Return of Board of Regents Brings Memories; NNC Now 35 Years Old

By JEAN KIRKPATRICK

More than 35 years ago God revealed to Eugene Emerson an idea for a certain type of Christian institution in the northwest; and because of this vision, Northwest Nazarene college is in existence today.

In September, 1913, the school was opened with 13 pupils. During the first semester, more students entered, and the total enrollment for that semester was probably not more than 20. So small was the beginning of the school that this question was often asked by the citizens of the community: "Do you think the school will ever amount to anything?" The answer was always, "Yes, in time, God will build a great school in Nampa."

Even in the beginning, however, the vision for Christian education was not limited to a small grade school; and in 1915 with the administration building not yet completed, the first college work was begun with Marcus and Emma Cook, Estelle Curray, Vivian Cathey and Ruth Doane as our first college students.

The first president of NNC, Dr. H. Orton Wiley, received the call to its presidency in 1916. He accepted, moving here in 1917, and stayed at NNC through 10 unforgettable years of toil and sacrifice, laying the foundation for a college of deep spiritual ideals to serve the Church of the Nazarene in fulfilling its world-wide call to evangelism.

Those who attended the commencement exercises in 1917, when President Wiley conferred the first degrees upon a class of four: Harriet Boozee, Daniel Hallstrom, Merle Thompson, and Myrtlebell Walters (Parsons), rejoiced, no doubt, in eager anticipation of what the future was to offer Northwest Nazarene college. But who could realize all of the difficulties of the task awaiting him who was to build a college upon what was then a rather meager and frail foundation? One of the greatest difficulties facing the new president was the problem of financial support. The Northwest which at that time comprised only one district of the church did not wish the school to be located in Nampa. In time, of course, a constituency was built up, but no very definite method of securing financial support, apart from direct appeal to churches and individuals, was formed until the school had later been assigned to a definite zone by the general church.

The following song rendered by the sophomores and juniors at the senior entertainment in 1919 may suggest memories of the environment (sung to the tune of "The Old Oaken Bucket" and not intended to be too serious):

How I long for a breakfast of biscuits and syrup,
Of oatmeal and coffee, and of milk thin and blue!
And, oh, for a taste of the old liver pudding,
All flavors with onions and hot pepper, too!
The old mashed potatoes, the thickened brown gravy,
The delicious old brown bread,

Alumni Be Presented Program by Choir

To climax homecoming week at the college, a program of music will be presented Friday evening, Feb. 25, at 8:15 in the chapel.

The program will feature Eunice Lintz, Pat Bolerjack and Lyndol Pullen from the a cappella choir the girls' sextet, composed of Bette Harding, Betty Griffith, Dorothy Davis, Pat Johnson, Eunice Lintz, and Carol Sharp will sing. The entire choir will also present a number. Carol Sharp will sing and a brass quartet will play.

English Dept. Holding Contest

With a $5.00 first prize offered, the English department has announced the opening for a contest for themes on the subjects, "Why Go to College" and "Why Go to a Holiness College." All students may participate in this contest and the 10 highest themes judged by the English department will be sent to Dr. Corlett and Mr. Johnson who will pick the two best works.

All of the districts on the educational zone of the college will receive these themes in pamphlet form for distribution. All themes should be turned in to Miss Washburn, Miss Dooley, or Miss Lawrence before 5 p. m. Friday, February 25.

B. C. A. to Hold Art Sale

During home-coming week Beta Chi Alpha, Art club of NNC, will sponsor an art sale to be held Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week. Miniatures in oil, pastels and water colors will be on display in the administration building for any who may wish to purchase them.

College Dept. Is 'Key to Success'

By TOM KELLY

The Rev. Riley stated last week in the church bulletin that "The secret of success in this third annual attendance contest lies with the COLLEGE DEPARTMENT and our NNC SCHOOL SPIRIT." If you stop and think this over, you will realize that you, in this case anyway, are an important person. Whether you think you are noticed anywhere else around the campus, when 10 o'clock Sunday morning arrives you immediately change from a nonentity to an entity. You become important just by being in Sunday school. If you wish, you may recite or listen, but it is not compulsory to do either one. However, if you are not present, you are hindering the progress of the contest, for, "if we are not going ahead, we are falling behind."

