Hadley Hangs Up Broom for 3rd Time

On Wednesday, the 12th of January, at 1 o'clock in the morning the girls of Hadley hall conducted their third annual "broom-hanging." Three years ago the Hadley girls revived the old N. N. C. tradition of hanging a broom over the dormitory to signify a "clean sweep" when every person living in the dorm is a Christian. Then the day following the "hanging" all Hadley girls wear small paper brooms in commemoration of the happy occasion.

When interviewed about this year's ceremony Miss Helen Wilson, dean of Hadley hall, stated: "This year's broom-hanging was the most spontaneous I have ever witnessed. It was a very singular and signal visitation of the Holy Spirit." It seems that a group of girls had been praying for revival during the week-end and their prayers were answered when other prayer meetings broke out throughout the dormitory. These culminated in a time of prayer on Tuesday night when several souls found Christ for restoration and forgiveness.

After a time of praise and testimony in the parlor the entire assemblage adjourned to the front porch of the dorm where after a brief service the broom was hung by Shirley Dickinson of Portland, Ore. Most of the girls were clad in pajamas and heavy coats and a few snowflakes fell as Miss Wilson was reading portions of Scripture from the book of Isaiah.

After the front-porch ceremony the girls once again moved into the dorm parlor where an hour or more was spent in singing and praising the Lord. All in all it was a glorious occasion and one which Hadley girls will not soon forget.

Art Exhibit

The art department will present its semester art exhibit January 31 to February 3 in the library. Zola Alyea will be in charge of committees.

A representative showing of the department will be arranged by the committee in booth style.

Mott's Flower shop is contributing floral pieces and bouquets to the exhibit.

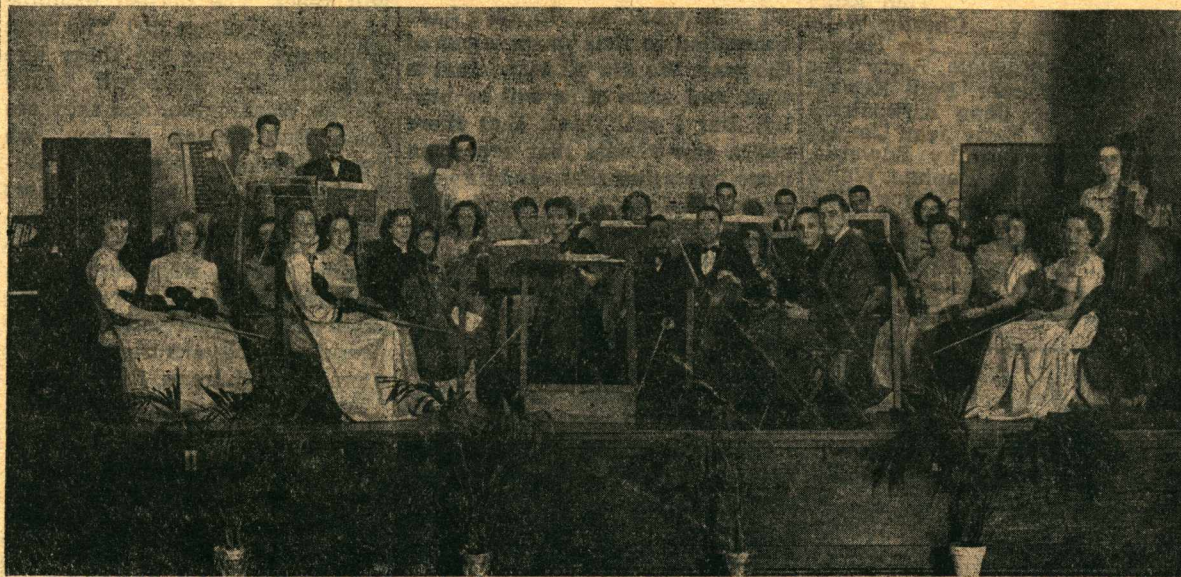

Members of the committee in charge are: Oils, Ada Miller and Hannah Schmidt; pastels, Nonafae Newell and Rachel Cockerham; chalk, Dave Crapo; commercial art, Darlene Van Schoick; architectural, Don Phillips and Don McBride.

Just a Reminder

The student body fee of $8.00 will be payable upon registration second semester. Registration will not be considered completed until this fee has been paid.

Be sure to read the "small print" on your registration instructions. There are some new ideas being tried out and if you wish to have your registration complete when you think you're done, do it all in the first place.

