New Faculty Changes Noted

Proposed additions to the faculty for the 1949-1950 school year were recently announced by Dr. Corlett. Many departments of the college will be affected in this enlarging of the staff of teachers.

In the music department Miss Carrol Allen will teach music theory. Miss Allen was previously on the staff of NNC during the 1947-48 school year. She received her bachelor of music degree in music theory and voice at the college here.

Also in the music department, Constantine Epp, who has served this year as part-time instructor, will enter as a full-time professor. He is now teaching at Boise Junior college.

Other departments that will be benefited by the change are: Language, Miss Eunice McPherson, who will teach French and German; commercial, Mrs. Rose Vogel, who is to teach typing and shorthand and who has a degree from Washington State, a certificate from Nampa Business college, and has had experience teaching in the Nampa public schools; and Carl Hanson, an addition to the Biblical literature and religious education department, who is preparing for his doctor's degree at a seminary in Berkeley, California.

In the College high school James B. Frasier will enter as a new teacher next year. Besides teaching he will also act in the capacity of assistant coach in baseball. J. A. Feltar, father of Ruby Feltar, one of our students, will come to NNA as principal. Mr. Feltar has many years of experience behind him as he comes to us. He has both taught and acted in the capacity of a principal at Yakima, Washington, for the past several years.

The final proposed addition is in the hospital department, where Dr. J. Robert Mangum, known as "Dr. Bob" to all who have come into contact with him, will assist Dr. Henry Wesche, the present school doctor.

Hans Writes . . .

March the fourth.

Dear Friends:

My heartiest thanks for the port-check and the parcel. I have to thank you, also in the name of my grand-parents. To let you know, that everything arrived safely I'll write down the things that were in the parcel so here it goes, "cooking fat, rice, and several pieces of soap."

I am sorry I didn't receive a letter from you. Now it is a bit difficult to write, because there are no questions to answer or things like that. Anyway I'll try to make my letter as interesting as possible for you.

You see, I have put a photo of our royal families in my letter, which photo has been taken the day Juliana became our queen. I told you about it already didn't I. You see the cause I enclosed has been taken of one of the most erowed point in our town. The statute you see on this picture is that of Prince Willem the first.

Investiture Marks 1949 Commencement

Investiture service Monday night started a busy three weeks for the seniors of NNC. From now on it will seem as if every day is a week long, and they will be asking themselves the question, "Isn't commencement night ever going to come?" One of the greatest privileges in the life of an NNC student is when he finally gets to be a senior.

Dr. Culver announced Monday that Ruth Angel and Fairy Hawthorne, with each one having a grade point average of 2.85, would be co-valedictorians. Glen Dayton, with a 2.68 is salutatorian of the senior class. Following is a list of graduating students and their degree or degrees:

Bachelor of Theology

Margaret Armstrong, B. S. in education; A. Merl Bozarth, A. B.; Jack Hawthorne, Vernon Kutz, A. B., M. A.; Floyd Perkins; Darrell Teare, A. B.; Willis Walker, A. B.; and Miriam York.

Bertha Dooley Award To Be Given Again

Announcement of the Bertha Dooley English award for the best piece of creative work in short stories, essays, poetry or other fields of English, was made by the Scriblerus club today. The prize is $25 in cash.

Any student enrolled in the English department of the college may participate in this contest; it is not restricted to English majors. It is permissible to submit any number of works, but it is necessary that they be creative, and must not have been published before. May 25 has been set as the deadline for the turning in of the work, and it may be handed to any of the English teachers, Miss Bertha Dooley, Miss Marian Washburn, Miss Olive Lawrence, or Mrs. Dorothy House.

Naomi Taylor Chosen AWS Pres.

At the recent election held in the chapel the following officers were chosen: President, Naomi Taylor; vice president, Delores Bloomquist; secretary-treasurer, Mary Alyce Miller; program chairman, Norma Kastella; assistant program chairman, Hisa Horiuchi; personality chairman, Lois Heron; and chaplain, Violet Leighton. They will serve during the 1949-1950 school year.

To complete the year for the Associated Women Students of NNC, their annual spring picnic will be held on May 21, Saturday, 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m., in Boise Julia Davis park. The outgoing president, Joanne Burkhart, says: "Plans are being made to have a wonderful time boating, playing games, zoo gazing, racing and finishing up with lots of eats."