If you will stop and look at the Sunday school attendance record in the hallway, you will note that when the college department of the Sunday school is up, the whole Sunday school is up. This also

Alumni Return for Homecoming Week; Full Program Scheduled

REV. PAUL D. MANGUM
President Alumni Association

Looking Forward To Homecoming

By Paul D. Mangum

"Homecoming Day" is looked forward to by every member of the Alumni of Northwest Nazarene College. For the last few months I have tried to mention "Homecoming Day" to every Alumni member I have met. The fact that we are having a Homecoming Day at N.N.C. has been received enthusiastically.

Homecoming is a time when we once again are privileged to feel the Spirit of N.N.C. This Christian spirit is one that graduates will never forget. Every young preacher who leaves the halls of N.N.C. prays for a revival in his own pastorate such as he witnessed at N.N.C. Every one of our consecrated laymen who has attended N.N.C. looks forward to an outpouring of the Holy Spirit such as was experienced in the great college revivals. This spirit, which is carried into all the activities of college life, is what we long to feel and we know that we shall feel as we once again visit our Alma Mater.

Homecoming is a time when we shall see and be thrilled with the Physical and Educational progress that our school has made. These two are a necessity in carrying on the great work of God. More students given a greater variety of subjects means more lives reached and saved to the cause of Christ. We realize that all of these goals have not been attained and we want to be a part of every forward move that someday they shall be a reality.

The professors at N.N.C. have contributed in no small way to our lives. We look forward to seeing them again and recalling the many interesting incidents of the "good old days."

Homecoming is a time when we get to see classmates of days gone by. I have always felt that one makes more lasting friends in a Christian College than any place else in the world. Yes, Homecoming Day should be a wonderful day and this year is just the beginning of what we hope will be an annual affair which will be marked on the calendar of every graduate and former student as the day to visit N.N.C.

Taylorson Speaks To Alumni, Students

This week the alumni and all former students are returning to their alma mater for Homecoming week. Thursday, February 24, is to be Homecoming day with varied activities for alumni and students.

The day will begin at 9 o'clock with registration in the main hall of the administration building, under the direction of Cameron Bean and Howard Dobbs. An opportunity to visit the classes of former professors, escorted by present students, will be given the graduates following chapel. Nelson Ammons and Frances Urschel will conduct a tour of the new nurses' dormitory, Mangum hall.

"What Communism Means to Our Constitution" will be the subject of a talk to be given by the Rev. George Taylorson at the alumni chapel service to be held Thursday at 9:45 a. m.

The Rev. George Taylorson graduated with the class of 1931, and has been very successful in the work of the ministry. He has served pastorates at First Church, Billings, Mont.; First Church, San Francisco, and is in his ninth year as pastor of First Church, Spokane, Wash.

Rev. Taylorson has been very prominent in the young people's work and for two quadrenniums has been a member of the general executive committee of the Nazarene Young People's society. He was president of the Alumni association of the college for several years and for the past four years has been a member of the board of regents.

NNC's dining hall will be the scene of an alumni dinner at 6:15 p. m., under the supervision of Marita Lee. Cost of the dinner will be $1.25 per person.

Other activities of the day will be an art exhibit and an Oasis display conducted by Lois Lindbloom and Helen Thompson in the alumni office of the library, according to Mrs. Doris Lisk, '40, who is in charge of the day's activities. The Mills-Cunningham intramural basketball playoff will take place in the college gymnasium at 8:15.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served to the alumni in the Chapman hall recreation room following the game.

Mrs. Varro Tells Of Conditions in China

Mrs. Michael Varro, missionary from China, returned because of critical conditions existing in China, gave a Missionary address recently.

She explained the differences between the people of the North and the South, and gave reasons why the Missionary work is being hindered. Her husband is continuing the work when circumstances permit. The need in China is crucial because of the great threat of Communism to Christianity. She closed her message with a challenge to pray that God will intervene, and that conditions will soon be such that she and her family will be able to rejoin her husband in the battle for God and his kingdom.