Because of the heavy rush at the coffee shop during registration, those girls that will be on duty will be permitted to have a short time off to register. They will be allowed to register as quickly as possible in order to return to their work.

Sutherland Returns To Teaching Staff

After an absence of nine months, Professor F. C. Sutherland will return to teach courses in religion and history next semester. This will be his nineteenth year of service at N. N. C.

Prof. Sutherland resigned his teaching position last spring at the call of the General Foreign Missions Board of the Church of the Nazarene to head the Fitkin Memorial Training School in China. Due to current circumstances in that country his going has been postponed indefinitely.

THE LATE DR. H. V. MILLER

Gen. Supt. Miller Succeeded By Dr. D. I. Vanderpool

Due to the sudden death of Dr. H. V. Miller, the conference of district superintendents meeting in Kansas City last week elected Dr. D. I. Vanderpool to the general superintendency. Dr. Miller's death was felt keenly around N. N. C. because of his wide acquaintance here.

Dr. Vanderpool has served in the capacity of district superintendent of the northwest district for the past 10 years and is well-known around N. N. C.

Christian Workers Band Meets

The Christian Workers' Band conducted their first meeting for 1949 on Saturday, Jan. 8.

Delmar Cook was the speaker for the occasion. He gave the answers to seven questions prevalent to the Christian life.

Don Crawford and his violin provided the special music, accompanied at the piano by Ivan Weatherby.

Orchestra Concert to Be Presented Friday Night in College Auditorium

Sunday School

By TOM KELLY

Sunday school will be held every day of the week, starting in 1950, if present plans for calendar revision go through. The following article is taken from the Denver Post of December 19:

"The issue of Dec. 5 containing an article by W. Thetford LeViness is part of the propaganda now being employed to popularize the proposed blank-day world calendar. There are numerous inaccuracies in the statement that I am sure you will be agreeable to have corrected.

"A totally wrong impression is created by the statement that 14 nations have gone on record in favor of adopting the world calendar by 1950. Several of the nations included in the 14 no longer exist, such as Estonia. The governments in a number of the others have passed out of existence. Their action was in favor of calendar reform at some time, not particularly in 1950.

"The most glaring inaccuracy however, in the article is that the seven-day week would remain the same. As a matter of fact, under the blank-day world calendar the seven-day week would alter every year, and what is now Sunday would fall on Monday in 1951, on Tuesday and Wednesday in 1952—this being a leap year and the blank day having to occur twice in such a year—it would fall on Thursday in 1953, and Friday in 1954, on Saturday in 1955, and it would not be until 1956 that Sunday would be restored to its original place as the first day of the week.

"What are observers of this day going to do with an arrangement which detaches their sacred day from its fixed place in the week and sends it wandering through the mazes of a constantly altering week?"

Cupid's Last Stand For 1948

Wedding bells blended with the bells of Christmas-tide, and with the return of the students we find several newlyweds on the campus, and so we congratulate:

Rav Bolerjack and Helen Vandyne.

Eugene Eitzen and Freda Reddig.

Ralph Hull and Helen Birks.

Carl Wilde and Afton Smith.

Glen Paul and Doris Cook.

Don Adamson and Patricia Kirley

The first N. N. C. orchestra concert of the year, under the baton of Alline Swann, will be given on Friday, January 21, 8:15 p. m., at the N. N. C. chapel. There will be no admission charge, and the public is cordially invited to this outstanding musical event of the year.

The featured soloists for the concert include Ivalee Bolerjack, pianist, and member of N. N. C.'s faculty. Miss Bolerjack will play the first movement of the well-known Grieg concerto in A minor. Also, two student performers will be featured soloists. Richard Friesen, outstanding trumpeter, and Dallas Quick, adept marimba player, will perform solos, accompanied by the orchestra. Mr. Friesen's number is "The Carnival of Venice," especially arranged and orchestrated for this concert, and Mr. Quick's featured marimba solo will be Monti's "Czardas."

Other numbers of the program include the famous "Egmont" overture by Beethoven, "Triumphal March," Grieg; "Funeral March of the Marionette," Gounod. A novelty arrangement by Lake, called "The Evolution of Dixie" will conclude the program.