Also presented to the A. W. S. at the last meeting was the year's project, 60 little demi-tasse spoons for use at A. W. S. teas. They will be used for the first time at the senior women's tea to be held on May 31.

All Present Enjoy All-School Picnic

By BILL OSTERHOUT

Those who went to the school picnic at Garden Valley will not soon forget the experience and those who did not go really missed something. Fortunately, the weather was the best possible for a picnic and there was ample transportation for all those wishing to go. Those riding in trucks must have had their fill of riding in an open truck because it was a fairly long trip, yet they had their moments of suspense and excitement when the truck came near the edge of a precipice or squeezed past a logging truck on the dirt road. Comfort was sacrificed for speed on the trip home because everyone was anxious to get the dust and grime washed off.

As usual, not a few people found something to laugh at. Some of those loitering at the river's edge had a good laugh when some of the volley ball players let the ball fall into the river. Luckily, the ball fell in a spot of slow moving water and none of the bystanders thought to do anything but laugh at the frantic efforts toward recovering the ball. Finally one lady, with a contemptuous glance at the boys standing around and without even bothering to take off her shoes and stockings, waded out into the rapidly moving water and waited for the ball to float down to her. This shamed the boys into doing something and the ball was recovered before she could get it.

Most of those at the picnic spent the day playing games and hiking. Mr. Brewer, who was in charge of the meals, did an efficient job of dispensing the food and Prof. Taylor led the group in a song service just before the dismissal prayer.

F.T.A. Banquet Held Last Week

The Future Teachers of America of NNC held their annual spring banquet Thursday evening, May 5, at the Dewey Palace hotel. This year the group chose to have a dessert banquet. Apple and cherry pie a la mode were served.

The theme for the occasion was "Together We Serve." It was carried out in the table decorations which were illustrated mottoes showing whom the teachers serve. They were as follows: "We Serve God," "We Serve Youth," "We Serve Our Nation," "We Serve Our Community." The tables were also decorated with tulips.

Kenneth Potter FTA president, gave the opening greeting for the occasion. This was followed by prayer by Miss Allison, one of the faculty sponsors of the group.

After the dessert had been served, the group enjoyed two numbers by the Christ's Ambassador Quartet.

A closing prayer was offered by Ruth Angel, vice president and program chairman of the FTA. Other officers are: Carol Cooke, recording secretary; Betty Joan Conner, corresponding secretary; Carolyn Rapp, treasurer.

In the recent election Paul Kunkel was elected Oasis editor and Tom Kelly was chosen to head the Crusader. The other officers elected were: Don Farrand, vice president; Eunice Lintz, secretary; Harry Gross, treasurer, and Don Tucker, sergeant-at-arms. These student body officers will take office next year.

The Oasis and Crusader editorships are considered the second and third highest offices of the student body. Paul Kunkel has been on the Oasis staff this year and was assistant editor of a high school annual. Tom Kelly has been on the Crusader staff for two years and served as assistant editor this past semester.

When interviewed Kunkel said: "I am very honored and am looking forward to a lot of work and a lot of cooperation."

Kelly told the reporter, "I am thankful for the confidence of the students and I shall try to serve to the very best of my ability."

Vice President Feels Honored

Don Farrand, vice president-elect said, "I appreciate the honor that has been given me of being elected vice president. I feel it a privilege to work under Fred and intend to give him the heartiest cooperation in the activities of the year to come."

Eunice Lintz, better known as "Belinda," stated, "It came as a real surprise and I really appreciate this honor from the bottom of my heart. I only hope I can do it justice, and if I do, it says in my book that that's a good sign."

The new treasurer, Harry Gross, intends to handle the purse strings well. He said, "It was more or less a surprise. I appreciate the confidence of the students."

Don Tucker expressed his surprise at his election as sergeant-at-arms because he was not on the campus at the time. Don came to NNC from our mission field in British Honduras and in one year he has made his place on the campus. Don said, "I am thankful for the confidence of the students and I shall try to serve to the very best of my ability."

These elections conclude the elections for student body officers. Next year immediately after the opening of school the class representatives of the student council will be selected.

Dr. Matthews Speaks To Beta Chi Alpha

Dr. Conan Matthews, dean of Boise Junior college, was the special speaker at the Beta Chi Alpha regular meeting last night. He will use for his theme of discussion, "The Art Form in Composition." The group met in Chapman recreation hall, with approximately 60 members of the club present.