Tip-Off Night Set for March 1st; Queen's Identity to Be Revealed

Tip-off night, climax to each year's basketball season, will be staged March 1 at Central auditorium with Pacific as the opponent.

Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the tip-off queen, with all its surrounding glory, and the halftime program to be provided by the faculty.

The identity of the queen will be known by only five persons until the fateful night when she will be handed a bouquet of roses just before the processional.

The princesses for the event will be Mary Lou Anderson, Shirley Ford, Carol Sharp, Joanne Burkhart and Lois Neubauer. One of the latter three will be crowned her royal highness under the new setup this year, which requires that the queen be an upperclassman. Ken Sulston, ASB prexy, will coronate her royal highness.

The entire program is in charge of the N club which sponsors the night and selects the nominees for the student body to vote on. Music will be in charge of Dick Friesen and the German band. The Men's club will be in charge of the processional, and the AWS in charge of the throne.

Escorts chosen by the Gamma Nu Gamma for the princesses and the queen include Don Farrand, Elmore Vail, Fred Fowler, Virgil Vail and Bob Kiel.

THE VALUE OF HONESTY

By ALVIN H. KAUFFMAN

There is a very real sense in which the basic personal virtue is honesty. Were we to examine this fact, we would find that without honesty all of the other qualities which a person might have fade into insignificance. It is fitting, at the commemoration of the birth of George Washington, that we think upon the importance of this virtue.

It was recently stated that of all of the credentials which a prospective employee might bring with him, the one which is most highly desired is honesty. We honor Washington because it is said that he never told a lie. We call Lincoln "Honest Abe." Why is this so? It is simply because a person who can be trusted is a person who will be trusted.

Personal honesty may be manifested in truthfulness, discipline, and humility. Who of us has not found it easy to rationalize—or evade the truth when it might serve our purpose to do so? Honesty stands for truth. How often have we over-indulged in things all right in themselves before we were honest enough to control our desires? Honesty stands for discipline. Is there any one of us who has not had to be taught by experience that he was not "the only pebble on the beach?" Honesty stands for humility.

Social honesty, that rare and priceless gem, is of graver consequence since it involves the lives of others. Do we take advantage of others in any of our relations with them? There are many ways in a college in which this is extremely easy to do. Are we considerate of the needs of others? Certainly the well-bred person should be able to answer in the affirmative. How many times have we gone out of our way to help another? Honesty demands that we treat our fellowman as we would have him treat us.

Spiritual honesty, which grows in the soil of the Christian's heart, demands that we face God's truth squarely, even if it hurts. It demands that we perform all of our spiritual responsibilities, not only the easy ones. It demands that we give all of our devotion to Him, not just on Sunday.

What value would you place on a person who possessed a great intellect but who lacked honesty? Of what value would one be if he had great ambitions, great talents, great courage, great wealth, yes, even love, if he couldn't trust himself, if others couldn't trust him, and if God couldn't trust him? Remember, a person who can be trusted will be trusted.

"I hope I shall always possess firmness and virtue enough to maintain what I consider the most envious of all titles, the character of an 'Honest Man'."—George Washington.

RETURN OF BOARD OF REGENTS BRINGS MEMORIES

tho' sometimes it fell;
The smacking-good dressing that kept us a-guessing,
And e'en those old brown beans we all loved so well.

Chorus

Those happy old school days,
Those golden old rule days,
Those fast-gliding school days
Of old NNC.

When one considers that the total enrollment in the institution increased by 250 per cent within a period of three years, it is not difficult to see that the school was growing rapidly. The finances were unbelievably hard in those days, according to Mr. Wiley, and he adds the following concerning the faculty: "The faculties of those days were intensely loyal and self-sacrificing. There were more lean years than fat ones, if any of them could be called fat, but the professors stood by and together they all prayed; sometimes there were all nights of prayer. Some way God saw them through. One realizes now more than ever some of the close places through which He brought them, but He never failed them in the greatest emergencies. While the days were hard and sometimes the battles of faith severe, they learned many lessons of rich spiritual truth and feel praise to God for the opportunity of having had some little part in laying the foundation of Northwest Nazarene college."