The personnel of the orchestra will include the following faculty members and students of N. N. C.: Alice Kauffman, Don Crofford, Naomi Bolerjack, Genevieve Motyka, Joyce King, Paul Beals, Ruth Angel, Alberta Brown, Ruby Feltar, Don Carpenter, Joy Frisk, Pauline Rhinehart, Marcia Bridenstine, Alice Patterson, Wayne Johnson, Richard Friesen, Dean Wilson, Dallas Quick, Don Thompson, Elaine Carlson, Margaret Wilkes, Fairy Hawthorne, Double E. Hill, Gordon Belzar, and Elwood Gale.

Charles Wilson, Bob Johnson, Archie Johnson, Sue Rawlins, La Dean Pritchett, Janice Baker, and James DeCoursey from the Nampa high school and community are playing with the group in order to reinforce the string section.

Play Is Presented To Speech Club

At the regular monthly meeting of the Spencerian Speech club Monday, the dramatic interpretative reading class presented a 1-act comedy entitled "Bargains in Cathay." Joanne Burkhart and Wayne Johnson played the leading roles and it was ably directed by the teacher, Mrs. McGraw.

U. D. Students To Have Privileges

In order to serve its users more efficiently, the library will soon issue a permit card to the upper division students of N. N. C. This identification card will grant stack privileges to all juniors and seniors under certain conditions. The card is to be left at the checking desk before entrance to the stacks can be obtained. No one can secure admission without the permit. If books are taken from the stacks and not checked out, they are to be placed on the bottom shelf only. If one is found guilty of placing the volume back on the regular shelf, his stack permission will be forfeited.

Unpaid fines render this permission invalid until such fees are paid. Upper division students with overdue books will not be granted this privilege. The cards will be renewed periodically, and all students concerned will be notified of these renewal dates. The initial issuance of these cards by the library will occur at the beginning of the second semester. Notice will be given of this date in a future chapel service.

The library executive committee feels that this new program is a progressive move. Stack permission is a definite privilege, and the committee desires that upper division students make good use of this opportunity. The com-

New Courses For Second Semester

New English courses to be taught during the second semester were announced by Miss Dooley, head of the English department.

Miss Bertha Dooley, in her own inimitable, characteristic scholarly style, will teach "History of the English Novel," which will cover the development of the novel, lectures on past and present day novelists, and readings from Jane Austen, Sir Walter Scott, Charles Dickens, George Elliott, and others.

Miss Marion Barber Washburn will teach "Modern Poetry," a study of 20th century poets of England and the United States. The lives of poets as far as they affect their poetry, trends of modern day poetry, and recent experiments in the field of poetry will also be studied. Poetry by Teasdale, Frost, Benet, Sandburg, and others will be taken up.

Miss Olive Lawrence, who has been teaching first semester journalism, will continue this course second semester. Editorials, "making up" of a newspaper, columns, and the putting out of one issue of the school paper, will all be taken up in the course.

LIVING BY FAITH

"And the life I now live . . . I live by the faith of the Son of God." These words were spoken by Paul in the middle of the first century. Let us see what they hold for us in the middle of the twentieth century.

Faith is necessary if we are to please God. We all more or less recognize this, but we are not all clear in our understanding of what faith is.

Some of our evangelistic friends would have us believe that faith is "all of God." They cite the verse "through faith . . . (which) is the gift of God." But, as can be easily seen, this must mean, if interpreted this way, that either God gives saving faith to all men, which is unthinkable, or else He gives it to only some. But if He gives it to only some, and faith is all of God, then God must be the only factor involved in man's salvation. This is contrary to the main drive of Christian teaching.

Others would have us believe that faith is contrary to reason. Faith must be unreasonable to be true. If this is correct, our faith must be based upon something which is basically contradictory. This leaves no way open for a true faith, because there are many possible contradictory views. How much better it is to believe that faith and reason go together. As Paul says in Rom. 12:1, our faith is a "reasonable service."

Rather than holding any of these extreme views regarding faith, we should think of faith as trust in, or obedience to, the known will of God.

It is the "gift of God" in that God has given every man the ability to exercise it. No man can lay claim to working it up of himself.

It is "unreasonable" only insofar as it is not an intellectual function. It is an act which is primarily volitional. It makes a potential redemption actual in our life.

Further, faith must continue if we are to maintain the spiritual life. "For we walk by faith, not by sight."

Lastly, faith must issue into action. "Faith, if it hath not works, is dead." We demonstrate our faith in the love we show concretely for God and others.

Let us resolve that the year nineteen forty-nine will be a year of greater faith than ever before.