Art Faculty To Exhibit Masterpieces

Representative works in the fields of pastels, oils, water colors, and crayon work, will be displayed by professors of the art department today, Thursday and Friday in the library.

WHERE ARE YOU GOING,

Hey, Mac, slow down and think a minute. What are you going to do with this education you're rushing off so fast to get? Planning to get a job and spend your life either making a million dollars or scrimping and saving so you can send your kids to college to get the same "advantages" you are having now—and then sit back and hope the kids make more of a "success" in life than their old man did?

Well, if all you do in life is live for and through your children, you won't be the first one. Each generation depends on the next to do the things the generation before depended on it to do, and very few individuals in each generation accept the responsibility as their own instead of shoving it off on the next group.

What's your object in life, anyway. If you can answer that one you can answer what's the purpose of education. Do you believe this world is God's little green apple or Man's? From one viewpoint man's purpose is to make the world more like heaven; from the other view the purpose is to make the world a better place for man to live in. Either way the object seems to be to make this a better world.

In a couple of weeks or years you'll be graduating from this fair college. You'll be inheriting your share of the earth, which up until now has been held in trust for you. What are your plans for using that share? What are YOU going to do about making this a better world?

Okay, Mac. Rush off and get that hunk of education.—The Daily Tar Heel, Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

BALANCE YOUR TIME

The average college student faces a dual danger involving the use of his time. On the one hand, there is the temptation to look upon college life as preparation for the future entirely and to evaluate all one's activities with an emphasis on the tomorrows. There is, on the other hand, a tendency to become shortsighted—to judge everything only as it applies to today. There is merit in both philosophies but a successful college career depends upon the achievement of proper balance between them.

One's life at college is a preparation for tomorrow. Curriculum is not an end in itself nor are grades in the teachers' class books the final aim as far as the individual student's education is concerned. Knowledge, grades, and scholastic efficiency are valuable only as they can be transferred into successful living in the future.

It is equally important that each of us should bear a responsibility to the present hour. We cannot afford to live below par today and seek refuge in the fact that we'll make it up tomorrow. Life just doesn't work that way.—Selected, "Campus Camera," Wollaston, Massachusetts.

HANS WRITES . . .

If you look good at this statute, you will see that the horse is standing on two legs. I am told that it is the onliest statute in Europe which is made like that. All other ones (with horses) are made with horses standing on three legs, this as a particularity. The spire (steeple) you see at the background is called "De Hara-gheche Turen." You can go on it every Wednesday and many a visitor have climbed it. I myself have been on it and it was nice on there you know. You can see the sea of "Scheveningen." When I am walking there (not on the steeple of course) I feel how much I like my town. No wonder I could not get used to the life in a small town and that I got home-sick.

We have had very stormy weather over here. I have been to Scheveningen to see the sea. Oh dear was that beautiful! We could not walk on boulevard you know. The waves come all over the walls. We hardly could stand on our legs we simply had to fight to come forward it was so nice you know. We saw a bird called "sea-mew." I don't know if you know that sort of bird, anyway he was the only one who tried to fly. I said tried because he couldn't. In no time the wind swept him against the waves and then that poor bird was lost. The sea was like a boiling witch's kettle as we used to say, so the mew couldn't fly up again and got drowned. If you see the nature so strong like that one can't understand how people dare to put such a big mouth, just one big blow and off we go into nowhere, isn't that true?

On school I went from the first to the second class, so things are going to be more difficult and I'll become wiser then (that is what I hope anyway.)

Friends I am sorry but this be the end of my letter. Once again it is a pity I didn't receive a letter from you so it was a bit difficult to write this letter. I hope I didn't bore you.

Best wishes from my grandparents and keep my wishes and kind regards until my next letter. God bless all of you.

Yours,

HANS.

P. S. Thanks again for the port-check and parcel!

THE LOWDOWN

From THE EDITOR

Everyone has their eyes turned to the future looking forward to the close of this school year. Seniors look forward to it with anticipation and yet with a feeling of insecurity. For them, a new way of life must be begun. College days are over and the time has come to take their places in life. Some will go on to graduate work, some will take churches as pastors, etc., some will be teaching in our public schools but all will be serving the Lord and humanity wherever they go. It seems as though the time has suddenly come that will mean the embarking to other fields of labor.