The present members of the board of regents are:

Idaho-Oregon district: Rev. J. A. McNatt, Roy Olmstead, Rev. Carl J. Kinzler, Rev. Melza H. Brown, Rev. Albert Neuschwanger

Washington-Pacific: Dr. B. V. Seals, Rev. H. S. Palmquist, Rev. Roy J. Yeider.

THE LOWDOWN

From THE EDITOR

We are printing a special edition of the N.N.C. Crusader this week because of Homecoming Week. Homecoming week is a new feature here at N.N.C. so it may not be as big an affair as it is in some colleges, but we feel sure that it will be worth while.

During Homecoming week we are having two special groups of guests: the alumni and the Board of Regents who are meeting Wednesday. The student body is honored by having these guests with us at this time. It is up to us to make them feel welcome and show them a good time.

Through the remainder of this week there will be special events and program for the benefit of the Alumni. It is our aim to remind them of "the good old days" when they were in school. N.N.C. is still the place it used to be where we not only learn and have fun, but we also emphasize true Christian experience.

It will not be too long until some of us will be leaving here and going our separate ways, but that does not mean that we should forget about N.N.C. Those who have gone out from here often reflect with happiness of their days here at N.N.C. Those who are able to come back will be able to relive some of those former days. They will be able to visit some of their old classes, see some of their old classmates, and possibly even remind some professor of the hard times they had with them. Homecoming is a good institution, and we hope that it will be continued and developed in the future.

I would like to say just a word about the Societies. We are now well on the way into the second semester, but it is not too late for everyone to get in and work for his society. Let's try to build up society spirit for if we do our whole intramural program will be helped. If we just drag along before we know it the societies will become a burden and a bother rather than a program of constructive activity.

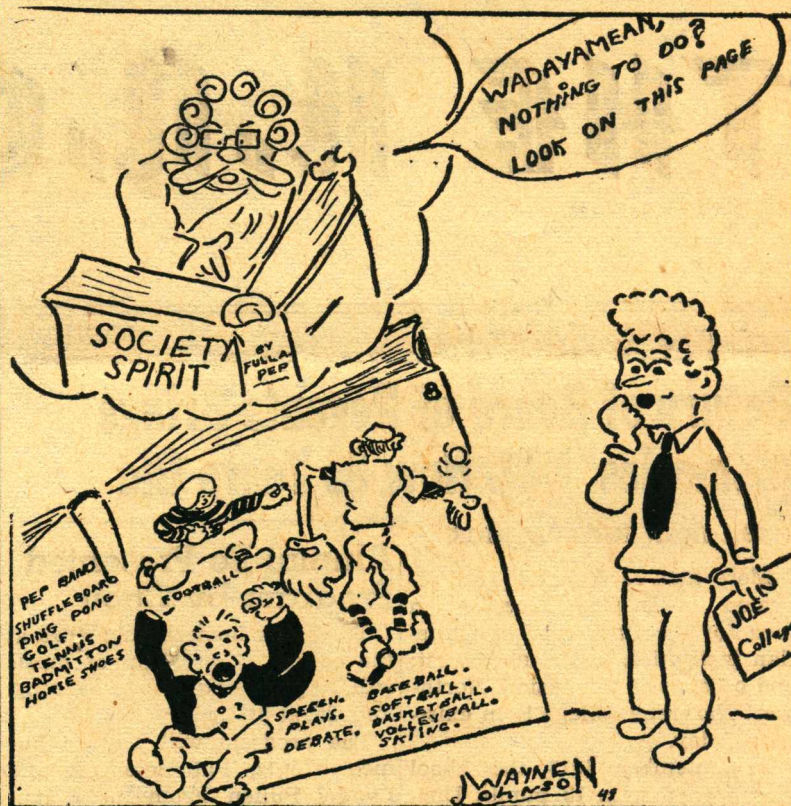

Bugle Notes

By RICHARD J. DICKSON

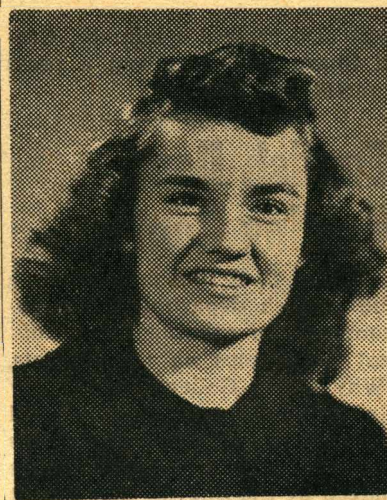

Since the last time we sounded off, there has been a great deal of activity on the part of some of NNC's budding preachers and singers. To clarify matters more the writer of this column would insert an additional phrase to say that all of the activity was not in the usual repertoire of such a company. Some of the activity was in the form of working on the business end of a shovel—the objective being the removal of a snow drift on one of Oregon's great highways.