—Alvin H. Kauffman.

THE SPIRIT OF FRIENDLINESS

N. N. C. has always been known for its spirit of friendliness. However, it has been noticed in the past few years by former students that this spirit of friendliness is rapidly disappearing from our campus. Instead, there are several cliques or groups who always stick together and exclude outsiders. Then there is always the lone wolf who does not make friends with anyone.

One may use for an excuse that we can not be as friendly now that we are larger. In other words, it is just one of the evils of growth. Others say that they are too busy to be friendly with everyone. Instead they just take the time to associate with their little circle and forget about other people. As a result we have the situation mentioned above.

This fact being brought to our attention we looked around to see if in our own estimation it were true. It seems that to a certain extent it is true, but it should not be. Regardless of our size there is no reason why we cannot be friendly. If we live off-campus we should still endeavor to cultivate new friendships every day. Old friends are not enough, we need new friends. Cliques tend to be harmful both to the group on the inside and outsiders. If we limit our friendships to just a few we may develop a lop-sided personality. If we exclude all who we meet from our friendship we may miss many contributions to our lives that we would otherwise have received. When we exclude certain ones from our friendship we give others the feeling that we are proud, or a high hat. Thus we will hinder others in their own development or happiness. A good policy for our lives would be that every day we would try to contact some new individual and try to develop a friendship. For example, when you meet a fellow-student on the street or some place do not hesitate to say "hello" or just plain "hi." The reaction will be good and you will usually get a similar answer. We should be friendly with everybody whether we particularly like them or not.

The spirit of friendliness is entirely in line with Christianity. Can you imagine winning a person to Christ by making him feel that he is inferior to you, or that you would rather have nothing to do with him. Something like that would be impossible. Christ

THE LOWDOWN

From THE EDITOR

It will not be long until semester exams will be upon us and everyone will be burning the midnight oil once more. Last week all term work was to have been completed so that much is out of the way. We are all busy, that is true, and some of us will be busier, but I still think that there are a few things that are even more important than studying for finals. The one I am thinking of specifically now is keeping up on your private devotions. It is so easy to let up on devotions when we are busy and there is nothing that will harm us more than to relax from our devotion to God. It is faithfulness in the little and regular things of life that count. We should all heed Miss Chism's admonition of last Thursday when she urged us all to pray more.

Speaking of prayer, I wonder how many of us are remembering to pray for Cliff Cowley over at the hospital. He has been in the hospital for several months already and has several more months to go before he can leave. It is rather difficult to have to lie flat on your back for several months without moving. Let us all pray for him that God may touch him and raise him up speedily. After all God is still able to heal.

We were supposed to have received a letter from Hans, our adopted war orphan during Christmas, but because of a mix-up at the New York office, we got a letter from some little girl instead. This letter was returned but we have not received a letter yet. As soon as we hear from Hans we will publish the letter in the Crusader.

With the new semester there will be a number of new students. Let's do our best to make them welcome and help them to become acquainted with us and with N. N. C. There are several things here that new students just have to learn about, and the sooner we can make them feel at home the sooner they will become satisfied.

Missionary Society

Personal Visitation was the theme of the illustrative lecture given to the General Missionary society by the Rev. Kauffman on Thursday, January 6.

Instructions in practical Christian service, through personal work, were given, together with some of the benefits which have come to the Church of the Nazarene, as the result of personal visitation from door to door.

On January 13, Fairy Chism, a distinct member of the Alumni association of N. N. C., and a missionary from Africa, now on furlough, spoke to the Missionary society.

Her subject was "The World's Greatest Need, and the Christian's Greatest Weapon." She spoke on prayer and faith, and gave evidence of the part both have played in her life.

The Missionary society is in-did not refuse any man, and he did not give us the right to scorn anyone either. Rather, He commanded us that we should do good to all men, our enemies as well as our friends. There is no virtue in doing good for those that help you and are with you all the time, but if you go out and help someone who is on the outside, and win him you have accomplished a good thing.

The spirit of friendliness always pays off. If we are friendly with others we will have friends. If we help others, we can depend on them to help us when we are in need. Friends are about the most valuable things that we can possess in this world. Jesus is our greatest Friend and He considers every one His friends and tries to help them. Have we the right to forget those whom Jesus is interested in?

What's Your Opinion?

By HANNAH SCHMIDT

Question: What do you think about people?