For those who are not graduating, commencement does not mean so much. It is a break from the old grind of college life to recuperate. Most college students need to recuperate financially as well as physically and mentally. They are still looking forward to the end of the year for the relief and opportunities it will bring.

Then there are those who, after this year closes will be looking forward to the time when they can enroll as college students at NNC. To them the summer will be a period of waiting and preparing for a college career.

The professors probably even look forward to the finish. No longer will they have to look into the faces of "eager" students in classes. Some of our professors will be leaving us for other vocations elsewhere. Others are planning to go back to school again. No doubt the profs are anxious for a rest, too.

Whatever your plans are this summer or whatever your future holds for you, the important thing to remember is let the Lord guide you and He will lead you to the place where you can be a success for him.

Loose Ends

My Dear Miss Kastanets:

Since I have always enjoyed a good, frayed yarn I have followed your column titled "Loose Ends" with interest. Realizing that everyone who occupies a high position in life may expect the attention of the yellow press I said nothing when you maligned my mouse-catching ability. At first I was inclined to ask you to match me mouse for mouse but decided against it as I get no pleasure in the humiliation of anyone, be she human or feline.

Now, however, I feel that I must cry out in protest against the fact that your column has carried no announcement of the arrival of my little family of four. Born on St. Patrick's day, three of them have already left home and entered domestic service elsewhere. The fourth, Bonnie Prince Charlie II, named thus at the request of his Anglophile admirers, remains with me at Castle Hadley. He, too, sends greetings as does Yours truly,

SPOOKS.

P. S. I trust that you will not think me rude or bold in writing thusly. I have conversed recently with my cousin, Kilburn, who assures me that freedom of speech is considered a virtue by you humans.

I.R.C. Views Picture Of European War

"The True Glory," an 84-minute movie which won the 1945 academy award for distinctive achievement in documentary production, was shown to the members of I. R. C. last evening. This movie was produced by the governments of Great Britain and the United States. Coming highly recommended, it is the official film document depicting the European phase of World War II.

College Church Moves Forward

By TOM KELLY

"Sunday, May 2, marked a day of victory for the College church building fund with $7,800 coming in on that day, and another $200 coming in Monday, leaving a remainder of $4,000 to make our $50,000 goal," the Rev. Riley announced recently. The church expects to secure this amount as soon as possible.

Construction on the new church building is moving along rapidly with most of the roof on and remainder to be finished soon. Present plans call for finishing the inside in time for dedication this fall. Dr. Vanderpool, newly elected general superintendent, will be the evangelist for this year's fall revival, and will also dedicate the church.

A chance to help on the church building fund was given the public last week when a bond issue of $100,000 was deposited at the Nampa branch of First National bank in Nampa. Two per cent semi-annual interest is paid on these bonds, which run in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000 with maturity dates from three to ten years; $20,000 worth of these bonds have been sold.

We are now in the midst of the district assembly which is being held at North Side Church of the Nazarene with Dr. G. B. Williamson, general superintendent, presiding. Last week the College church held its annual meeting at which reports were given from all departments. It was reported that the church has had a good year in all phases; finances raised exceeded any previous year, with an approximate total of $65,000 raised for all purposes; 125 new members have been received, bringing the membership up to 710; the Sunday school average attendance for the fiscal year was 675.

New officers elected for the 1949-50 fiscal year were: Sunday school superintendent, E. J. Harper; assistant superintendent, James Hilliard; W. F. M. S. president, Mrs. A. T. Jacobsen; senior chairman, Mrs. E. J. Harper; Y. W. chairman, Miss Elnora

Bugle Notes

By RICHARD J. DICKSON

Since the last time this column went to press the veterans have held two services, one at Prineville, Oregon, and the other at Baker, Oregon. The pastor at Prineville is Elmer Curtiss, a former student at NNC, and the pastor at Baker is the Rev. Ray Miller, a former member of the faculty. This is the third year that the Veterans for Christ have gone to Baker, and the second time to Prineville.

All of you veterans that will be around this summer contact Richard J. Dickson, or Frank Divers, if you can preach, sing, play an instrument or have any other talent available for the Lord's use on week-ends. Many churches will be ready for services soon after assembly so get your name on the available list now.