Despite the blizzards raging without the churches, the Gospel teams of the Veterans For Christ saw many victories about the altars at both Milton and Pendleton, Oregon. Those that made the trip will be telling about the "Big Snow of 1949," so beware their approach, for they'll talk your arm off about it.

The presence of the Lord was greatly felt in the Young People's Service at College Church a week ago when the Veteran's For Christ once more brought the evening program. We are always thankful for the opportunity to present a gospel service at College Church because of the fine response they give to our program.

From Walla Walla, the town they like so well they named it twice, Washington, comes this senior girl, an electee of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The female member of the Burkhart trio, Joanne, with her friendly smile and winning personality, soon got into the swing of campus activities early in her freshman year. Now in her fourth year at NNC Joanne has participated in nearly every activity on the campus.

Joanne is a loyal Olympian, helping the Olys more than once to win a volleyball or basketball game. Interested in speech and dramatics, Joanne is often in demand for her clever readings.

Duties as president of the AWS this year occupy much of her time, and Joanne is also president of the Home Economics club. A home ec major, Joanne makes a good deal of her own clothes.

Joanne plans to put her home economic courses into practical use early in June when she receives her MRS degree. While gaining an education, she lost her heart along the way, and has promise of its return by Ronald Weatherford upon her graduation this spring.

However, Joanne will not only use her knowledge of home ec in her own home, for she plans to teach it for two or three years.

And so to Joanne Burkhart, a Christian friend and student, goes membership in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

COLLEGE DEPARTMENTS IS KEY TO SUCCESS

works in reverse, when the college department is down the rest of the Sunday school also spirals downward. Thus, the statement, "The college department is the key to success—the key to the contest," is true when the facts are examined.

Love Ends

By NORMA KASTELLA

Gwen Stinnette is badly in need of a ruler she can see. These plastic rulers just aren't practical for her. She wastes more time looking for the ruler.

Four girls learned an awful lot one night when they decided to take a car and go downtown for something to eat. They learned what a police car looks like at night, and that arguing with a policeman is vain whether you are innocent or not. So far they have maintained their innocence and say "But we did stop at that stop sign." With one member on the debate team and the other three should be, how could they fail, Professor Wilson?

Does anyone have a song leader they will sell cheap? The second section of Western Civ is in need of one. Tom Kelly isn't doing too well. Of course if anyone will volunteer to teach him to sing, Western Civ will bear with you.

This is off the record, but when Gene Eitzen was in Chapman Hall recently he was heard to remark, "It's sure nice to be back."

Alumni Return Again; Recital Presented

For the benefit of the freshmen and other students who have never been here before, the alumni have been coming back to NNC regularly every year. Last year they were here for the tip-off and a section of the gym was reserved for them during the tip-off game and the coronation of the queen.

Members of the Alumni association helped in making arrangements for the tip-off and Dr. W. O. Young of the Alumni association was a member of the tip-off committee. Two alumni, Dr. Young and Miss Wanda Davis, were in charge of alumni entertainment and they helped in the alumni gathering which assembled in the recreation room of Chapman hall after the game between Pasadena and NNC. This year alumni home-coming week precedes the tip-off by one week.

These memories of the results of Eugene Emerson's vision come to us as the board of regents convenes at the beginning of a new semester, 1949, with a college enrollment of over 1064.

Short Shorts From College High School

Thanks to Miss Larson

The Letterman's club extends a hearty "Thank You" to Miss Larson and members of the Pep club for the fine job of decorating the gym for the homecoming night. In this way you "have ended a beautiful day in a beautiful way."