What's the use thinking about them? They're unpredictable.—Maurice Palmquist.

People are funny. You can't predict, foretell, or surmise what will happen to them or how they will react. The perfect example of this is a college girl. The most predictable people are those like Franklin D. Roosevelt and George Washington, and they are dead. But, 'seeing as how' we live with people every day I rather enjoy it, especially the most unpredictable type.—Pete Burkhardt.

Some people wish they could think, some people do think, and some people think too much. As a result, people are tremendously interesting.—Lurene Farrow.

Travel brings one into contact with people from every walk of life. My trip home during Christmas was an adventure because of the people I encountered and with whom I became acquainted. It is interesting to note the differences between Americans and Canadians. They are all wonderful—well, most of them anyway.—Ruth Jacobson.

People are the most interesting paradox in the world. They are the most unpredictable and yet at the same time follow a familiar pattern. They respond to faith and interest.—Kenny Potter.

I think people are fun, interesting, disappointing, and sometimes crazy, but I'm glad at times to be associated with same.—Don Bozarth.

People are funny. There's nothing I enjoy more than people, especially if the joke is on the other guy.—Dutch Goehring.

People wander over sea, mountains, and plain in search of adventure, without realizing that the greatest wonder, and most exciting of all are people themselves.—Ray Hastings.

Registrar's Office Covered Up

Professor Wilson and Wanda Davis along with all their helpers have been as busy as Santa Claus and his elves during the past two weeks. And the end isn't in sight yet. Preparation for second semester registration, recording grades, filling out transcripts, checking over applications of new students, and many other jobs keep them busy from the proverbial "dawn to dusk." But . . . "experience is the best teacher," and they certainly are learning a lot from it.

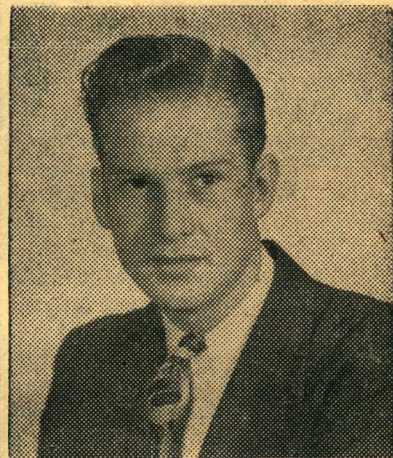

They have announced that the following courses are open to freshman registration second semester: Advanced typing, American government, applied psychology, art methods, beginning typing, beginning shorthand, cartooning, church school art, composition, creative chalk, economic geography, elementary clothing, English composition, ethics, fundamentals of speech, general botany, general zoology, introduction to psychology, interior decorating, N. T. survey, plane analytic geometry, plane trigonometry, poster design, psychology of elementary school subjects, principles of religious education, sketching, survey of missions, textiles, and western civilization.

Societies Elect Officers

The athletic-literary societies got a head start on next semester's activities by electing their presidents and program chairmen. The LSP's elected Kenneth Potter as president and Jack Hawthorne as program chairman. Paul Harris will preside over the Oly's with Eunice Lintz as program chairman. The ADP's selected Douglas Alexander and Alice Johnson while the SLA's chose Richard Hoyle and Norma Kastella as their officers.

debted to these outstanding personalities for the contributions which they have made to N. N. C.

Who's Who

Elected to Who's Who in American colleges and universities in October by our student body is another one of "those Vail boys," Virgil W. Vail, to be specific. Virg, as he is more familiarly known around the campus, is before the eyes of the students every day, as he is the genial gen who sets up the microphone each morning at the beginning of chapel. He is also well-known to the basketball fans who cheer him and the other varsity members at the game.

Virg has been around N. N. C. for quite a while, not that he hasn't been making the grade (or grades) in his school work, but his home has been on the edge of the campus for many years, and he is one of those kids who went to the academy and finally made it to college.

After attending N. N. C. for two years, Virg left us to teach at Nampa senior high for a year, and then spent part of the next year in service. Returning to the campus in 1947, Virg is now a senior majoring in math. Coming along back with him last year was a girl whom Virg met earlier in school, and one whom he decided could help him out on term papers, permanently. So now it's Virg and Max Vail, two friendly kids.

During his spare time Virg fiddles around with radios, and practices now and then on his trumpet. Once in a while he can be found out at the games rooting for the Oly's.