Library Gets 1948 Current Biography

Life stories of 343 persons who figured in the news of 1948 appear in Current Biography 1948, the 763-page volume, just added to the reference collection of the R. T. Williams library, Mrs. Bittleston, librarian, announced today.

Because much of the limelight of 1948 focused on our election, many new United States senators and representatives are included. Political leaders and heads of states abroad, among them Robert Schuman and Chaim Weizmann, and world figures, such as Albert Schweitzer and Ralph J. Bunche, appear in this yearbook. Also featured are other persons important in the fields of science, art, literature, labor and industry, the social sciences, education, and the rest of the 32 classifications by profession.

In some instances those whose life stories were in the 1940 or 1941 yearbooks (now out of print) such as Jawaharlal Nehru, Sir Stafford Cripps, Harold Stassen, and Arthur Vandenberg, whose added prominence warrants new sketches, are presented again, in Current Biography 1948.

Johnson, and N. Y. P. S. president, Dave Alexander.

Thus as the church goes forward, the college goes forward with it. It isn't only the Church of the Nazarene, it's the College Church of the Nazarene, and we have a big part in it.

Trojan Parade

Leading the parade this week are the mighty seniors who have ceased burning the midnight oil now that their long-toiled-over senior research themes are in the hands of Miss Wilson.

"Do you know where I can find any bricks to turn over?" quoth Dorothy Oyer as she paused briefly on a bug-hunting excursion last week. While the seniors have been collecting NOTES the biology students have been gathering GNATS (and other insects) for their science projects.

Mrs. Farmer's juniors have been gathering data for essays on the subject, "My Life's Work." Outside reading and personal interviews are requirements. Hardest pressed were those students who yearn for careers as journalists. They discovered that it is hard to obtain interviews with reporters on the down-town paper due to the fact that they work such long hours.

Junior-Senior Banquet Held Thursday, May 5

"Gold for the '49ers" was the theme of the junior-senior banquet which was held at the Nampa Brethren church on Thursday, May 5. Some seventy guests enjoyed the affair which is held annually to honor the seniors.

Curtis Beukelman, toastmaster, presided over the speakers' table with enviable finesse and introduced a program which ranged from an "o-ration" by Senior Class President Gene Thompson, to the main address of the evening, which was delivered by W. W. Swan.

A delicious ham dinner prepared by the ladies of the church vied with an outstanding program to claim top honors for the evening. Decorations centered around prairie scenes added much to the color of the occasion.

Music was contributed by Carol Sharp, who sang a solo, and Lyndol Pullen, who supplied the dinner music.

Much credit is due Don Thompson, junior class president; June Knapp, program chairman, and Professor Guy Sharp, class sponsor, for the success of this year's banquet.

"Robinson Crusoe" have been studying radio speaking, wire recording, etc. They report an interesting time with no casualties suffered by either speaker or audience!

Gasps of awe and amazement issue from the door of room 7 whenever someone who is not in the crafts class strays past its portals. Under the direction of Professor Laughlin the students in crafts are making plaques, lamps, vases and other useful and decorative objects. Professor Laughlin has promised an exhibit of all class work at the close of the year.

Dramatics Class Prepares For Play Production

Robinson Crusoe . . . Friday . . . the desert island . . . all these and other characters from the well-known story will parade on the chapel stage, Tuesday night, May 31, when Professor Hilliard's dramatics class presents the three-act comedy, "Robinson Crusoe."

Competition for parts in the play was keen with Bob Hamlin, talented junior from Seattle, finally emerging with the coveted title role of Crusoe. Bina Miller, another Washingtonian, plays the part of Mrs. Crusoe while Glenn Knapp of Nampa is featured as Friday. Other class members who won scripts in the play are Eunice Johnson, Jean Cook, Betty Weatherby, Naomi Smith, Gene Thompson, June Knapp and Flora Little.

The hour at which the play will be presented will be announced later.

Visiting Dramatists Present Cuttings

Monday afternoon in the chapel of NNC was favored with two cuttings of religious plays by R. D. Mahaffey and associates from Linfield college, McMinnville, Oregon.

"Release," the story of Barabas, and "A Centurion's Servant," were presented to approximately 150 students who gathered for religious entertainment and were not disappointed. With the simplest of props Mr. Mahaffey and his staff kept the group spellbound with their superb acting.

The Vestper Players, as they are called, present this performance every Sunday night during most of the school year in churches in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. They have been putting on these plays for the past 18 years and their purpose, as stated by Mr. Mahaffey, is "To bring the Christian message through religious drama."