Signal Hour

The Signal Hour, a half hour devotional period Thursdays, has provided some very helpful "food for thought" during the past few weeks. Meeting at 12:45 during the noon hour, the group has heard some very interesting talks. Prof. Hilliard gave an inspiring talk on "Reverence." Other speakers in past weeks have been Prof. Laughlin; Elmore Vail, representing the basketball team; Miss Larson, the Pep club, and Basil Fritch, chaplain of the Hi-Y, representing that group. Also, special music has been enjoyed.

Chester Wells, president of Semper Fidelis, the group which sponsors the hour, extends a cordial welcome to all to attend future meetings.

and at 4 o'clock an announcement was made as to the three winners. They were Jeanne Conrey, Marilyn Miller and LaVaun Pearce. From that time until about 8 o'clock on "that night," the girls were busily preparing for the 'big occasion' when one would become queen.

As Eunice Lintz played the piano, the royal procession began. First came Lowell and Calvin Dean carrying the crown on a small satin pillow. Then came Princess Marilyn Miller with her escort, Howard Johnson. Second was Jeanne Conrey with Chester Wells as her escort. Third in the royal procession came our queen, LaVaun Pearce, carrying a bouquet of long stemmed roses. Her escort was our senior class president, Gene Thompson.

As her highness reached center of the gym, Clarence Olson came forward, and placing the crown on her head, said, "I crown thee Queen Lonnie."

The procession then moved toward the throne and each girl took her place—Princess Jeanne on the right, Princess Marilyn on the left and Queen Lonnie in the center—there to reign for the remainder of the evening.

At a party in Morrison dining room, following the varsity game, the royal ladies and the three other candidates, with their escorts were guests of honor.

Others invited were the teams participating in the main game, their coaches, cheerleaders and principals. Refreshments were served by members of the Pep club.

Music for the occasion was provided by the high school trio, Donna Jean Maxwell, Marilyn Miller and Jan Murphy.

COME TO CHRISTIAN WORKERS' BAND

Christian Workers' Band extends a sincere welcome to new and old students to attend its services which are held in the Speech Hall every Saturday night at 7:15.

Each service is varied, with different students taking part each time.

The evangelistic groups sponsored by the Band have enjoyed good results, because of the presence of the Lord in their midst.

Miss Wilson III

We all were sorry to hear that Miss Wilson was taken to the hospital. We hope she will be back with us soon. Let's remember her in prayer.

Samaritan Nurses Honored At Party

By LILLIAN DOERKSON

The students were guests of the staff at the Valentine party held in Mangum hall on February 14. Miss Elnora Johnson made a very charming capable Dr. I. Q. and the contestants were rewarded with candy hearts (dollars) or candy bars for those who were unable to answer questions such as: to locate geographically "The Islands of Langerhans" or "The Haversian Canal."

Switching to that other network the program changed to "Twenty Questions" and revealed some budding "Bobby McGuires."

The playing of familiar love songs found everyone humming the tune but few brave enough to sing for his supper. However, the shyness disappeared when the refreshments of pie a la mode and coffee were served. The staff went that extra mile in making home-made ice cream and pie and their efforts were appreciated by all.

A tour through Mangum hall has been arranged for homecoming day. I can see that the mops and polishers will be in great demand again. However, since the hospital board will be meeting that day, they will no doubt be inspecting the building, too. Since we'll be dressed in our best "bib and tucker" for them it will be a good time for the alumni to visit us, too.

Music Class

Under the leadership of Prof. Hughes, the music class organized for the second semester.

The officers elected were as follows: President, Don Thompson; secretary-treasurer, Gloria Selz; attendance, Betty Brown; librarian, Myron Finkbeiner; social committee, June Knapp, chairman, Marilyn Miller and LaVaun Pearce.

The class is now preparing for the music festival to be held this spring. They are in hopes of making the finals in some divisions. To be entered are: Mixed chorus, girls' glee and small groups such as sextets, trios, quartets, a mixed octet and solos.

RECITAL PRESENTED

Music students were presented in recital last Wednesday afternoon, February 16, in the chapel.