After graduation, Virg plans to teach in high school. Pretty lucky kids who can have a teacher who is a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Philosophy Club Meet

The next scheduled meeting of the Philosophy club will be held at 8 p. m., January 24, in Chapman parlor instead of the regularly scheduled date, Pete Burkhardt, program chairman, announced today.

Love Ends

By NORMA KASTELLA

Jeanne Johnson was seen pushing her wastebasket out of her room with the toe of her shoe at 2 a. m. A little mouse was just paying a friendly call.

A common sight in Chapman's parking lot these cold mornings is rolling one car down the hill to start it, then starting the next car by pushing with the first car. I wonder if this could be a bit more complicated.

I happened to hear Ray Hastings say, "Did you know Pete Burkhart, Wes Young and I are going on a trip around the world next summer?" A feminine voice pipes up, "that's cute." Ray indignantly answered, "Cute? We may have to work our own way around, unless you might know of someone who will sponsor such a venture."

I suppose you all know that Vi

Leighton, Pat Morris, and Eileen Fleming were snowbound in Egbert Wyo. This quiet little town was inhabited by 30 people until this train decided to make its abode there. The girls were really lucky though, they slept on SOFT wood floors and washed in snow.

Then there was Paul Swartz and his car load stranded in Custer, S. Dak. They were lucky enough to find cabins to rent but were forced to walk seven blocks in several feet of snow to procure food. Violet Scharmer wished daily that she had brought her boots along.

Since Herb Ketterling couldn't beat Paul Swartz to school, he and his car load decided they should at least have more to talk about so every day Marilyn Hoidal goes down the hall saying, "Did you know we were in three snowstorms?"

George McUne and Butch Bloomquist are going to sleep afternoons and study evenings. Well, another New Year's resolution going up in smoke.

Who says they need cats in Hadley hall to catch mice? A brand new invention just out, has proved more successful. This invention is called "Viris-Betty Human Mouse Trap." So far it is Viris-Betty, 2 mice, Spooks the cat 0 mice.

Wes Johnson has been plotting for some time how to get even with the girls and their new styles. He found the solution in a new, different haircut. He says, "It's the long and short of it."

The Christian War Veterans' organization will begin its mid-year drive for members beginning the third week in February. All old members are advised to contact any prospective members and outline the program of the Christian War Veterans to them.

Two groups of veterans will leave for week-end services at Pendleton, Ore., and Baker, Ore., on Feb. 3. It is still not too late to contact one of the officers of the organization if you wish to go on one of these trips.

Semper Fidelis

The Semper Fidelis organization has planned a trip to Kuna, January 23. It is the beginning of many trips which are to be made to outposts during the school year. The program, being planned by President Chester Wells, includes two numbers by the C. H. S. trio, Marilyn Miller, Donna Jean Maxwell, and Jan Murphy. A unique skit is also being organized.

Sophomore Spree

Members of the outdoor-loving sophomore class enjoyed their fill of freezing weather at their ice skating party Friday, January 7. The party, chaperoned by Quincy Angier, Shirley Foster, Rachel Shaw, and Keith Gilbert, was held at Sugar Beet lake. Each one brought his own refreshments to be sure he got enough to eat after such strenuous exercise.

Senior Class

The last meeting of the senior class was held January 11. The class chose the Latin motto, "Petimus Alta," meaning "We Seek the Heights." The class colors, chosen earlier in the year are green and gold. The seniors elected Jan Murphy to select a committee to make a scrapbook which is left to the school at the end of the year. A senior party is being planned for the near future. Plans for the annual senior sneak are reaching completion. Seniors are now ordering their pins and announcements.

Junior-Senior Banquet

The junior class is getting started early on plans for the annual formal junior-senior banquet. The committee heads have been appointed as follows: Programs, June Knapp; decorations, Flora Little; announcements, Jean Cook; dues, Myron Finkbeiner; clean-up, Annette Feiten. The banquet promises to be an outstanding affair in the College high activities.

Pep Club

The Trojanettes held their Pep club initiation Nov. 11 in the Chapman recreation room. Girls being initiated participated in a game of truth or consequences. After games refreshments were served. The party was also in honor of the football team. One of the main attractions of the evening was the presentation of the certificates for football letters, which will arrive later. Chester Wells was revealed as captain of the team.

H. L. (?) Club Formed

"H. L. is not a secret organization with secrets," explained Miss Wilson when asked to describe the high school's newest club which is under her sponsorship.

