothing more aggravating than swimming in someone else's mud. This is a swimming pool, not a victory garden or public bath. Some swimming pools are too thin to plow but thick enough to chew.
3. In this uncertain weather take an ice pick along just in case.
4. Leave your fishing tackle at home. These suckers are in no mood to bite.
5. If you start to drown don't try to crawl down the outlet pipe.