The program included Musicians Gail Riley, Anna Mae Baurele, Jo Ann Hutchinson, Jim Carkhuff, Genevieve Motyka, Arthur Alyea, Beulah Tolson, Charlotte Edgar, and Eunice Lintz.

Her royal highness, Queen "Lonnie" and Princesses Marilyn Miller and Jean Conrey, were cheered by their loyal subjects, the College high, at their homecoming basketball game February 15, in the college gym.

"Lonnie," LaVaun Pearce was chosen by the entire student body

The newly organized "Lettermen's" club elected six girls to be candidates for homecoming queen. These girls were Jeanne Conrey, Donna Jean Maxwell, Marilyn Miller, Jan Murphy, LaVaun Pearce and Ina Stiverson.

The next day at a special assembly of the CHS student body these girls were introduced. That same day, the election was held Johnson Sets Season Record With 30 Pts.

Girls Standings	W	L
SLA	4	0
ADP	1	1
LSP	1	2
Oly	0	3

High-scoring Pat Johnson hit the peak scoring performance of the current girls' basketball season last week as she scorched the hoop for 30 points in leading the ADP's to a 36-30 conquest of the LSP's. Jeanne Hutchinson notched 17 tallies to lead the losers.

Paced by Peppley, Mitchell and Cavendar the Olys battled on even terms with the powerful SLA before dropping a close 32-30 contest. Becker bucketed 22 points and Bailey made 10 to lead the victors.

The SLA's continued their winning ways by downing the LSP's 28-20 as Becker again set the pace with 18 points. Hutchinson was best for the losers with 9.

Behind the sharp-shooting of Millie Becker the strong SLA's trimmed their closest competitor, the ADP's, in the opening game of the second semester basketball race, despite the valiant attempts of Pat Johnson to keep her mates in the game. Johnson and Dean led a losing cause while Becker, Anderson and Bailey paced the victors.

In a battle of perennial also-rans the LSP's sneaked past the Olys 14-12. Ina Stiverson was the big gun for the winners as she caked 12 of the winning points. The Olys were forced to play the entire first half with only two forwards and this disadvantage was too much for them to overcome.

The SLA's moved farther out in front when they trounced the hapless Olys by a wide margin. Again it was Becker who led the pointmakers for the winners as well as setting up numerous tallies for her teammates.

ADPs Move to Top With 36-33 Win

Standings	W	L
ADP	2	0
SLA	2	1
LSP	1	2
Oly	0	2

Sharp-shooting Loren Sanders led his ADP mates to the top spot in boys' basketball last week as they trimmed the defending champion LSP's 36-33 in a nip and tuck struggle. Sanders flipped in 14 points to lead the winners' attack.

The SLA's moved back into the title picture by coping two victories as they trimmed the Olys 29-16 and bounced the luckless LSP's 31-29 in a thriller.

Hubbard and Hibbard led them to their triumph of the Oly's as each garnered 8 points. Lloyd Hills caked five for the vanquished.

The LSP's never trailed by more than three points as they lost to the SLA's. Halftime score was 18-15 for the winners. Hopkins kept the losers in the contest as he slipped through 18 points. Hubbard with 9 was best for the winners.

F. H. A. Meets

The Future Homemakers of America met Monday, Feb. 14 at the meeting Mrs. Fred, the home economics teacher, showed the girls how to pack boxes to send to the German school. They plan to send one box a week.

Two measures were passed in the business meeting; one, to send a delegate to the state convention at Boise in the spring; the other to have meetings more often.

SPORTS

Crusaders Lose Again To Broncs, Loggers

Boise Junior college tagged NNC's Crusaders with their fourteenth loss in a row Monday night as they came from far behind to bowl over the orange and black team, 54-46.

The Crusaders appeared headed for an easy triumph in the early stages of the game, leading at one time by 12 points, 20-8, and at halftime 25-17. However, the Broncs came roaring from nowhere in the final period to tie the score at 31 all and then move ahead to a commanding lead.

Rangy John Cramer was the Crusaders' only consistent scoring threat as he caged 13 points. Coley led the Broncs with 14, most of them in the last half.

Northern Idaho dropped the Crusaders twice here last week by scores of 61-60 and 63-50. Cramer led the locals in the first game as NNC all but snapped their losing streak. Carlyle Dean's last second basket was nullified, costing the Crusaders the game.