Students of religious education will be interested to know that these programs can be put on in any church service and are of an educational type of teaching. Sunday school classes have used this form of teaching to great advantage.

During the intermission James Erickson rendered two numbers on the flute, being accompanied by Miss Barbara Berger. The members of the Vesper Players are Donald Rea, James Erickson, Geraldine Coleman, Nancy Watson, Barbara Berger and R. D. Mahaffey, leader.

Second Semester Society Plays Presented; Winner Not Revealed

By DAPHNE WELLS

A play well calculated to keep you in stitches, was the LSP-Oly play, "Anne of Green Gables." The story of the play adhered quite closely to the original story, although there were a few lapses in which the incidents probably could not have been produced to good effect on a stage.

Fairy Hawthorne was as perfect as Anne as could be found anywhere and her "scope for imagination" was so "conductive." Betty Griffith and Al Fisher made quite a team as the crochety old maid and her timid bachelor brother. Mrs. Lynde, played by Eunice Lintz, forever popping in and out of the Cuthbert home to find out just what was going on, reminded us of many people we know.

The minor parts were very well done. Laura Soltz as Mrs. Spencer, and Jim Carkhuff as Mooney, provided many laughs. But we'd like to congratulate all the members of the cast, the directors, Eunice Lintz and Jack Hawthorne, and the committees on a fine job well done. And we predict that this will be remembered as one of the best society plays of the season.

"A Stranger Passes," the ADPSLA play, was presented to a packed house which was filled an hour before curtain time. The audience was rewarded with a more serious type of play than is usually produced by the societies.

Bette Harding, who has been recognized as one of NNC's best actresses, brightened the play a good deal with her presentation of Dora Parker, the acid-tongued old maid. The Wilde family was well portrayed with most of the attention on Anne Wilde, who was played by Geneva Schramm. And we must not forget the hollow-eyed stranger who helped bring peace into the Wilde family.

Some promising new talent appeared in the characters of Judy, the Negro maid, who drew many a laugh, and Inspector Dowling who forgot to take off his hat. We'll expect to see Virginia Shoemaker and Doug Alexander in some more prominent parts after this introduction.

Those behind-the-scenes workers—the directors, Jean Kirkpatrick and Norma Kastella, and their committees deserve a good hand for the time and hard work which they put into this play. The only thing this writer has to suggest is that the society plays be presented two nights in order that more people could see them without getting mobbed in the process.

Will have a new Crown Graphic camera to take your June wedding with. Joe Harper.

Crusaders Stun NICE 10 to 7

Six unearned runs and a friendly glance from the goddess of luck combined to provide one of the decade's biggest shocks last Wednesday as NNC whipped Northern Idaho 10-7 to register their first baseball victory of the season.

The Loggers, the one team on the schedule that the Crusaders weren't supposed to have a chance in the world of beating, just didn't have it on that red-letter afternoon.

Behind 7-2 going into the last of the fourth, NNC took advantage of Fike's wildness to score two runs and have the bases loaded when Whitey Johnson drilled a long fly to Ulrich in center.

But Mr. Ulrich, who may have been an angel in disguise, was never destined to catch the ball. Some say he lost it in the sun, others contend that the wind caught it but maybe it was just fate making up for bad breaks of the past, anyhow the ball bounced off his glove and down the slope for a four-base error, and that was the game.

Woody Beukelman iced it away with a fifth inning homer and Carlyle Dean insured the triumph by setting down the last 16 men in succession.

NICE took the second tilt of the doubleheader, 9-4, with the help of six errors and Pitcher Chase's two-run homer. But the loss failed to dim any of the lustre of that initial victory of the year.

Prior to that big win the Crusaders had come as close to victory as possible in games with BJC and Eastern Oregon. BJC took two triumphs by score of 6-4 and 4-1 with Bill Mays pitching them to victory in each contest. Dean lost the first game despite six-hit pitching and Tiny Bellamy yielded only four hits in sustaining the second loss.

Eastern Oregon edged past the local lads 6-5 in the first game when their pitcher, Hungerford, socked out a homer after the bases had been walked full in the eighth inning.

Millard Reynolds twirled neat six-hit ball in the nightcap but an unearned run cost him the game, 3-2. The Crusaders were able to touch the visitors' Mandeville for only three safe blows.