One of the outstanding secrets is the meaning of the letters H and L which compose the club's name. Miss Wilson stated that this will be the last secret to be divulged. Other secrets are the every-member secret number, the secret color, the secret song and the secret Scripture verse.

According to the club's initial announcement the only qualification for membership is that the applicant be a Christian, "feeble or strong."

H. L. meets once every month for a time of inspiration and recreation. In order to be eligible to attend these monthly meetings members must make a certain number of points. Points are given for church attendance, public testimony, daily prayer, etc.

Seventy-five students signed up for membership in the club and Miss Wilson announces that 45 have made enough points to be eligible for the January meeting.

At this January meeting the group will discuss plans for participation in "Operation X-1" the first personal work project of the new year. Yes, you've guessed it! This, too, is a secret—that is, until after the meeting!

What Is Your Opinion of the H. L. Club?

Donna Stiverson: "It is a very inspiring and helpful club."

Jan Murphy: "I think a secret organization for the Christians of C. H. S. is a very good idea because it keeps interest mounting all the time."

Curt Beukelman: "I think it is one of the better organizations on the campus."

Gene Thompson: "I feel assured that the H. L. club is fast becoming one of the most popular and useful clubs of C. H. S."

Clarence Olson: "I think that it is an addition which the school really needed."

Signal Hour

Signal Hour, sponsored by the Semper Fidelis, is well under way with its interesting meetings each Thursday and a number of good turnouts. Miss Wilson gives Bible talks every other week, with special speakers, music and prayer the main features of the other meetings. "We are planning better and more interesting meetings for the future by endeavoring to create more interest in each meeting of the Signal Hour," said Betty Hamilton, program chairman for the meetings. The meetings are held each Thursday at 12:45 in Room 6. Each member of the student body is cordially invited to attend.

MISSING PERSONS

Missing as yet is Miss Dorothy Nicol. She is evidently snow-bound or having a very good time. Let's hope she will make it back pretty soon.

Basil Fritch arrived Jan. 10 and was smiling constantly over his food in the dining hall. Taking all this into consideration, he must not have had too strenuous a return trip. Let's give him a big hearty welcome back—shall we, gang?

Prof. Sharp: "I don't either, but it's the lowest mark I'm allowed to give!"

Operators Learn

"Operator, I've been cut off!" "Ow-w-w, my ear!" "Oh, I'm so-o-o-o sorry!" These and various and sundry other remarks have been heard around the campus during the past week as the girls have been learning to operate the new switchboard. It's certainly been hard on the customers, too.

Bookstore Rush

"Things are coming to a pretty head when I have to work and get my hands dirty," complained Mrs. Johnson when asked if the rush that had hit the campus had affected her department.

New books coming in, old books going out, prices to look up—all have to be sandwiched in between waiting on customers and handling the rest of the duties of the bookstore. But preparations still go ahead for the second semester and things are expected to be well settled in time for another rush.

One happy feature about N. N. C. is the future. The future always presents undefeated basketball teams, baseball teams that win four per cent of their games, great track stars, etc., etc.

Maybe the time has come when the future, not only looks good but is good as well. At least a look at this year's freshman crop makes it appear so.

In basketball, for example, Millard Reynolds, the Kelso Comet, and Whitey Johnson have already won their spurs on the varsity with their sterling play, and Chet Galloway has shown an excellent brand of ball for the orange squad.

Not to be outdone the jayvees have one of the finest teams to represent the school in a long time, and next year with added experience they'll be hard to stop. Notable among them are long shot artist, Mike Williamson, who looks better with every game, Lloyd Hubbard and Merle Isles, the high jumping forwards, and big Doug Alexander whose amazing improvement has moved him to the starting five.

With these seven as a nucleus and more to come it won't be the players' fault if N. N. C. languishes in the doldrums during the next few years.

Skiers Travel Again

Your reporter has again limped back from a strenuous day of skiing. In fact, he is still limping, as are several others who found time to go on the ski trip to Bogus Basin sponsored by our ski club. In spite of the accidents and hazards involved, everyone who has gone on these trips seems to feel that the sport of skiing is far more exciting and enjoyable than is any other winter sport.

Two of those who were unfortunate during the day were John Kell and Don Bozarth, who both suffered wrenched knees. Hubert Hendricks, instead of being conventional and spraining an ankle or wrenching a knee, somehow broke one of his skis. Several were on skis for the first time and they were surprised by the "swift progress" they made the first day.