The Loggers ran rampant in the second game gaining a wide margin in the early moments and never being headed.

Boise Jr. Varsity Snaps Trojan Streak

By losing to Boise Jr. Varsity the Trojans brought their win streak to a close at 12 victories. The final score was 46-37, as the Boiseans proved too hot to miss. Jay Dean and Clarence Olsen did their best to pull the game out of the fire by running up 14 and 13 points, respectively.

Lavon Pierce, CHS coming queen, was crowned between games of the doubleheader with Greenleaf as the CHS aggregation came through by winning both contests.

The varsity had little trouble in taking a lopsided 47-30 decision. Dean with 16 tallies was easily the outstanding player on the floor.

The Trojans massacred their arch-rivals, the Nampa Sophs, for the fourth straight time, handing them a 46-26 trouncing. Myron Finkbeiner and Curt Beukelman contributed 15 and 14 points to lead the Trojan cause.

smothered and came back with two field goals by Hubbard and a free throw tossed in by Williamson, putting them out front by one point. The lead alternated between the two teams and was tied at three different times, 5-5, 16-16, and 19-19. The first half ended with C. of I. on the larger end of the score, 24-21.

Scoring honors went to Alexander with 19 points.

Defending champions for the third straight time, the LSP's will have an opportunity to gain permanent possession of the trophy when they open plan in the annual Mills-Cunningham intramural basketball tournament this afternoon against the Olys, at 4:00 o'clock.

The ADP's and SLA's will tangle in the second game with the losers clashing at 7:00 tomorrow evening for consolation honors. The championship tilt will get underway at 8:15.

Climax to each season's society slate and highlight of homecoming week the Mills-Cunningham trophy was inaugurated by two former students of NNC, Harry Mills and Bill Cunningham. Mr. Mills is now principal of Nampa high school and Mr. Cunningham, a former coach at Nampa high, is now in private business in the city.

Under the tourney rules the first society to capture the event three time in succession gains permanent possession of the trophy. The Olys won the cup in 1945 and '46 but found the final hurdle too much and lost to the LSP's in '47. Last year the LSP's won again in an upset thriller, 33-32. Whether they can overcome the third year jinx or not remains to be seen.

Pre-tourney dope, however, points to the Olys as favorites with the SLA's and ADP's given the best chance to stop them. The defending champions are not rated too highly this year as they have already lost two games in the season semester society slate. Their surprise triumphs of last year makes them a dangerous entry.

Intramural basketball will be at its best today and tomorrow when the Mills-Cunningham tournament playoffs take place. Present indications point to one of the closest tourneys on record with four virtually evenly-matched quintets.

This dopester is not the dope he is cracked up to be and therefore the following recapitulation of the relative strength of each society should not be construed as a prediction; it is merely the thoughts of an expert.

From here the Olys appear to have the number one aggregation of the lot. With Fred Fowler, the ex-varsity star, and Dean Gallo-way, who gets our nod as the most underrated athlete on the campus, to light their path, and lads like Glen Embree, Mike Williamson and Harold Long to back them up they appear as the team to beat.

Next in line are the SLA's who are loaded with enough talent to drop most anyone if they hit a hot streak. Lloyd Hubbard and Don Farrand give them plenty of height while Bud Hibbard and Kenny Hills add to their floor play. The possible addition of Jay Dean from the Trojan squad would just about cinch it for them.

Two rough and ready boys, Doug Alexander and Tiny Bellamy, along with Loren Sanders and Dave Burkhart, if he can forget his outside troubles, give the ADP's their main boost toward championship contention.

The lost cause, the LSP's, base their winning chances on the shooting eyes of Glen Hopkins and Elmore Vail and the backboard play of rangy Bob Giles. If they can come through with an upset the adage that history never repeats itself will go by the boards for last year the LSP's chances were rated absolutely nil, but went on to win.

While all this flurry about the boys' society ball is going on the girls sports have to go by the board. Latest suggestion to remedy this is to have a girls' tourney similar to the boys, in fact a trophy has already been offered for such an affair. What will happen remains to be seen.