Tomorrow NNC will attempt to maintain its winning ways when they journey to Boise for a tilt with the Boise Junior college Broncos. Friday the two clubs will

SLA Maintain Lead For First Victory

Boys' standings:

SLA	3	1
ADP	3	2
LSP	2	3
Oly	1	3

Despite a 10-8 loss to the ADP's, the SLA boys maintained their grip on the highest rung of the boys' softball ladder as they brushed past their other opposition. The leaders knocked off the LSP's 7-2 and squeezed past their nemesis, the ADP's, in nine innings.

The ADP's stayed in the race by bowling over the LSP's twice, by scores of 5-1. The double loss knocked the LSP's out of the title picture although they hold the key to the throne as far as the ADP's are concerned as an SLA defeat by the LSP's could move meet here in Nampa at Rodeo park. Game time for Friday's struggle is 3:30.

The Crusaders will play their first night game of the season next Tuesday when C. of I. comes to Rodeo park for the last meeting between the two clubs. The Coyotes won the first three struggles and will be favored in the arc-light contest.

Thinclads Take Honors At Olympian Relays; Enter Idaho Invitational

Tub Thumping

By LILBURN WESCHE

Northern Idaho rates, in our opinion as the most accommodating school ever to be founded within the continental United States, especially after their beautiful display of courtesy exhibited last Wednesday.

The fact that they came so far just to lose lends even more to our theory that they are the politest players ever to walk the earth. Which all goes to say that NNC did the impossible the other day and won a baseball game.

However those first two paragraphs may have given out the idea that the game was handed over on a silver platter. It wasn't. Most of the runs were unearned on the score sheet but as far as determination and courage goes every score was earned and earned the hard way.

To Carlyle Dean go the accolades for his brilliant pitching which was largely responsible for the victory. It looked for a while as if it would be the same old story, as the visitors took a 7-2 lead, but when the Crusaders went ahead Carlyle displayed the type of pitching which he has been dishing out to no avail all season and turned back the batters as fast as they came up.

If the fielding support had been as tight all year as it was in that one game our won-lost record would have been considerably better than it is now.

In fact we contend that all these baseball losses are as much a result of a mental attitude as from any other cause. At times this season the letdown in the team whenever the opposition has gotten the winning run on base has been obvious.

And while on the subject of that big win it was interesting to note that the happiest guy around after the game and the one doing the most congratulating and backslapping was Bob Keil, the base umpire.

the ADP's into the number one spot.

The Olys were buried deep in the cellar with little chance of getting out. They provided the LSP's with their only wins when they lost to the third placers 7-2 and 8-5.

NNC's highly rated track squad continued their brilliant cinder-burning during the past two weeks as they came in second to the powerful Montana State outfit at Caldwell and placed sixth in the famed St. Martin's relays at Olympia, Washington.

The Crusaders battled the coast powerhouse, Montana State, right down to the wire, losing by about 20 points in the final windup.

Against the 12-team field in the relays the orange and black distinguished themselves as they garnered 15½ points for sixth spot, only 2½ points behind the fourth place University of British Columbia. Central Washington rolled up 44 points to take top honors.

Jack Jamison took the only first for NNC by winning the mile in 4:43. Tiny Bellamy took second in the 880, running it in 2:04, only three seconds off the previous track record.

Lloyd Hubbard captured fourth in the 440 and Paul Sutherland placed fourth in the two-mile running it in 10:37, which was five seconds off the previous record and 22 seconds behind first place.

Looking Around

By ROMA MITCHELL

All of a sudden I am realizing that school is almost over and that term papers are due, but then I mustn't let my studies interfere with my education.

We've still got to finish our softball tournament and from the looks of things the spunky LSP girls are going to be on top. I can't understand how they got five runs on the last out of the game.

And we've still got tennis, shuffleboard and finally the track meet. I'll enter most anything for participation points.

I wonder just how good these seniors will be getting around those long black robes they will be wearing. Do you suppose we'll ever attain that high position? But it may be kinda low down if any of the seniors trip. Life's little temptations!

Here's to your happiness, students! This is my last column for the year. No more wearisome, boring anecdotes, that aren't funny! So, see you next year!

Others placing included Don Farrand with a third in the pole vault and Doug Powers who captured fourth in the 220 low hurdles.