Clarence Peterson was far up the hill when he lost one of his skis and the loose ski went hurtling down the hill. Several gave chase to it but they couldn't keep up with it, much less catch it. For a few anxious moments, it was feared the ski might hit someone with disastrous effects. When the runaway ski smashed against a pole it was ruined, but everyone was relieved that it had caused no damage.

Crusaders End Trip

N. N. C.'s Crusaders returned from their holiday road trips last week after losing six games during the eight-game tour. They took victories from Montana State Teachers, 63-51 and Huron college, 57-48, as Cramer scored 21 points in the first encounter and Dean set the pace with 12 in the latter.

The lost to Whapeton School of Science 52-43 as Kiel scored 14 tallies to lead the losing effort, dropped an 82-39 decision to Cal. Poly with Jamison scoring 9 points, succumbed to Humboldt State 57-41 despite Dean's 13 markers, and suffered a 68-50 trimming at the hands of Southern Oregon with Dean keeping the Crusaders in the game as he hit the bucket for 22 points.

Eastern Oregon gained revenge for two earlier defeats by winning 52-47 and 33-32 at LaGrande last week. Cramer with 16 and 10 and Kiel with 16 and 9 led scoring for the Crusaders.

Statistics for the season through the Eastern Oregon tilts follow:

Team Returns

Tiny Bellamy's Junior Varsity cagers returned home this week with one victory in three games during their recent four-day road trip through southern Washington.

Behind the shooting of big Lloyd Hubbard and Mike Williamson, the jayvees trimmed Centerville's town team 48-33, after holding a narrow 21-19 lead at half-time.

Goldendale's C. of C. quintet took two victories from the traveling orange team, winning Thursday night 57-38 as Williamson kept the J. V.'s in the game with 14 points.

The junior varsity made a much closer battle of Saturday's game, losing 47-40. The jayvees held a 23-15 edge at intermission but the loss of Isles late in the first half on fouls crippled Bellamy's crew. Isles with 12 points and Alexander with 9 led the losers.

Trojans Win Five Out of Six Games

Elmore Vail's Trojans added four games to their victory string during the last few weeks to bring their season's record to five triumphs in six starts.

Led by Beukelman and Dean the Trojans gained revenge for their lone defeat of the season by swamping Kuna 51 to 33. The game was marked by keen competition but the accuracy of the C. H. S. lads from the free throw line paid off.

Greenleaf fell before the Nazarene onslaught Jan. 4 to the tune of 41 to 34. Beukelman and Dean with 18 and 14 points led the scorers.

Before a packed house at Central auditorium the Trojans walloped the Nampa Sophs 41-22 Jan. 8. Beukelman and Dean again set the pace by bucketing 13 and 12 points respectively.

After a close first quarter which ended 9-8 the Trojans pulled away to trim St. Teresa Academy 40-25. Finkbeiner with 12 points and Dean with 9 led the point parade.

Looking Around

By ROMA MITCHELL

With a team that clicked, the ADP girls swept the basketball tournament this year. High scoring, Pat Johnson, led the team to their victory. Working with her as forwards were Brenita Dean and Alberta Brown.

But without good guards victory would not be attained. Wathene Fitch, Dorothy Edwards and Mary Alice Miller proved to be very valuable. Substitutes were Jean Kirkpatrick and Janette Pease.

Head referee, Barbara Kononen, has done her best to find some good "refs" for the girls' games. So far all the societies but the LSP's have a representative. Bette Harding or Millie Becker for the SLA's, Pat Johnson for the ADP's and Roma Mitchell for the Oly's.

This writer was told to pick out an all-star girls' basketball team, but having a little sense, I am not going to take my life in your hands. Your guess is as good as mine.

Jayvees Play Local Teams

The N. N. C. Jayvees have been a busy team recently, having played three games in the city league and the College of Idaho J. V.'s.

Ed's Market was the first quintet played in the league and the J. V.'s triumphed 48-44. Nampa Lumber was defeated 58-36 with Wesche and Williamson as high point men with 12 and 10 points. Latest league win was 36-31 decision over the P. F. E. shop's five, Isles and Hendrix with 6 points each led the scoring.

In a fast moving game with the C. of I. second string at Caldwell the locals were overpowered by a 37-29 margin. Isles and Hubbard with 8 points each led the orange and black while Kennedy paced the winners with 12 tallies.
